M'GRANERY TO PROBE PAROLES OF CAPONE GANG

Attorney General Asks FBI To Check Into Bribe Charges

WASHINGTON, Nov. 29 (AP) — Atty. Gen. McGranery ordered the FBI today to find out once and for all whether bribes influenced the granting of paroles to three members of the old Capone gang.

McGranery said that for five years the release from prison of Paul (The Waiter) Ricca, Louis (Little New York) Campagna and Charles (Cherry Nose) Gioe has "been a matter of various charges, including rumors of bribery."

Announcing in a formal statement his orders to FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover to launch a new and big scale inquiry, McGranery added:

"This attorney general believes the whole matter should be fully investigated ... even at this late date." McGranery will leave his post when the Republican administration takes office Jan. 20.

The three gangsters, serving 10-year sentences on charges of extorting more than a million dollars from the motion picture industry, were released by the U. S. Parole Board in 1947, about a month after they became eligible for paroles.

Philip Louis D'Andrea, convicted with them, was paroled at the same time. He now is dead.

The Justice Department dismissed a still-pending mail fraud indictment against the four shortly before the paroles, on grounds that it duplicated the indictment on which they had been convicted.

The whole case, including dismissal of the mail fraud charge, came under scrutiny in 1948 of a House expenditures subcommittee which demanded that the mobsters be put back behind bars. The subcommittee said it found no evidence of bribery, but that "big money"—from a source unknown—had been spent to win the quartet's release.

The government failed in a long series of moves to send the men back to prison as the subcommittee had directed.

One high government official, declining to be named, told a reporter that one result of the inquiry might be a fresh order revoking the gangsters' paroles, in an effort to provide a new basis for a court fight to imprison them.

The names of two lawyers for the gangsters figured in the House inquiry. The subcommittee termed the lawyers—Paul Dillon of St. Louis and Maury Hughes of Dallas—"personal" friends of President Truman and Supreme Court Justice Tom C. Clark, then attorney general, adding that the lawyers were "in a position to exert influence with those in authority."

2 MARINES DIE IN COLLISION OF JET PLANES

Air Crash To Be Probed By Marine Board Of Inquiry

DAYTON, O., Nov. 29 (AP) —Two Marine pilots were killed today when their jet fighters crashed after colliding in the air.

The victims were identifed as: Capt. Douglas F. Hollingsworth 30, of Ellisvile, Miss. He is survived by his widow at Cherry Point, N. C.

Lt. Harold G. Brown, 24, of Moline, Ill. He is survived by his widow, Mary Ann, at Havelock, N. C.

The Second Marine Air Wing at Cherry Point set up a board of inquiry to investigate the crash of the planes, part of a formation of four en route from Cherry Point Marine Air Station to Glenview Naval Air Station near Chicago.

A public information officer at Wright - Patterson Air Force Base said the four planes originally were not scheduled to land at Dayton, but they ran short of fuel.

A witness said the planes were circling into the landing pattern in tight formation when Hollingsworth and Brown brushed wingtips. Both crashed within a few hundred feet. Both planes were Panther F9F fighters. Both burned.

Evening News-Star, by Mail, outside Trade Area (6 days a week) Daily and Sunday	$1.40 a month
Combination, by Mail, outside Trade Area (both papers) Daily and Sunday	$2.25 a month
Combination, by Mail (both papers) Northeast Louisiana, Daily and Sunday	$1.85 a month

★ ★ ★

We regret that these changes are necessary, but the now sky-high cost of newsprint, along with other high costs involved in bringing you a good newspaper leaves us with no choice.

This is the first time we have increased our rates since January 1st, 1947. At that time, newsprint cost $84.00 a ton. Since that time there have been seven price changes making the cost today $130.00 a ton, or 55 per cent increase not to mention labor, transportation, all materials that are used in publishing a newspaper.

As you will note, the small increase in rates will nowhere absorb our increase in cost. Also, we would like to mention that effective December 1st, the Monroe Morning World will publish each Monday morning. We are sure this will be good news for our readers.

The hundreds of boys and men who will deliver or collect for the newspaper will share in the increase.

SLEET THREAT REPORTED HERE

Twin City Residents Apparently In For First Bad Weather

Slow drizzling rain last night threatened to turn to sleet as north Louisiana and Monroe burrowed in to greet the first "really rough" weather of the season.

A low of 28-32 was expected to hit Monroe after sleet and snow wafted eastward. Texarkana reported snow and Shreveport identified sleet during afternoon hours. A light sprinkle of sleet also was reported in Monroe and West Monroe.

Local service stations reported a run on anti - freeze as motorists recognized the advent of winter. Many reported car owners queueing up, but no shortage was reported so far.

The weather forecast as reported by the CAA at Selman Field was for rain and sleet — no snow— at 10 p. m. However, a slow rain commenced about 6 p. m., threatening to resolve into sleet with any drop in mercury readings. And the CAA was prepared with that information, also, noting a forecast of from 28 to 32 degrees for this area. Today's weather was unreported at press time, but apparently hinged on the outcome of the sleet prediction.

CHAVEZ RULED WINNER OVER HURLEY IN N. M.

Republican Refuses To End Fight To Get Congressional Seat

SANTA FE, N. M., Nov. 29 (AP)— U. S. Sen. Dennis Chavez (D-NM) was declared winner today of the Nov 4 election by a 5,071 - vote margin over Republican Patrick J. Hurley.

The official state canvass was 122,521 against 117,450 votes.

Hurley's attorneys immediately charged the State Canvassing Board with "total failure to canvass returns, if there are any returns, for the office of United States senator."

Attorney Carl Gilbert, representing Hurley, said "The fight won't stop here." He declined to state, however, what course Hurley will follow.

Hurley has challenged the outcome of the Nov. 4 voting on grounds there were violations of the state election code and irregularities in many returns.

Gov. Edwin L. Mechem, Republican chairman of the three-member canvassing board, announced that a certificate of election for Chavez was issued in a sudden action late today.

The board, he said, had determined that if all votes for Chavez in precincts which may possibly be recounted the outcome would not be changed.

Mechem said the total votes for Chavez in those nine precincts amounted to 3,016.

LA. LEGION GETS SECOND IN U. S.

State Ranks Next To Top In Outcome Of Membership Drive

At the next regular meeting, Monday night, of L. B. Faulk Post No. 13 American Legion, it is planned to have a grand initiation ceremony for the more than 80 new members that joined the post during the recent membership drive. At this ceremony, the new members will receive their certificate of initiation as well as their Legion button. All members who have not been initiated, are requested to attend this meeting.

Americanism Chairman William Rothermel, will have as the guest of the post, M. F. Rice, Monroe chairman of the Crusade for Freedom, who will explain to the post the meaning of this program as well as asking the co-operation of the Legion. This program has been officially endorsed by, and a resolution was passed by the Legion at the national convention in New York, obligating the Legion to assist in every way possible in the complete success of the Crusade for Freedom aims and purposes.

Commander Orchard has just received word from the Louisiana state department of the Legion, advising that in the recent membership drive, Louisiana was placed second in the nation in percentage of membership accounted for by midnight November 11, with a total of 37,839 members. This now puts Louisiana for the first time in the history of the department, within striking distance of its goal of 50,053 members by March 15, 1953, which is the birthday of the Legion. The local post through Commander Orchard has pledged a total of 1053 members towards this goal.

All members are urged to attend this meeting Monday night, as plans will also be made for a joint meeting of the auxiliary of the Legion with the Legion post, in the form of a Christmas party on December 15.

'1,500 Communists Teach In Schools'

WASHINGTON, Nov. 29 (AP) — Sen. McCarran (D-Nev) said tonight hearings of the Senate internal security subcommittee have made it obvious that "nests of Communists exist not only in the secondary schools but in many colleges."

He referred to public hearings the subcommittee held in New York City earlier this fall in launching a search for any subversive influences in the nation's schools and colleges.

McCarran, who heads the subcommittee, said it received testimony that there have been as many as 1,500 Communists teaching in schools and colleges, both public and private.

"Though this number may not seem large in comparison with the million teachers employed in the schools," McCarran said, "the nature of Communist party operations makes them as dangerous as a lighted match in a powder magazine."

McCarran referred in his statement to testimony of Dr. Bella V. Dodd of New York City, a former Communist leader who was, for several years, the legislative representative of the Teachers Union.

She testified:

"I think, at the peak, on a nation-wide basis, you never had, more than, let's say, 1,500 teachers in the Communist movement."

She said her testimony on this point related to years prior to 1944 because at that time she became a higher functionary of the Communist party and ceased to have detailed knowledge of the school situation. From 1944 to 1948, she said, she was a member of the National Committee of the Communist party.

Although she said the peak number of Communist teachers was only 1,500, she said such teachers "were strategically disposed."

She also testified that Communist party units operated on the campuses of the following colleges: Columbia University, Long Island University, New York University, Vassar College, Smith College, Wellesley College, Harvard University, M. I. T., University of Michigan, Chicago University, Northwestern University, University of California, University of Minnesota, Howard University.

"If you have a Communist on a campus," she said, "or one Communist in an organization, that person is dedicated to building a unit and a unit consists of a minimum of three people."

REV. WAYNE W. GRAY

COVENANT GETS ABLE MINISTER

Rev. Wayne Gray Of Memphis, Tenn., To Take Up Duties

Rev. Wayne W. Gray, widely known assistant pastor of Evergreen Presbyterian Church in Memphis, Tenn., has accepted the post of minister at Covenant Presbyterian Church, Monroe, and is to begin his duties here January 1, 1953.

Reverend Gray was member of the Southwestern's first graduating class in Memphis, and also founder of the Sigma Nu chapter there. He received his education after graduating from Southwestern at Princeton Theological Seminary.

He has held pastorates at Clarendon, Ark.; Caruthersville, Mo., served as chaplain in the war for five years and his present charge is that of assistant at Evergreen Church in Memphis, as stated.

He is active in Rotary and has been honored by being elected district governor for the eastern half of Missouri for the year 1939-40. He is prominent in civic circles and has been regarded as one of the most active and influential pastors in Memphis. The congregation here is quite pleased to be able to obtain a minister who seems to be so talented and consecrated.

KENNETH DIXON BACKS AIR BASE

Says It Can Be Classed One Of Town's Biggest Assets

Strong support for reactivation of the air force base at Selman field is given by Kenneth Dixon, managing editor of the Lake Charles American Press and former war correspondent for the Associated Press and International News Service. Dixon's statement follows:

"In my opinion, the reactivation of the Lake Charles air force base has been an excellent thing for our city, our parish and the entire southwest Louisiana area, both economically and in the sense of contribution to an improved community life.

"Quite apart from its military pay roll, necessary construction work involved in reactivation, as well as the number of civilian employees required at the base, has

CENTRAL BANK BREAKS RECORD

Mails Out Biggest Sum Yet In Christmas Savings Checks

The Central Savings Bank and Trust Co., on Saturday placed in the mails its Christmas Savings Checks which bear date of December 1, 1952. They are in the amount of $164,000 which sets a top record, as no year before has such a large sum been mailed out and it represents considerable saving on the part of many people in the city and parish.

J. S. Washburn, vice-president and trust officer of this bank, states that the sum this year is nearly $25,000 more than the figures a year ago at this time.

He expresses the wish that all will have a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year.

The new club is forming tomorrow and will be operated tomorrow and will be operated from December 1, 1952 to December 1, 1953.

Fire Sirens To Signal Lights-On Push Tonight

Blowing of fire sirens over the city at 9 p.m. tonight will be the signal for the beginning of the lights-on campaign of the current cancer crusade, it was announced by Jack Howard and Irving Liebowitz, co-chairmen of the Crusade here.

Fire Chief H. L. Hales assured the two leaders of the cooperation of the fire department in signaling the kick-off of the event.

Howard and Liebowitz issued their last appeal for the support of the American Cancer Society's program today and urged all citizens to participate by turning on their porch lights at 9 o'clock.

"Our workers," Howard said, "will visit every home, white and colored, in the Twin Cities where a porch light is burning. We have enough workers to wind up the campaign in an hour."

Howard and Liebowitz praised the work of the Pilot Club and Mrs. Ellen Thompson in organizing for the event, and were equally appreciative of the enthusiasm of the colored division.

"The Cancer Crusade still has a long way to go to make its quota," Howard said, "and we are banking heavily on the Lights-On event to bring us over the top."

He pointed out that the American Cancer Society's program of education and research is calculated to conquer cancer, America's second leading cause of death from disease. Many advances have already been made, he said, but much remains to be done.

"To train more doctors and scientists, to learn more about the causes of cancer and to constantly improve methods of treatment. . . these are worthy goals," Howard said. "We urge all citizens of the Twin Cities to support them by turning on their porch lights tonight and make a contribution to the American Cancer Society."

LIGHTNING, FIRE WIPE OUT HOME

Family Loses Everything; Now Forced To Ask Good Fellows Aid

Previously acknowledged ..$247.00

In memory of Stephen M. Glazer 5.00

Total $282.00

Her house and all its belongings wiped out by fire after it had been struck by lightening last June, was the experience of a mother of three children, the oldest a boy 17; a girl, 14, and the youngest boy six years old. All they saved from the wreckage were the clothes they were wearing. There was no insurance and since that fatal June day the mother and her children have gotten along by the hardest.

The mother has steadfastly seen to it that the children all attended school and at this time she is employed at small salary for a breadwinner of a family in a tourist court in West Monroe.

This mother now sees little in sight for her little brood for Christmas, she is willing to suffer hardship for herself but when her children are involved she feels that it is too much to ask them to be deprived of essentials of life.

What she desires is to see that the children have clothes sufficient to keep out the biting cold of winter days as they go to and from

In this time when there is more money circulating than ever before churches have fared better than in their past history. Here is a bright and shinning example. Way out of town on highway 80 at Claiborne, everyone was amazed a short time ago when the Methodists there erected a $45,000 edifice replacing an old antiquated wooden building that was badly outgrown. This was in 1948. Under the leadership of Pas-

Drunk Drivers Will Face Heavier Fines

City Judge W. M. Harper yesterday issued a stern warning that persons arrested for operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of intoxicating liquors will receive heavier fines in the future. The move will be taken in an effort to stop the many cases being brought into city court.

Fines for the violation "will begin at $300 as a minimum" Judge Harper said. From that minimum the fines will range upwards depending on the seriousness of the accidents or the injuries.

The fine invoked for drunk driving previously has been $200.

Sister Kenny Succumbs Of Cerebral Thrombosis

SYDNEY, Australia, Sunday, Nov. 30 (AP)—Sister Elizabeth Kenny, Australian nurse famed for her methods of polio treatment, died today at her home in Toowoomba, Queensland. She was 66.

The determined woman who devoted a lifetime to teaching ways of meeting the scourge of infantile paralysis was a victim of cerebral thrombosis.

Her end was hastened by pneumonia; the treatment of it weakened her heart.

SHULER'S PLEA GETS BACKING

Statements on the request of Jack Shuler, evangelist, for use of Neville High School auditorium have been submitted by the Monroe Central Trades and Labor Council, by Oscar L. Cloyd, president, and by the Monroe Building and Construction and Trades Council, by J. W. Stephens, president, with the request that these statements be printed.

The statement by the Monroe Central Trades and Labor Council is as follows:

"The following is a telegram released to all school board members and the president of the Monroe City School Board at Monroe, Louisiana, November 26, 1952:

"Action taken today by members of the city school board of Monroe, Louisiana, refusing the Jack Shuler evangelistic team use of Neville High School auditorium for administering the gospel to all people, is highly disapproved. The executive board of the Monroe Central Trades and Labor Council, representing approximately six thousand God fearing members, urges the board to reconsider this vital issue, allowing the people to hear the word of God and not be turned away due to the present inadequate building. We feel the people in this vicinity should have the right to hear the preaching of God's word."

Enemies Can Be Friends

It has now been nearly eight years since peace between the Western Allies and the Soviet Union came about with Germany and with the Japanese Empire.

At that time, everyone in the world was tired of war. The losers were probably more tired than anybody. The Japanese and Germans were looked upon with scorn by all free nations. The Italians had almost ceased being considered.

In any case, this nation had what it thought to be firm allies in China and the Soviet Union. What terrible woes have befallen the symbol of peace, since that joyous time in 1945 when the Japanese Empire lay prostrate at the feet of a victorious Anglo - American armada, the likes of which had never been seen on this earth.

Even at that moment, events which had taken place at points such as Potsdam in Germany, and Yalta in the Crimea, would shove the war, so bitterly fought and won with such valor by all concerned, into the background and in its place, insert a cold war of terrible dimensions.

Those Soldiers, Sailors and Marines of all the victorious nations it is said may have fought that war in vain. For today, short years after, what is the situation? Soviet Russia is engaged in a life and death struggle with the Western world for complete domination of this unhappy planet, and the Western Nations find themselves allied with the very same nations which that alliance destroyed in 1945.

Not only are the free peoples allied with these former enemies, those enemies are now asked to rearm and help protect the very same nations which destroyed them in the first place. The Free nations find themselves in a war of attrition with the Chinese, for years friends of the Westerners, and in a cold war of increasing heat with their wartime ally, Soviet Russia.

Is it possible that history can produce a better paradox? Do the pages of time record enemies becoming friends and friends becoming enemies?

Those pages never cease to divulge this frantic information. Allies are good to some nations only as long as they are beneficial.

The history of man has constantly recorded that events, governments, and economics cause the development of allies, not friendship alone. Is there any reason to doubt that should a war with the Soviet Union be fought, and perhaps won, although that is purely supposition, the American people would not remain antagonistic to the Russian people?

Enemies seldom remain enemies for long periods of time.

This is supposed to be a modern civilized world. Is it perhaps more civilized today than it was at the close of the thirty years war and the subsequent Treaty of Westphalia which is regarded by some as laying the foundations of modern international society? Has the idea of friendship among the peoples of the world progressed beyond the supposition that a nation is safe only when it can control the balance of power? It is believed not.

Have the ideas of so many people, well meaning people in many cases, that the only salvation is through a centralized world government, changed through the years? The history of the world recalls many efforts at peace through a federalized system of nations. None of them have succeeded. In each case, the member states have been seen to take sides, to form balances of power.

As the times changed and progress in machinery advanced, the reasons for the balance also changed. It has been repeatedly said that the first world war was fought over oil. It can easily be said that the Germans under Hitler were fighting for Lebensraum, or "more living space".

Is it then necessary to evaluate the suffering, the pain and torture of the last war as having been fought in vain? It is certainly not. As long as there has been a United States, there has been a nation which championed the rights of humans over tyrants the world over. It has fought for this idea ever since winning freedom from King George.

No matter what friends it is necessary to accept, if those friends are ready to engage the cause of human rights over tyranny, the United States has been ready to help them.

This is due to the fact that this nation accepts the populations of nations as friends, or potential friends, even when those populations are whipped to a fanatical frenzy against this nation by leaders who have their own interests at heart. After nearly eight years of peace, if that is what it might erroneously be considered, Americans see themselves faced with another conflict. Should this c o n f l i c t occur, it is well to remember that Americans will fight the leaders of that enemy more than the peoples. As long as Americans are Americans, the fight for human rights, for human decency over tyrants, will continue. Leaders can be allies — only populations can be friends.

Grass Roots Opinion

Neligh, Neb., Leader: "Great Britain is a modern example of the fallacy of establishing the 'Welfare State.' A once - proud, self - reliant nation already has . . . a greatly reduced standard of living for its people. Regarding this the London (England) Economist has this to say: 'In the long run nobody owes the British people a living and the point must come when they enjoy only that standard of living for which they are prepared to work.' "

Atlanta, Ga., North Side News: "A married couple with two children needs an income of $4,189 today to live as well as they did on $2,000 in 1939. This is the harvest of the prolonged spending spree, borrowing and taxation of the Federal government, and of such fallacious reasoning as 'The National Debt doesn't matter — we just owe it to ourselves,' and 'you can raise wages without raising prices.' "

Sprague, Wash., Advocate: "In Ephrata the Ground Observer Corps has disbanded from lack of interest and physical support. These people who depend entirely on the output of the Grand Coulee Dam, both in electricity and in water to make their land holdings profitable, are the first to throw down the barriers to an invading enemy. The money invested in the Grand Coulee area, is money from every taxpayer's pocket in the nation, and as such, taxpayers at least expect the people in that area to do their part in furnishing insurance on the project, and what better insurance could be obtained than the operation of 'Skywatch' during our present static conditions?"

WASHINGTON — NEA — The recent series of C-119 "Flying Boxcar" crashes climaxes a long series of troubles the Air Force has had with the plane in Korea.

The full story hasn't come out in the U. S. until now, mostly because of security restrictions slapped on the subject in the Far East each time a new episode took place.

Air Force headaches with the C-119 reached a climax in Korea last February when the planes were all grounded following a series of accidents very similar to those which have just taken place. There were several crashes which couldn't be explained. The ones they could explain resulted from propeller trouble.

Heavy security restrictions were immediately placed on the grounding for obvious reasons. Release of the information would notify the enemy that a major section of the UN airborne striking force was immobilized. It would also tell the enemy that the vital cargo flying job to the front-line troops would be seriously slowed.

Even before the official grounding action had been taken, an emergency mass parachute maneuver had to be staged in Japan, using old World War II C-47s to get troops and crews familiar with those planes again in anticipation of what was coming. The exercise was only partially successful.

G.I.'s Refused C-119 Flights

Long before that there was even more than the pressure of technical difficulties with the C-119 building up on the Air Force. The aircraft had gotten such a bad reputation among the G.I.'s that some of them were refusing to fly in it. Much of such an attitude among men is always based in part on unfounded rumor. Nevertheless, the result was getting serious.

On several occasions in Korea last winter this reporter saw the men's fear of flying in the plane expressed. The operations offices of all Korean airfields are jammed where there are many dirty, tired GI's just out of bunkers going home on emergency leave. The rest are just men traveling around on normal business. The procedure is to put your name on the list in the operations shack, with your destination.

When the next plane takes off for that place, as many men as it can carry are put aboard. However, on every occasion when the most of them quickly said that they would wait for the next plane, regardless of the urgency of their mission.

As it is with any new type of plane which begins getting its first heavy operatonal use, the C-119 was found to need many modifications. Most of them were concerned with making sections of the plane stouter, and the work was done in Japan.

Needed Changes Weren't Made

For a time the Air Force thought it had its problems with the plane licked, until the rash of last winter's prop trouble caused the grounding. Even after ordering the planes kept down, the top Air Force officer in charge of their use insisted that it was basically a good airplane, ideally suited to its specialized use.

He insisted that the maker, the Fairchild Aircraft Co., had done a basically good design and engineering job on it. He said that he felt the plane didn't deserve quite the reputation it was earning. Later, when the immediate prop trouble was corrected and the planes flew again, he expressed hope, now dashed, that that was the end of trouble with the aircraft.

What the officer in charge was worried about in connection with the Boxcar was that the changes which his use of the plane had found necessary were not being incorporated into the new planes which were coming off the Fairchild line. He said he felt fairly sure that the changes had not been incorporated into the plans given to the Kaiser-Frazer Company, which was also going to start making C-119s.

The C-119s which recently crashed were Fairchild - made planes. But it isn't said for certain by the Air Force that they had all the modifications which the Air Force had found necessary to make on them in Korea. If this is true the fault and responsibility for the death of the men killed in the recent crashes lies squarely with the red tape in the Pentagon.

There is sure to be some kind of an official investigation of the whole history of the C-119. High Air Force officers in the Pentagon are promising it.

WASHINGTON (NEA)—The offshore procurement phase of America's foreign aid program is now considered the most vulnerable part of the mutual security program, with the incoming Republicans promising drastic budget cuts.

This is unfortunate, too, mutual security officials claim. They point out that the buying of military goods from the European countries offers the GOP the best long-range opportunity for permanent cuts in U. S. aid abroad.

One of the goals of offshore buying is to help European members of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization to become economically independent.

By next June it is estimated that more than $2 billion worth of U. S. orders for military equipment will be placed in Europe. Biggest single item involved is aircraft. There's money already appropriated for these orders. But the placing of new orders could be drastically cut by the new director of mutual security, Harold Stassen, as soon as he takes over in January.

Several factors are cited as making offshore buying particularly susceptible to cutting. First, it would be so painless at home to saw off funds for that purpose. Just about anywhere else Ike tries to slash the budget he will hear loud squawks from somewhere in the U. S.

Second, American businessmen and especially some of the aircraft makers are getting obviously nervous about the program. "We generally agree with the concept of helping to build up production capacity in the European countries, but don't forget that we are also building up future competition," says one. And you hear that statement with increasing frequency.

Even the U. S. labor groups have a motive for opposing offshore purchasing. One of the selling points on the program has been the claim that labor costs in Europe are about a third what they are in the U. S. With labor costs the biggest chunk of production costs, it makes the end product considerably cheaper if purchased in Europe, the argument goes.

U. S. labor leaders don't like to see that comparison. They should be against any exploitation of labor and, practically, they can see the whole thing as just fewer jobs and less total wages for their own members.

One thing is sure, according to mutual security officials. If there is any business recession at all any time soon, offshore purchasing will come under instant attack from all quarters. That would have happened regardless of who won the election, they admit.

Officially the aircraft industry, through its trade association, has approved the idea of offshore buying, or at least its goals. Privately you can hear plenty of beefing about it from individual manufacturers, in spite of the fact that they all have huge backlogs of orders.

European orders for aircraft have been given to France, Italy Holland, Belgium and England. They are for jet fighters which are relatively easier to make than the huge bombers or cargo planes.

In addiiton to the future competition from foreign plane makers, the U. S. firms are worried about the protection of their patent rights under the program. Such rights include more than patents on devices or designs. More important are the patents on methods and production principles, which, the U. S. experts feel, make the aviation industry of the U. S. so great.

If there should be any dramatic lessening of world tension in the next few years, the U. S. aircraft industry might feel some sudden effects from offshore buying. The big market for planes would suddenly be limited to commercial types. In this competition the European manufacturers, fully indoctrinated with U. S. know-how, plus their very low labor costs, could price American firms right out of that market.

World Pulverizer Bomb

Lights Over Broadway

By Walter Winchell

Man Playing the Typewriter

The letter in the next paragraph appeared on the editorial page of The N. Y. Post. . . . It was signatured: "Mrs. Esther Mack," which might not be another alias of James Wechsler, the former official of The Young Communist League, who was known as Arthur Lawson to those party members several of whom are in Federal prisons (or on the lam) for plotting to overthrow the U. S. Gov't. . . The editor headed Mrs. Mack's letter: "Start it 'Dear Virginia,' Walter."

"My daughter (the letter begins) won't take off her Stevenson button. I've tried to reason with her but I couldn't get anywhere. Yesterday she came home from school all upset because someone called her a pink. Then I got upset because she asked me what a 'pink' was and I couldn't tell her. I wish Fulton Lewis or Walter Winchell or somebody would give us a definition so I could tell Virginia."

Dear Va: For want of an explanation, the addressees of your mother's letter have dishonestly referred it to me for an answer as to what is a Pink? . . . They could have answered mother by sending their own photos. Instead, they have asked me to reply with words.

It is silly and cruel of anyone to call you a Pink because you wear a Stevenson button. Gov. Stevenson is a very fine American. He was just as much embarrassed by the support of the Pinks of the Left as Gen. Eisenhower was by the Punks of the Right. . . . Of course, Virginia, they couldn't tell you what a Pink is. Under the laws of our great country — even they are protected from testifying against themselves.

But in greater laws (even older than ours) a Pink is an Ingrate, who is in rebellion against everything from the parents who bore him — to the country which nurtured him. . . . In terms of our proverbs, you have heard of the dog that bites the hand which feeds it. . . . In human terms, a Pinko (somewhat lower) is a bitch which bites as it feeds. . . . But you do not have to know what a Pinko does to be a good American — any more than you have to know what a criminal does to be a good citizen. . . . The bigots who called you a Pink (because you wear a Stevenson button) are really helping the Pinkos because there is nothing they want more than to be classified with the 27 million Americans who voted for the Gov. of Illinois.

Virginia, dear, a Pink is a "former Communist" editor, who is too cowardly to admit it. . . . He prefers telling Time's press editor—that when he was younger—he was a college radical. . . . He tells people that his Young Communist League connection was "no secret" when he means that it was — until he learned that Walter Winchell was going to give it circulation and Make It Public. As a result, New Yorkers (and others) made his advertising dept. very sick. Because many people who purchase the N. Y. Journal - American (and other papers) heckle purchasers of his paper with: "The Moscow Express Leaves in Ten Minutes!"

A Pink is a person whose logic is based on hypocrisy and his opinions motivated by deceit. . . . A Pink "assails" Russia (for circulation and adv. reasons) while opposing defense measures against Communism. He accuses J. Edgar Hoover, the G-Man, of violating civil rights and defends pro-Communist Paul Robeson in the name of free speech. . . . He vilifies militant anti - Reds while deploring Congressional investigations of Reds. . . . He describes himself as an anti-Commy and refuses to join the Gov't's war against subversives.

Variety currently reveals that her attacks on our country (in Buenos Airs) have not helped her at the Argentina box offices. Meaning that Miss Baker (who gave up her American citizenship to become a French citizen 27 years ago) is flopping there, without Walter's plugs. . .They got her U. S. salary raised (with one sugary writeup) from $7,000 per week in Miami to $26,000 (with percentage) at the Roxy Theater here. . . Then she staged that "show" at the Stork Club — when she knew (and was once quoted as saying): "Mr. Winchell did not witness or know about my embarrassment". . .A biased reporter (on the above - named newspaper) concocted the rest. . .But that's another column, Virginia.

A Pink acclaims Secy of State Acheson's defense of Alger Hiss and denounces those who collected the evidence which convicted him . . .A Pink distorts the truth, slants the news and serves as a mouth-piece for liars. . .He would rather measure his patriotism by his self - esteem than his own notorious Red - front and Yellow-back record. . .A Pink expresses allegiance to Freedom for Communists and disparages anti-Reds and Americans who fight them. Or fight back. . .The clearest definition of a Pink, Virginia, is represented by the N. Y. Post's editorial policy from 1948 to 1952.

In conclusion, a Pink is a fraud, a fool, a liar and a louse. . .He can be more dangerous than a Red — since he often deludes those who are ignorant, color - blind — or lack a sense of smell. . .Virginia darling, I am an American like you. If you want proof, the Russian newspaper Izvestia just took a pot - shot at me (as the paper Mother wrote to often does) for my warning the other day about Christmas tree ornaments (which are made in Ivan Curtain nations) being sold here. The profits of which, honey, will help shoot and kill American Soldiers, Sailors, and Marines. . .Izvestia seriously says Walter is anti-Santa Claus! It isn't true, Viginia, honest! Cross my heart!

Memos for a Short Col'm: Authors Vincent Sheean and Ray Brock almost came to blows during a political tiff at Glennon's 3rd Ave. saloon. . .The Dewey's guest at the Chambord was Oveta Culp Hobby, Ikes' new FSAce. . .Gabe Heatter's nevview, Merrill (he can write!) weds Julie Bean, the TVenus, Sunday. Merrill is story editor of CBS-TV's "Everywhere I Go". . .What do the transatlan-talks between Oleg Cassini and his divorced wife, Gene Tierney, mean?. . .On Monday at the Senate Security Committee hearings (at the U. S. Courthouse) a top exec of the Int'l Monetary Fund (involving 8 Billion Dollars) will refuse to say if he is engaged in espionage. . .The Pulse Report on New York's Sunday Night listening (not TV): (1) Lux Radio Theatre; (2) J. Our Children

By Angelo Patri

Here is a good rule for all who have to do with children of any age: Start nothing you do not see your way clear to finish. It is not wise to create issues where children and adults are concerned because it is not always possible to solve them. Hence the rule.

Now and again we hear of teachers or parents who believe themselves possessed of such authority that they give a child an ultimatum. "You do as I told you or you stay right here until you do."—"You tell the lady you are sorry or I'll make you." That just won't do.

It is possible to drive a child beyond himself, that is beyond reason of feeling and that is as close to a crime as one can get without committing it.

Suppose a child refuses to do what he is asked to do, what he should do perhaps without being asked. Suppose he is ill-tempered, insulting and obstinate? Don't make a contest of the matter. Say, "Very well. I leave it to your good sense. You know what you should do." Then leave him to occupy yourself with something, which the child thinks absorbs your interest. Ignored for a time, with others going about their business as usual, such a child will come around, perhaps not directly, but in such a way as to indicate he feels differently. Accept that and start over again.

When a very small child balks, the best thing to do is to let alone for a while. But, if what he refuses to do is something that must be done, then one should go ahead and do it as far as possible, while the child is present. If he needs a bath and refuses it, he should get it. If he needs medicine under the doctor's order, he gets it. If he needs to be dressed, he is dressed. All as calmly as circumstances permit, lest any show of excitement make a bad matter worse.

But, when dealing with older children who have reached the stage of reflective thought, a calm, "I leave it to you," is always best. Make no threats either by word or attitude. Withdraw and keep mentally pulling the child the right way. Don't keep eyes on him, don't show anger or distress and never, never, cry. And be careful never to make a threat you cannot carry out. Without the child's cooperation, teachers and parents do not get very far.

Every parent will profit by Dr. Patri's wisdom given in leaflet P-18, "Some Guiding Principles in Child Training." To obtain a copy, send 10 cents in coin to him, care of this paper, P. O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y.

Timmons In Washington

By Bascom N. Timmons And His Washington Staff

The new toast of the nation's capital seem to be Mamie Dowd Eisenhower, the new administration's glamor girl, who came up the hard way.

She took the rigors of back platform campaigning, which wore strong men down, as if she really enjoyed them, though it has been generally understood that her health is not too good. And though some of her husband's detractors had hinted darkly that she might not be much help to him, there could be no doubt at the driving finish that the crowds felt she was fighting the battle with him, something she had never been able to do before.

When the campaign began, Democrats were apprehensive that Governor Stevenson's status as a divorced man might hurt him, and undoubtedly it did lose him some votes, but nobody foresaw that by the time the race turned into the home stretch, his Republican opponent's wife would be an asset which could not but point up the contrast between the marital condition of the two men.

Merriman Smith White House correspondent, in writing of his experience there, has said that "a president is many men" but it would seem to follow, on the basis of history, that the first lady of the White House is only one woman. Unless she attempts a separate career, as did Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, she is the president's hostess, and in that capacity can't play a retiring role.

The country has the highest regard for Mrs. Truman, who brought a dignity to the executive mansion which at times stood out in sharp contrast to her husband's tendency for horseplay, but she has not enjoyed her position. On her comparatively few public appearances, she has always impressed those who saw her and she has never failed to do her part in aiding charitable and civic activities in washington, as she did in her home town of Independence, Mo. The capital city has chuckled heartily over grapevine stories of the upbraidings she has given the nation's chief executive over some of his performances, and this year she declined to make the campaign "whistle stop" tours with her vociferous husband

The word for Mrs. Eisenhower is "natural," those who have been with her agree. They say that she has always been her natural self, and that the White House will not change her. By the time the campaign traveling was over, there were welcoming signs for "Mamie" as well as "Ike" in the crowds which met them. She had become a personage in her own right, and in the best American tradition

However, the American people must not expect her to keep up the campaign pace. While she undoubtedly loved the campaign excitement, the duties of first lady are just as unexciting. They center around a list of official receptions which, after a while, can become boring in the extreme for the White House hostess, though Washington visitors literally beg their senators and representatives for invitations.

By tradition, the president's wife remains completely aloof from politics, treats the wives of all government officials with equal consideration, whether their husbands be Republican or Democrat, and does her best to keep the big mansion at 1600 Pennsylvania avenue running on schedule, with the aid of a large staff. She makes her own decisions as to the invitations she shall accept.

During World War II, Mrs. Eisenhower lived at a hotel here and tried to stay out of the limelight, which naturally focussed on her. But in the face of barrages of invitations, telephone calls and even personal visits from people whom she had never met, or knew only slightly, she finally went to San Antonio, Tex. to stay with friends, returning to Washington only occasionally.

Now she will be protected against annoyance by her secretaries, the secret service and the generally close guard around the White House. If she wants to go shopping, she will be attended as unobtrusively as possible by a small secret service detail, and given special attention in stores.

The fact that her sister and brother in law, Lieut, Col. George Gordon Moore and their family live here, and that her daughter-in-law, Mrs. John Sheldon Dowd Eisenhower, whose husband is a regular army officer in Korea, and her three grandchildren will be with her most of the time, in addition to her mother, Mrs. John Sheldon Dowd, of Denver, points to a pleasant family life in the White House.

Pope Pius XII Chooses 24 New Cardinals

VATICAN CITY, Nov. 29 (AP)—Pope Pius XII today named 24 new cardinals, the princes of the Roman Catholic church, including Archbishop James Francis McIntyre of Los Angeles. This restores the Sacred College of Cardinals to its full strength of 70.

Two archbishops in Communist nations were made cardinals in the long awaited action. These were Archbishop Alojzije Stepinac of Zagreb, freed from a Yugoslav prison last December but still restricted to his native village of Krasic, and Archbishop Stefan Wyszynski of Warsaw, primate of predominately Catholic Poland.

The group will receive symbolic red hats at a consistory here Jan. 12, the second since World War II. Thirty-two prelates entered the College of Cardinals in a great consistory Feb. 18, 1946.

The new appointments fill ranks depleted by deaths. John Joseph Cardinal Glennon of St. Louis died in Ireland while returning home from the 1946 consistory. Another American, Dennis Cardinal Dougherty of Philadelphia, died last year.

The Pope, 76, picked the cardinals from 12 nations.

In what was described by some Vatican sources as a partial return to tradition, he gave Italians the lion's share, 17 appointments. The Italians got only four in 1946.

The makeup of the full college by nations now will be Italy 27; France six; United States four; Spain four; Portugal three; Brazil three, Argentina, Canada and Germany two each; America, Austria, Australia, Belgium, Britain, Chile, China, Colombia, Cuba, Ecuador, Holland, Hungary, Ireland, Peru, Poland, Syria and Yugoslavia one each.

In the U. S. group, Archbishop McIntyre joins Edward Cardinal Mooney of Detroit, Francis Cardinal Spellman of New York and Samuel Cardinal Stritch of Chicago.

In all, the Western Hemisphere gets five new cardinals.

Archbishops Paul-Emile Leger of Montreal, August Alvaro da Silva of Bahia, Brazil; Carlo Maria de la Torre of Quito, Ecuador; and Crisanto Luque of Bogota, Colombia, were named. For Ecuador and Colombia it is the first time in history that they have had a cardinal.

The Pope followed tradition in naming four apostolic nuncios to the college.

Several of the new cardinals are as old or older than the 71-year average of the present 46 members of the college.

But the Pope's new nominations are notable in that they include six comparatively young men. The youngest is 46-year-old Italian Archbishop Giuseppe Siri of Genoa. The other five are all non-Italians, including Archbishop Leger, 48.

The Vatican also announced today the Pope had named Msgr. Domencio Tardini as pro-secretary of state for extraordinary affairs, and Msgr. Giovanni Battista Montini as pro-secretary of state for ordinary affairs.

Both are Italian prelates who had been prominently mentioned as possible candidates for red hats.

FIELD OFFICER OF WSCS GUEST

Miss Lydia Gerhart Will Address Group Here On December 8

The Monroe District W.S.C.S. membership is anticipating with interest the approaching visit of Miss Lydia Gerhart, who will address the group at a meeting to be held Dec. 8, at the First Methodist Church in West Monroe. Registration will begin at 9:00 a.m.

Miss Gerhart is serving the woman's division of Christian service as field service secretary, since 1947. She was born in Buck's County, Pennsylvania, and received her education in that state. She entered missionary service through the avenue of secretarial work, first at the Deaconess Home and Settlement House, Philadelphia Penn., and later at the West Side Community House, Cleveland Ohio. In September 1940 she became superintendent of the Methodist Deaconess Home and Settlement House. She has taught as an accredited teacher in leadership training schools, and summer schools of missions, and is thoroughly familiar with all phases of W.S.C.S. work. She is in demand as a speaker at local, district, state and jurisdiction levels. Excellent reports have been received of her work according to Mrs. M. L. DeFreese, district secretary of promotion. Miss Gerhart's itinerary in Louisiana was planned at a recent meeting of the Conference Executive Committee, by Mrs. Lee Tidwell, conference secretary of promotion, and the seven district secretaries of promotion.

The Monroe district W.S.C.S is composed of 53 societies divided into six zones, representing a membership of 2,333 including the 13 Wesleyan Service Guilds. Mrs. Hurvie Moak is president of W.S.C.S. and Mrs. Minza Rabun is district secretary of the Guild.

Date Set For Phone Change At Ferriday

FERRIDAY, Nov. 29. (Special)—Ferriday's new dial telephone system will go in operation at 10 p. m., Dec. 10, according to an announcement by F. E. Franovich, manager of the telephone company here.

The dial switchover will commence with a large improvement and expansion program, including the construction of a new brick veneer building here and the installation of a large quantity of equipment.

The entire project, including the building, central office equipment and outside plant facilities, was completed at a cost of $180,000.

COMMITTEES ON SCOUTING NAMED

Six Groups Will Work With District Officers On Activities

Frank Voelker, Jr., chairman of the Eastern District of the Ouachita Valley Council, Boy Scouts of America, recently announced the various committees for the coming year. The six committees will work with district officers in developing the activites of the scout work in that area.

The committees named were leadership training, advancement, health and safety camping and activities, organization and extension and finance.

J. J. Cuthbert, Delhi, will head the leadership training group, with the following members, Ray Radford, Tallulah; Rev Goodwin, Goodwill; James S. Green, Lake Providence; and Wayne L. Farris.

Other committees named were:

Advancement, A. H. Willett, chairman, Tallulah; P. B. Mangham, Delhi; George Rundell, Oak Grove; and L. C. White, Talulah.

Health and Safety, Dr. T. G. Biggs, chairman, Oak Grove; Dr. Morris, Tallaluh; Dr. Carl A. Kelly, Lake Providence; and M. M. Crothers, Tallulah.

Camping and activities, H. T. McIntyre, chairman, Goodwill; Howard E. Joyce, Tallulah; Jack Folk, Tallaluh; A. C. Smith, Epps; and Morris Coleman, Monticello, La.

Organization and extension, Dr. Don F. Davis, chairman, Lake Providence; J. B. O'Shea, Tallulah; Ralph Waites, Delhi; L. J. Cook Pioneer; W. E. Morris, Epps; and L. H. Willis, Oak Grove.

Finance, F. M. Terral, chairman, Lake Providence; J. E. Young, Tallulah; George Sumlin, Delhi; M. H. King, Monticello, La.; and W. O. Jones, Oak Grove.

TAX RETURNS RISE

WASHINGTON — Between 1946 and 1952 there was a rise of 25 per cent in thenumber of federal income tax returns filed each year and an expansion of 47 per cent in the number of corporate tax returns the Internal Revenue Bureau has had to handle. The total number of employees has risen only 2½ per cent since 1946.

REDS FORMALLY REJECT INDIA'S TRUCE PROPOSAL

Red China Officially Backs Russian Plan For Ending War

By FRANCIS W. CARPENTER

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. Nov. 29 (AP) — Red China officially notified the U. N. today it stands firmly with a Soviet Union plan for ending the Korean conflict. It rejected once more the principle of non-forcible repatriation, which forms a keystone in a Korean plan proposed by India's V. K. Krishna Menon.

A long cable from Peiping to the U. N. merely confirmed an announcement of the Peiping radio yesterday, but it was important because it put before the weary 60-nation Political Committee the first statement during this session from Red Chinese Foreign Minister Chou En-lai. It did not mention the Menon plan by name, but there was no mistake about Peiping's stand.

Menon himself was presumed to be studying his own resolution to see if it could be made palatable to the Communist Chinese. At the same time, Menon's government in New Delhi was reported making another attempt to persuade Chou to change his mind and go along with the Indian compromise.

Western delegates, meanwhile, showed plainly they were irked by the deep mystery surrounding Menon's moves and were puzzled over what some of them called Menon's delaying tactics. They wanted to vote yesterday and pass the Menon resolution, although it has been foredoomed to eventual failure by bitter blast from Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Y. Vishinsky and from the Chinese Reds themselves.

Menon told the committee he wanted to speak Monday and the committee voted to give him the courtesy of a delay. It is not certain that a final vote will come Monday, for Vishinsky has said he may want to reply to Menon and others may ask to be heard. There also is a prospect of a long wrangle over Vishinsky's move to amend Menon's plan by inserting the Moscow plan as amendments. The West called this an "unworthy trick," but Vishinsky contended it was perfectly permissible under the rules.

The feeling of the West was that Menon wanted something direct to the Indians from Peiping before giving up, if Peiping persisted in its refusal.

The Red Chinese message was sent by the Peiping Foreign Office to Lester B. Pearson, Canadian foreign secretary and president of the U. N. Assembly. It recounted the Communist stand on repatriation of prisoners and charged that a settlement has not been made because the United States side "has taken a criminal stand of deliberately insisting upon the retention of large numbers of Korean and Chinese war prisoners."

It said the principle of " 'repatriation not effected by force' " recently proposed in the Assembly was the same in basic content with the principles of " 'voluntary repatriation' " put up by the United States at Panmunjom and rejected by the Reds.

Reports have appeared that Menon would incorporate some of the proposals of Vishinsky in an effort to win Russian support for his battered resolution. There also were reports that he would withdraw his own resolution.

But Western sources said today they had heard of no plan by Menon to incorporate any Russian ideas. They have been in close touch with him on changes already made in the resolution and they said they did not expect him to add a Soviet flavor.

How To Grow More Rice Is Problem Facing UN

ROME, Nov. 29 (AP)—How to grow enough rice for a billion hungry mouths is the number one food problem next year for the United Nations.

Rice is the chief food of half the world's people. Its supply has been about constant since 1934 — 150 million tons annually.

But since 1937 the teeming populations of the major rice growing and consuming countries of the world have increased by 120 million hungry mouths.

World rice acreage has increased gradually and in 1951-52 reached a record 208 million acres. But production did not expand. This was due to a continued fall in per acre yield of important growing areas — especially Japan, and including most of Asia.

The Communist rise to power in China, world's biggest rice producer, and the war in Korea have complicated things by making world rice statistics less reliable.

The problem indeed, is so urgent that the Food and Agricuture Organization (FAO) of the United Nations has called a conference at Bangkok, Thailand, beginning on January 5, to consider it.

A. H. Boerma, director of FAO's economic division, said that an additional 1,300,000 tons of rice are now needed annually for the increased population in rice eating countries.

All FAO members in the Far East are expected to send delegates to the Bangkok meeting. Delegates will also attend from most of FAO's 66 member nations.

The rice problem and the economic problems of rice growing countries will be major FAO considerations in 1953, said Boerma.

In Asia, only Burma and Indo-China reported any improvement this year in the rice crop. The severest production drop occurred in Egypt, where the crop was halved by failure of the Nile floods. In Brazil rice acreage was cut and put to cotton.

FAO reported that agricultural production in general during 1951-52 increased by about 2 per cent. However the food portion of this increase was only about 1 per cent and, therefore, only kept pace with the worlds 1 per cent rise in population during this period.

FAO estimates there may be some increase in food production in 1952-53, compared with the period now ending.

Biggest expansion is taking place in wheat, nearly all major producing areas — especially North America — reporting improvement in crops or prospects.

A moderate decline is likely in world production of oils and fats. Sugar production in 1952 was 5 per cent higher than last year, a record level due mainly to big Cuban crops.

THURO, Canada (AP) — They call Syd Parker a master clipper and with good reasons. Parker makes scrapbooks his hobby and most of his spare time is spent collecting and pasting in the clips.

At the moment he has 47 books—some of them tip the scales at 35 pounds—and five more are in preparation. He has specia ibooks on World War 11, the Canadian visit of the Queen and newspaper cartoons. Parker is an author and poet.

DEDICATION CEREMONIES PLANNED — Dedication ceremonies are scheduled Sunday for the St. Mary's Catholic church in Winnsboro. The church, which replaces the building destroyed by fire in October of 1949, is made of pink brick and has been widely publicized for its design and artistic features. Plans for the building were drawn up by the Architectural School and the School of Art of the Catholic University in Washington, D. C.

Seventh Crash In Three Weeks Kills 36 Persons

TACOMA, Wash., Nov. 29 (AP)—The seventh big military plane to chash in the Pacific Northwest and Alaska in a disastrous three weeks killed 36 here early today, including four married couples and their eight children.

Only three survived the four-engined transport's explosive crash and flames after it clipped tree tops in heavy fog near McChord Air Force Base.

Little Joseph Iacovitte, 8, survived His father and mother, Lt. and Mrs. Anthony R. Iacovitti, their other two sons and a daughter perished. Their destination was unknown, but their next of kin were listed in Bridgeport, Pa.

The lieutenant was a fighter pilot in Alaska.

Two other couples died with two children each. Another couple perished with one child.

The other family groups were Master Sgt. and Mrs. George E. Morris and two children, en route to a late Thanksgiving reunion with Mrs. Morris' parents at the McChord Field and a trip to Yakima, Wash.; Sgt. and Mrs. Benny L. Hockenberry and two daughters, whose next of kin address was Sunbury, Pa.; M-Sgt. and Mrs. Samuel R Wells and a son, whose kin's address was Pittsburgh, Pa.

The crash was the seventh by a large military plane in three weeks in Washington, Alaska, Montana and British Columbia. There also were two in the Korean area in the same three weeks, making a total of nine crashes and 209 lives lost around the Pacific rim. Most of them have been transport planes.

In today's crash, seven of the victims were women. Five were wives of service men and two were women of the Air Force.

Colonel Turner said "everything was normal" on the C54's final circle for a ground - controlled approach landing. There was no hint of trouble, despite the fog. The colonel said there still was no indication of trouble when the pilot notified the base he was going to cut his landing attempt and go to Great Falls instead. Visibility was down to a little over 100 yards.

At least three witnesses said they saw the big plane afire as it flew low over them. Air Force officers declined to speculate, however, on whether the plane might have caught fire after clipping the trees about a mile from the safety of McChord, or whether the pilot's "gunning" of the plane to regain altitude might have caused excessive backfire.

Turner said only a complete investigation would explain the tragedy.

One witness, Art Getchman, 18, said the plane seemed to "whoosh" over his car and "I thought it was a meteor."

Two airmen aboard survived. One was a crew member, Airman 3C Bobbie R. Wilson of the Great Falls base. He had multiple skull fractures.

The other was an Air Force passenger. He was Airman 2C Curtiss Redd of Fairfax, S. C., who had critical burns.

COAST GUARD TESTS SLATED

Those Passing Examination Will Be Admitted To Academy

U. S. Coast Guard Cadet Procurement Officer, Ensign R. T. Platt, USCG, will be in Monroe Monday visiting high schools and speaking to senior boys interested in completely in the coming nationwide examinations for appointment to the Coast Guard Academy. He is presently on a tour of cities in the Eighth Coast Guard district.

The Coast Guard selects its cadets on a basis of competitive examinations held in principal cities throughout the country. The next examinations will be held February 24 and 25.

No congressional appointments are required for admission to the Coast Guard Academy. The ensign has indicated that an individual's physical, mental and moral qualifications remain the only factors considered in the selection of cadets. No waivers are granted for admission to the academy.

The Coast Guard Academy prepares young men for careers as officers in the Coast Guard. Upon completion of the four-year engineering course, a cadet is eligible for a commission as Ensign in the Coast Guard and a Bachelor of Science Degree.

The competitive examination is open to qualified young men, military or civilian, between the ages of 17 and 22, who are high school graduates or seniors who will graduate by June 30 of next year. An applicant's high school course must have comprised a minimum of 15 credits, including three units of English, two units of Algebra, and one unit each of plane geometry and physics.

Candidates must be unmarried, in perfect health, between 66 and 76 inches in height, with weight in proportion, must have perfect vision uncorrected in each eye and a minimum of 20 serviceable teeth.

Applications should be submitmitted to the Commandant (PTP), U. S. Coast Guard, Washington, 25, D. C. not later than January 1.

Negro Is Injured In Automobile Accident

Arthur Curry, Jr., was in the Monroe Charity Hospital last night after suffering injuries in an automobile collision Friday night. Hospital authorities reported that he received a compound fracture of the arm above the elbow and lacerations about the head. Benny McLemore, 3012 Owl Street, escaped injury.

Curry was reported traveling west on DeSiard Street when he struck the left rear of the automobile driven by McLemore. Curry's car glanced off the other vehicle into a concrete barricade and over into a drainage ditch. Curry was pinned in the cab of his vehicle when officers arrived on the scene located in the 2300 block of DeSiard.

No arrests were made pending further investigation of the accident.

MARRIAGE LICENSE

Joe E. McKinney, 21, Hubbard, Texas, and Dixie Lee Liles, 18, Topeka, Kansas.

Jack Benton McCormick, 18, Calhoun, and Ola Mae Townsend, 18, West Monroe.

Robert Dye, 21, and Mary Carl Underwood, 22, both of Mangham.

Negro Is Arrested For Drunk Driving

Lee Woodrow Taylor, Negro, 23, Marion, was arrested for operating a motor vehicle in a criminally negligent manner and for damaging property.

Taylor was arrested by officers Otwell and Lockett of the Monroe police force early Saturday afternoon in the 1200 block of DeSiard.

Taylor is under a city and state bond of $300.

French, German Rivalry Spured By Saar Election

SAARBRUECKEN, The Saar, Nov. 29 (AP)—The Saar votes tomorrow in an election which has become another battle in the old and dangerous rivalry between France and Germany.

Technically, this smoky little industrial area along the French-German border will only be electing a new Parliament of 50 members to govern its 950,000 inhabitants.

But the real issue is:

Should The Saar's rich coal and steel resources be returned to Germany or should France continue the economic control it has maintained over The Saar ever since World War II?

This dispute is threatening to block European unity and to bar West German troops from the European army.

It may be hard, however, to tell who wins this confusing election—the French or the Germans, with whom the Saarlanders have strong language and cultural links.

The Saarlander cannot vote for the Germans even if he wants to, because all major parties advocating return of The Saar to Germany have been barred from the ballot. against the French-backed Saar

Enraged by this ruling, the West German government has condemned the election as illegal. It called on all Saarlanders to show their loyalty to the German fatherland and register their protest government by boycotting the election.

"Stay at home or cast blank ballots," the Germans urged.

So, for most of the world, the number of non-voters and blank ballots will be more significant than the actual party votes. These protests will show how strong is the pro-German sentiment and indicate whether it may lead to another international crisis over The Saar.

Despite the fury of the dispute, the Saarlanders themselves wound up their campaign tonight with a calmness which surprised the 100 foreign news correspondents here to report the election.

There has been no violence and only small attendance at campaign rallies.

The Saarlanders seemed to realize that their votes tomorrow will not settle the ancient dispute over The Saar.

Germany lost The Saar to France in World War I and won it back by a League of Nations plebiscite in 1935. When Germany surrendered in 1945, The Saar was made temporarily independent of both countries politically. But France was given economic priority over the coal mines and steel plants which crowd its 900 square miles of territory.

Final determination of The Saar's status was to be made when the Allies and Germany sign a peace treaty. Now, the Germans charge that France is trying to determine this issue beforehand by freezing a pro-French Saar government into office.

Special Venire Called In Murder Trial

COLUMBIA, Miss., Nov. 29 (AP)—A special venire of 100 men has been called for the selection of a jury Monday to try Luther Turnage, 42, charged with murder in connection with the fatal beating of Virgil Price, 63, fishing camp operator, on Aug. 13, 1950.

Turnage is to be tried before Circuit Judge Sebe Dale here in connection with the same case in which Luther Musselwhite, 33, was convicted and given the death penalty. Later, the state Supreme Court found Musselwhite insane and ordered him confined tn the state hospital at Whitfield.

Turnage has never been tried, having been granted several postponements.

At the time of the slaying, investigating officers said that Turnage held a pistol on bystanders to prevent them from interfering while Musselwhite beat Price with his fist, then revived him with cold water, then beat him again.

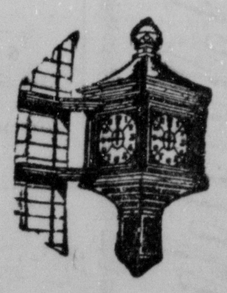

The slaying occurred at Price's fishing camp.

Although it was long believed that dinosaurs became extinct because the world suddenly got cooler, some scientists now believe these creatures were accustomed to cold weather and disappeared when the world warmed up.

THIS ENLARGED wooden reproduction of the bent of Tau Beta Pi, national scholastic society for engineers, was made as a pledge project by two Louisiana Tech students. They are Pat Baker (left) of Crowville, junior in mechanical engineering, and J. B. Smoak (right) of Jefferson, Tex., senior in civil engineering. The big emblem will be used in initiation ceremonies at Tech.

Peron Busiest Man In Argentine Capital

BUENOS AIRES, Dec. 6 (AP)—President Juan Peron has taken over the jobs in Argentine affairs formerly done by his wife, Eva. With his duties as president, that makes him easily the busiest man in town.

Since his wife's death last July 26, Peron has become president of the women's Peronista party and of the rich Eva Peron Foundation, and he gives hours every week to her old job of conferring with labor leaders and generally keeping an eye on the Ministry of Labor.

To keep up, Peron rises long before dawn at the presidential mansion in suburban Palermo and reads Argentina's leading newspapers thoroughly before breakfast. He reaches his office in the midtown government building the Casa Rosada or Pink House, about 6:25 a.m., and his day goes like this:

From 6:30 to 8 a.m. he signs decrees, laws and correspondence from the previous day and confers with his secretaries. This schedule is rigidly observed five mornings a week.

From 8 to 10 a.m. he confers with official advisers: on Mondays with ministers having to do with economics; on Tuesday with political ministers; on Wednesdays with the full Cabinet; on Thursdays with ministers of national defense, and on Fridays with technical ministers who deal with the provinces, statistics and public works.

From 10 to lunchtime around 1, he receives diplomats and distinguished visitors. The first Monday in each month, he receives the governors of the 16 provinces.

Three afternoons a week he is available to visitors—labor leaders, poor people and old folks.

On Saturdays, he is available to dedicate public works or attend public meetings. As part of this schedule, he may make as many as four or five major speeches during the week.

For Peron, the discharge of multiple duties is nothing new. When the Army overthrew the Argentine civilian government in June, 1943, he became secretary-general in the Army Ministry and was the key man in a widespread reorganization of the armed forces.

Before long, he was serving as vice president, minister of war and secretary of labor. In the Labor Department he built his political power by personally attending the wants of the workers, pushing through higher salaries, lower working hours and other benefits.

Peron's work in the Labor Department asured his an election machine that swept him into the presidency at the polls in February, 1946.

Once in, many of the chores of dealing with masses were delegated to his wife, Eva, then only 27.

Eva Peron paid almost no attention to the social life usually associated with the nation's first lady. The Perons rarely entertained formally. Any luncheons or dinners they gave were purely political, usually stag affairs for labor leaders, politicians, students or others of the Peronista organization.

The President's wife held sway over the labor organizations Peron had built. She called herself a bridge between Peron and the people and worked at it long hours, often far into the night.

Peron has made it clear that he never could attend personally all the vast political problems handled by his wife. It may take some time to delegate much of his authority to subordinates because Eva Peron was one of the few ever trusted with great power in what more than ever is becoming a one-man government.

Janitor Claims Doctors Amputated Wrong Limb

CHICAGO, Nov. 29 (AP) — A 65-year-old janitor charged today that, when he went to a hospital to have a gangrenous leg amputated, doctors cut off the wrong leg.

The janitor is Gust Tews of Chicago who filed suit for $500,000 damages in Circuit Court, charging the Evangelical Hospital Association and 67 of its officials and employes with malpractice. Tews' wife, Olga, 58, asked $150,000 damages in a separate suit.

Tews' complaint stated that his left foot was crushed by a furnace grate Dec. 23, 1951. On June 19, his left great toe was amputated. The infection in his left leg spread, however, and he returned to the Evangelical Hospital where, he alleged, his good right leg was amputated at mid-thigh July 15.

Later, Tews' left leg was amputated at Mt. Sinai Hospital.

IKE PICKS LODGE FOR TOP UN POST

Ex - Mass. Senator Will Succeed Austin As Head Of US Mission

NEW YORK, Nov. 29 (AP)—President-elect Dwight D. Eisenhower filled another top post today in the international policy sphere of his forthcoming administration.

He designated Sen. Henry Cabot Lodge to head the U. S. mission to the United Nations. Lodge, 50, will succeed Ambassador Warren R. Austin, who is 75 and has said he wishes to retire.

John Foster Dulles, the designated secretary of state, said in announcing the appointment for Eisenhower that Lodge would be "one of the administration's principal advisers and representatives in the formulation and conduct of foreign policy."

Lodge, one of the original backers of Eisenhower for the Republican presidential nomination, must be confirmed by the Senate before he takes the $25,000-a-year post. He would be the permanent U. S. representative to the U. N. and this country's representative in the Security Council.

By one of history's ironies, Lodge is the grandson of the Sen. Henry Cabot Lodge whom exponents of the League of Nations in 1919 held most responsible for this country's failure to join the League. The grandfather bitterly opposed that venture in international co-operation. The grandson is known as a strong internationalist.

A former newspaperman, Lodge was first elected to the Senate from Massachusetts in 1936. He resigned from the Senate to serve in the Army druing World War II in Africa and Europe. He left the service a lieutenant colonel and was re-elected to the Senate in 1946.

This year, however, he lost the senatorial race to Democratic Rep. John Kennedy in a hotly contested fight.

In a statement from his home in Beverly, Mass., Lodge said he was "glad of this opportunity to serve my country" in the U. N., adding:

"It is a great chance to build a world in which our young men will no longer need to go off to combat."

Dulles, who made his announcement at Eisenhower's Commodore Hotel headquarters after a visit to the general's residence, paid high tribute to Austin.

"He has done a magnificent job there as our representative," Dulles said. "He has caught the atmosphere of the United Nations. . . a town meeting of the world . . . and built up the spiritual quality of the United Nations which is its greatest power, in my opinion."

Dulles said that Eisenhower, in selecting Lodge, chose "one whom he considers to have outstanding qualifications in the realm of international problems and foreign relations."

Lodge will be the third man to hold the U. N. post. The late Secretary of State Edward Stettinius served for a short time after the U. N. was formed and Austin was appointed Jan. 13, 1947.

Eisenhower also today named Emmet J. Hughes, a Life magazine editor, as his administrative assistant after he takes office Jan. 20.

In setting a work schedule for today and tomorrow Eisenhower broke a rule he has made to try to keep his week ends free of appointments and conferences.

He has scheduled a conference tomorrow with five men. They are his brother, Milton, president of Pennsylvania State College; Arthur Vandenberg Jr., his designated White House secretary; former Assistant Secretary of State Nelson Rockefeller; Dr. Robert Johnson, president of Temple University; and Dr. Artn.

school. Also of course, food is desired but she is able to make out some way if the family can only be comfortably clothed.

A mother writes:

"Dear Good Fellows: I am pleading to you for help. Please help my children and husband have a nice Xmas. My husband is blind. He is 26 and has been blind five months. We will appreciate anything you can do for him and the children, they are two boys seven and eight years and a seven months baby girl. My husband is not only blind but has sugar diabetes and is sick all the time, so I can't leave home to work. You can check on our condition and will find that we are just as I have said and Christmas will be dreary if we have no aid from outside."

"Good Fellows, Dear Friends: I am looking with hopes that you will send me a Christmas box as my husband is sick and has been for over a year and unable to work. He has a bad case of heart disease. I have a little grandson, nine years old, who will appreciate anything you may be able to give him. I would appreciate two outing gowns and my husband needs underwear. So thanks to you all."

"Dear Good Fellows: Please help me again this year, you have been so kind to do so before. I hate to ask again for help for my two kids, a boy 11, and a girl, eight. Anything will be deeply appreciated."

This one conveys a plaintive wail:

"Dear Good Fellows: We are two poor little children, my sister is 8 and I am 12 and if you would do anything to make us happy on Christmas, we will so much appreciate it."

We would give you many more letters to read but we will spare you the ordeal for ordeal it would prove to know that in this land of plenty there is so much distress.

Can we not have your check? It will warm your heart and even more warm the hearts of those who receive the gift.

tor F. L. Hearne, everything has prospered with this church and now only $2,000 of indebtedness remains and is is said that at the morning service today, there is every assurance that this will be liquidated.

Pretty good record for a little suburban church to make in the short space of three years.

Mrs. LeRoy Anspach, the former Eloise Temple, will be guest soloist at the 10:50 a.m. service at the First Methodist Church Sunday, and her many friends in Monroe will have the opportunity of hearing her. Mrs. Anspach is well-known locally as a concert soprano.

Christmas music, hymns and carols will feature all of the services at First Methodist Church for the remainder of 1952, bringing the true Christmas spirit to all who participate.

At the 7:30 p.m. service the Chapel Choir, composed of the youngest singers, will give the special music.

Dr. Johns, the pastor, will speak Sunday morning on the topic "The Victory of God" and at the evening "friendly hour" service on "Experiencing God's Goodness." All are invited.

Checks are in the mail right now from local banks that are paying off their Christmas Savings club accounts, which were opened a year ago on December 1, 1951 and tomorrow, December 1, 1952 there will be opened the new clubs for the coming year.

The Central Savings Bank and Trust Company is mailing out a total of $164,000 this year which is close to $25,000 more than the figures of a year ago and is larger than has been the case on any previous year, states Vice-President J. S. Washburn of this bank.

The Ouachita bank also is mailing out a large sum as it closes the accounts for the year that has just ended and opens new accounts for the coming year.

In an age where there is far less encouragement given to the young to save money in banks, it is a wholesome gesture, these Christmas savings accounts. They should teach the rising generation that it is still good business to save money for a rainy day.

Revivalist Jack Shular is like the "Old Woman Who Lived In a Shoe,"—who had so many children she didn't know what to do. He has outgrown the fair grounds building and wants larger quarters. He has tried to get Neville auditorium but this was impossible. Now he has an idea—the weather man willing—to hold an open air meeting in Brown stadium.

Happy Birthday!

Methodists Will Hold Conference

The Monroe district conference of the Methodist church will meet in annual session at the First Methodist Church here Thursday at 9:30 a.m. Rev. W. H. Giles, superintendent, will preside. Dr. H. L. Johns will be host pastor together with the church staff.

Out of town visitors who will address the one-day session are: Dr. George Ivey, vice-president of Centenary College; Dr. C. B. White, superintendent of the Methodist orphanage; Rev. T. B. Thrower, superintendent of the Methodist Home Hospital, New Orleans, Rev. Mark A. Lower, associate director of the Louisiana Moral and Civic Foundation; Bob Lay, Louisiana conference lay-leader; and Rev. Ewing T. Wayland, Little Rock, Ark., editor of the Louisiana Methodist.

More than 300 delegates and visitors from the 70 Methodist churches in the district will be in attendance.

CIO Leaders Are Resigned To Fight Over New Chief

ATLANTIC CITY, Nov. 29 (AP)—CIO leaders just about gave up hope today of settling their hot fight over selecting a new president before the CIO convention starts here Monday.

The scrap over the CIO's top job may go to the convention floor, for a knock-down battle.

The two major contenders for the CIO presidency—made vacant by the recent death of Philip Murray — are 45-year old Walter Reuther, president of the CIO's million-member auto workers union, and Allan S. Haywood, 64-year old British-born veteran of the labor movement.

An important group of CIO officials were striving to iron out the situation so that a unanimous recommendation of CIO leaders could be made to the 700-odd convention delegates, thereby avoiding a pitched fight that could result in lasting antagonisms.

Jacob S. Potofsky, president of the Amalgamated Clothing Workers Union, and one of those striving for a peaceful solution, was pessimistic of the chances of any early solution.

If the fighting goes before the convention, the matter may be decided on test votes regarding the mechanics of the voting.

The CIO never has had a roll call vote in a convention and the procedure therefore was unchartered territory.

While the late Murray was the CIO's leader, he managed to get all issues settled off the convention floor, so that convention decisions were largely perfunctory.

In the preoccupation over the infighting centering on Murray's successor little attention apparently was being given to the recently renewed invitation from the larger American Federation of Labor for a merger with the CIO.

But it was expected that negotiations along this line would resume in the near future.

SHULER SERMON AT SAME PLACE

Cold Weather Prevents Outdoor Rally At Brown Stadium

It was definitely announced to the audience at the Jack Shuler revival last night that the rally scheduled for this afternoon at 2:30 at Brown Stadium will be held at the fairgrounds auditorium instead. The possibility of cool weather made the change advisable, although it is expected that the crowds attending to hear Shuler's message, "Is Liquor Here to Stay" will tax the facilities. Arrangements are being made for loud-speakers to accommodate those who cannot be seated in the building.

This address has been given by the fiery young evangelist all over the nation, and has met with immediate acclamation as a message the like of which has not been heard for a generation. Shuler will reveal interesting facts and figures about moral conditions in the Twin Cities, especially as they relate to problems caused by alcohol. Shuler promised that he would "climb into the ring with John Barleycorn and have him on the ropes before the afternoon is finished."

For his message last night on "History's Forbidden Love Story" Shuler drew a text from the book of Job: "They that sow iniquity and plow wickedness reap the same." He reviewed this principle in the lives of some famous Old Testament characters, and then faced the tragic history of King David. One by one he introduced the characters of his drama: Uriah, Bathsheba, Joab, Nathan and finally David. "God has fixed His laws so that nobody can get away with sin, not even the King," Shuler commented.

The beginning of David's downfall Shuler points out to be his remaining at home while the rest of the armies were out to battle. Then, dramatically relating the illicit tragedy of David's forbidden love story, Shuler pointed out four sins which David had sown: covetousness, adultery, drunkeness, and murder. "Divine law decreed that what David had sown, that he must reap."

Then the evangelist graphically portrayed the enactment of just these same crimes in the family history of the great king. Time and again Shuler returned to the text, pounded his pulpit, cupped his hand to his mouth and thundered to his crowd, "Don't forget the words of my text, 'reap the same!'

The service this afternoon will be at 2:30 instead of at 3:00 as previously announced, and will be at the Fairgrounds Auditorium. The revival services will continue throughout this next week at 7:30 each night.

poured millions of dollars into the community economy, and that increased circulation of money certainly has been a boon to Calcasieu parish.

"At the same time this condition did not—as some pessimists predicted—create shortages in buyer goods. In fact, rather than create a "seller's market", it had the opposite effect in that merchandisers, knowing that they had a larger guaranteed demand, could afford to stock proportionately larger in almost all items. This gave the average local buyer a far more varied choice of purchases, as well as a larger supply from which to choose.

"In addition to the economic boost supplied by the reactivation of the base, the city and the entire area have benefited from the improved community life. Air force personnel have integrated themselves into churches, clubs, schools, recreational activities and all community projects. In no instance, to my knowledge, have there been any serious complaints that they have attempted to "take over" or dominate such group activities.

"Here again, their presence has made possible the expansion of community, social, recreational and religious activities—an expansion which might not otherwise have been attempted.

"In local civic projects, base personnel have carried more than their share of the responsibility. They are well represented in everything from Little Theater to Red Cross and Christmas seals drives. In the blood donations campaign base personnel and their families have consistently set the pace for the rest of the community. . .In the recent Community Chest drive, Lake Charles air force base overscribed its quota by approximately 100 per cent, while the rest of the community fell short in its efforts.

Local law enforcement officers stress that there has been a minimum of friction and a maximum of cooperation from the air police, base officials and personnel.

As a newspaper, we have found base personnel, in all ranks, completely cooperative, regardless of whether or not the news involved redounded to their credit.

In short, we consider the reactivation of the air force base here one of Lake Charles' and Southwest Louisiana's biggest assets."

Royal Wedding, Not The Snooty Type, Is Staged

LONDON, Nov. 29 (AP)—Another royal wedding, complete with kings and queens, princes and princesses, brightened this drab and dreary London day today.

But it wasn't one of your snooty blue-blood affairs. It was an honest to-goodness, down-to-earth Cockney wedding.

The bride was "Princess" Marie Louise Marriott, 25, whose father, "Pearly King" Jack Marriott, is chief of London's unofficial Cockney aristocracy.

More than a dozen other pearly kings and queens—the elite of London's pushcart dealers—were on hand to see "Princess" Marie wed local electrician Jim Fullerton.

But bowing to the bride's wishes the Cockney royalty didn't wear their royal dress—suits and frocks smothered with thousands of hand-sewn pearl buttons.

"This is my day and it ain't going to be cluttered up with a lot of doo-dahs," was "Princess" Marie's royal edict.

So like millions of other Londoners the kings, queens, princes and princesses streamed into church—not historic Westminster Abbey but red-brick St. Phillip's, Stepney, right in the heart of London's drab, blitz Cockneyland.

There was no red carpet for Princess Marie. She arrived almost unnoticed with her father in a hired car. There were no tophats and morning suits but carefully pressed blue Sunday suits and new dresses bought at the little shop around the corner. There was none of the stiff and starchy formality of a real royal wedding, either.

"Princess" Marie herself held up proceedings outside the church for five minutes.

"Jim's mum ain't arrived," she announced firmly. "I'm not going in before Jim's mum."

In her white satin gown, she stood shivering on the church porch until Jim's mother arrived out of breath murmuring "Sorry I'm late, ducks."

The bride exchanged a perky Cockney wink with Mrs. Fullerton, then passed regally into church to the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march.

Like all royal weddings, there was a certain amount of traffic dislocation outside the church afterwards. But this was only because the little bridegroom insisted on carrying his princess in his arms across the road to the reception hall while the guests crowded around applauding.

The bride does have a connection with real royalty, even though Princess Marie Louise, great-great aunt of Queen Elizabeth II.

COFFEE TOPS EXPORTS

NEW YORK (AP)—Dependence of Brazil's economy on a one-crop export - coffee - is illustrated by figures for the first half of 1952, reported by the Brazilian Government Trade Bureau here.

During the first six months, coffee accounted for 69.4 per cent of total export volume with a value of $487,820,833. The next highest single export item was raw cotton which accounted for only 3.6 per cent of total export trade with a value of $25,204,725.

Turnbough, Jr., Troop 76, Gilbert, sponsored by the Lions Club.

A business meeting of institutional representatives and members of the board of directors will be held beginning at 4 p. m. with Clarkson presiding. At his meeting reports of the various organizations and divisions within the council will be held and plans formulated for the coming year.

Following the opening of the meeting by Clarkson, reports from the organization extension activities will be given by A. J. Ensminger of Wisner. J. A. Holmes, Winnsboro, will then report on the financial standing of the council. Other reports from committee chairmen to be heard will be: W. E. Person, Lake St. John, advancement committee; Frank Voelker, Jr., Lake Providence, leadership training; D. C. Harper, West Monroe, camping activities; and J. C. Crawford, West Monroe, nominating committee.

Following a report of the nominating committee, officers for the coming year will be elected. They will be introduced at the banquet meeting that night.

The banquet meeting which will be for all scouters and their wives will begin at 7 p. m. with an invocation by the Rev. W. H. Benston of the Winnsboro Methodist Church. President Clarkson will give the welcome address after which Person, Ouachita Valley advancement chairman, will recognize the eagle scouts in the council.

Bill Stevens, explorer scout in troop 32, sponsored by the Monroe Lions Club, will give a short talk on the appreciation for leadership in the council. He will then introduce the leaders at the meeting.

Crawford, chairman of the central district, will install the newly-elected officers, after which the training and veterans awards will be given by Frank Voelker, Jr., Lake Providence, chairman of the eastern district.

Round-up awards to all units who have completed objectives for this class will be given by A. J. Ensminger of Wisner.

One of the highlights of the occasion will be the presenting of the Silver Beaver award to two persons within the council who have given outstanding service to boyhood through scouting and community work during the past year. Only two such awards are given each year in the council and are considered one of the highest possible in the lay work of scouting. The presentation will be made by Judge E. L. Walker of Ruston.

A tableau will be presented as the closing ceremony with three scouts participating. These are George Gowan, scout; Jimmy Durr, cub scout; and Elmo Gentry, explorer scout from Winnsboro.

THIEVES WORE STRIPES

BUTTE, Mont. (AP)—Tavern occupants here thought they were collectively starting to see things as bad as pink elephants when thieves locked them in a rest room after relieving them of $300 to $400.

But after a few excited minutes of conjecture they agreed that the thieves all were dressed in striped overalls.

Union Parish Is Bed Of Mineral Riches

Fields Reports Iron Ore, Lignite And Fuller's Earth Abundant

Activities in connection with the location of a big Olin Industries plant near Spencer and discovery of oil have brought unusual wealth to citizens and property owners of Union parish within the last few years but discovery of vast quantities of raw materials in that parish probably will bring far greater wealth.

This opinion was expressed by Harvey G. Fields, attorney for five housing projects in Union parish and also attorney for Olin interests in that parish. Fields expressed the belief that Union and Ouachita parishes, and probably Lincoln as well, within the next few years will become a mecca of industrialism.

Rich deposits of three kinds of valuable minerals have been discovered in Union parish, Fields said. These minerals are iron ore, lignite and Fuller's earth.

Rich iron ore is said to be found in great abundance in the vicinity of Corney Bayou and Corney Lake, with solid cliffs of iron ore extending for long distances and to a good depth.

Lignite, which is reported found in abundance in Union parish, can be used in making a gas which produces more intense heat than natural gas and which is more successful in some manufacturing processes.

Fuller's earth, which is used as a purifier of many products and which is said also to be used in the manufacture of aluminum, is said to be found in greater abundance than almost anywhere in the United States.

Some of these minerals, Fields said, are to be found about 10 to 12 feet under the soil and are 10 to 15 feet in depth.

Former Monroe Pastor Dies In New Orleans

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 29 (AP)—Edward George Neuwirth Jr., Methodist lay evangelist identified with the Carrollton Avenue Methodist Church here for almost 30 years, died last night. He was 68.

He was a native of Monroe, La.

Funeral services will be held at 2:30 p. m. tomorrow.

Survivors include three daughters, Mrs. E. P. Heiby, Alexandria, Va.; Mrs. Edward A. Amar, Hammond, La., and Mrs. Walter Sidney, New Orleans.

SHIP SALVAGED

SINGAPORE (AP)—A salvage company has raised the barnacle and mud-covered hulk of the Japanese ship, Zenya Maru, off Singapore.

The wreck has a large hole in its side big enough to hold three three-ton trucks, Capt. W. A. Doust, general manager of the salvage firm, said. No records exist as to how it was destroyed during the war. The ship will be broken up here and its steel used for building construction.

Sturgeon were formerly caught on the American Atlantic coast, but the number of the fish has been reduced so sharply that it no longer pays to fish for them commercially.

FATHER CURREN RETURNS HERE

Will Serve As Assistant To Rt. Rev. Msgr. J. C. Marsh

The Rev. Dennis A. Curren, retreat master at Maryhill for the last four years, has arrived here to be assistant to the Rt. Rev. Msgr. J. C. Marsh, pastor of St. Matthew's Church.

He served a previous assignment here six years ago.

Bishop Charles P. Greco sent Father Curren here to develop the mission at Columbia, which Father Curren has been attending from Maryhill for the past year.

Bishop Greco said it may not be too long before a chapel is built at Columbia at a site already acquired.

Father Curren served as director of retreats in the Diocese of Alexandria for two years and is presently Louisiana department chaplain of the American Legion, chaplain of George M. Simmons Post No. 3 in Alexandria and a past chaplain of the Alexandria Elks Lodge.

Father Curren has had a varied career including a stint as a pitcher for the St. Louis Cardinals. During his baseball days he was known as "Bobo Curren.

Father Curren stated he was very happy to be back in Monroe and that he was glad to renew his acquaintance with friends here and to me new friends.

Paul Martin Looks 'Em Over

Every high school athlete looks forward to the day when he can win a possible all-state nomination as recognition of a good season's work, with the ultimate of his dreams being selection to the all-state squad. The schooboy ranks are loaded this year with an abundance of outstanding players, so many that a lot of good boys are going to be consigned to the "honorable mention" list when the culling for the top performers is finally over.

Today the Louisiana Associated Press Sports Writers Association is gathering to tackle its annual task of coming up with its all-state high school teams in Louisiana's three classifications. Newspaper sports writers from throughout the state go into session at the Heidelberg Hotel at Baton Rouge this morning. If the usual pattern is followed, it will be an all-day task as the writers toil through the list of nominations to come up with their dream teams.

We have enough really good boys in our own northeast district to furnish the bulk of the "A" and "B" teams, yet we realize a lot of boys we think should be all-state are not going to quite make the grade since other areas of the state also have many worthy of recognition and are bound to squeeze in a good share of the talent. The other qualified voters are going to be working just as hard for their boys as we are for ours.

It has been the practice to select "first" and "second" teams in double-A because there are only 24 schools in this classification in the state. Because of the abundance of schools in classes A and B, twenty-two-man squads are selected without designation of first or second teams.

While the sports writers will know by tonight the personnel of the 1953 all-state teams, it may be a couple of weeks before official announcement is made by the Associated Press so that stories can be properly prepared, time allowed for gathering photographs of the elite and plans made to publish the all-state stories at the same time throughout the state.

Our work for twin-A recognition will be limited to boys of Ouachita and Bastrop, the only "AA" schools in our territory, but the other nominators are likely to get pretty tired of seeing us hit the floor with regularity when the "A" and "B" balloting begins. We have eighteen Class B teams in the northeast district alone and we only wish there were enough positions on a team for boys from every school. There are nineteen teams in north district Class A, and we count a dozen of those in the area we're most concerned about. Other districts are just about at loaded and the boys who are able to lead the balloting in the lower classes really earn their places.

M'Neese State's Fullback Derouen Sets New Conference Rushing Title

Mississippi Southern's Bucky McElroy's Old Record Broken

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 29 (AP) — Fullback Jules DeRouen, McNeese State's jarring line - splinter, gained 1,313 yards through 10 opponents' lines in cracking his way to the Gulf States Conference rushing title—and a new GSC yardage record.

DeRouen, who also set a GSC scoring record with 102 points, ran 169 times in piling up his staggering total—almost 500 yards more than the old rushing record set last year by Bucky McElroy of Mississippi Southern, no longer a GSC team. DeRouen got 16 touchdowns rushing.

Fullback Charles Copes of Southwestern Louisiana Institute was runnerup to DeRouen with 837 yards on 161 attempts.

Third place went to another of the bruising type of runners, Ed Welch of Southeastern Louisiana. Welch got 669 yards on 126 carries.

Two of Copes' teammates ranked fourth and fifth. They were halfbacks Billy Higginbotham and F. G. Mixon. Higginbotham ran 121 times for 565 yards and Mixon 113 times for 634.

Rounding out the top ten ground gainers were Leon Fuller of Northwestern State with 554 yards, John Warner of Louisiana College with 448, Jackie Martin of Louisiana Tech with 416, James Oliver of Tech with 377, and Jesse Castete of McNeese, DeRouen's understudy, with 376.

Mixon was runnerup to McElroy last year with 771 yards. Welch finished fourth with 508, Higginbotham 12th with 324.

The 1950 rushing leader was Joe Rabb of Tech with 164 carries for 738 yards. Mixon was fifth with 83 carries netting 465 yards. Art Lancaster of Northwestern led in 1949 with 77 carries for 770 yards—the best per-game average in the GSC.

In 1948, the GSC's first year, John (Bubber) Phillips of Mississippi Southern led ball carriers with 686 yards on 79 tries.

Despirito Unable To Ride Saturday; Head Troubles

LINCOLN, R. I., Nov. 29. (AP)—Tony Despirito, the country's leading jockey with 363 winners this season, cancelled all his mounts at Lincoln Downs today after "blacking out" twice during the forenoon. He also was suffering from a severe head pain.

Despirito was thrown recently He was to have ridden in nine of todays ten races.

Later it was announced that Despirito would be able to go to Bowie in Maryland to start riding Monday, as planned, in an effort to carry his winners' string past the 388 mark as first set by Walter Miller in 1906 and equalled in 1950 by Willie Shoemaker and Joe Culmone.

Arlie Latham, Player In 1st World Series, Passes At Age Of 92

GARDEN CITY, N. Y., Nov. 29 (AP)—Arlie Latham, who broke into major league baseball in 1879, died here today after a year's illness. He was 92.

Latham, baseball's oldest major leaguer, played in the first World Series games in 1885 with the St. Louis Browns. A third baseman, he also was a member of the champion Brown teams of 1886-87-88.

Born in West Labanon, N. H., Latham began playing ball at the age of 16 with a Stockton, Mass. semi-pro club. Three years later he joined the Buffalo club in the old National League.

Following his big - league career, Latham turned to umpiring, calling them for ten years in the South Atlantic League.

In 1909, John McGraw called him to New York to coach for the Giants and his horseplay soon endeared him to the fans. He would do cartwheels down the third base line, in the tradition of Al Schacht and Nick Altrock.

The liners Queen Mary and Queen Elizabeth were built partly of scrap from the German battle fleet sunk in Scapa Flow after World War I.

BENGALS STEAL PASS, BOBBLE TO SET UP VICTORY

Miller, Brancato, Stringfield Turn Tide Against Wave

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 29 (AP)—Tackle Paul Miller's fumble recovery and a pass interception by halfback George Brancato furnished Louisiana State University with the powder and fuse for a two-touchdown explosion and a 16-0 upset victory over Tulane today.

LSU, A Southeastern Conference football team that had won only two games in a disastrous season, combined long first half runs by Leroy Labat and halfback Jerry Marchand to fashion the shocking victory over frustrated Tulane.

Labat's 32-yard first period run, Marchand's 46-yard gallop in the second quarter and Cliff Stringfield's 17-yard field goal were LSU's only serious threats.

Tulane, a touchdown favorite, showed midfield offensive superiority, but each drive fizzled under LSU's knifing line. Tulane got to LSU's 10 yard line in the second period, but that was the Green Wave's deepest penetration.

Miller and ends Sammy Murphy and Joe Tuminello spilled Tulane's vaunted runners for losses in the game which was played in a light rain before 55,000 persons. LSU, attempting to salvage a bit of glory in its worst season in many years, played conservative football after halftime, apparently satisfied to hold its 16-0 lead.

Tulane, with a record of five victories and four losses, was touted as an easy winner. But LSU's line play and quick touchdowns dashed aside Tulane's hopes of winning this 50th game for the first victory over LSU since 1948.

Tulane's Jim Partridge fumbled on the second play from scrimmage after the opening kickoff, and Miller pounced on the loose ball on the Tulane 36. Labat once and went to the 34.

Then with a shake of his hips, Labat snaked through the Tulane line and, with a surprise expression on his face, found himself in the open. Stringfield converted with less than two minutes gone.

Tulane quarterback Pete Clement, trying desperately to fire up his team's sagging offense, took to the air in the second period. The alert Brancato snagged a Clement pass and on the next play Marchand rolled 46 yards. Stringfield's conversion attempt was blocked.

LSU unknowingly had ended the scoring when Stringfield booted his field goal.

Tulane, a team that had won all five of its victories in the last half, came back from the intermission and discovered that LSU's line was still master of the situation.

Crusaders Overpower Boston College, 21-7

BOSTON, Nov. 29 (AP) — Holy Cross' alert Crusaders, powered by Lou Hettinger and Gerry O'Leary, a pair of sophomore speedsters, converted three Boston College miscues for a 21-7 victory today.

Hettinger upheld Holy Cross' role as favorite by scoring twice within two minutes during the final quarter on eight and three-yard thrusts. O'Leary opened the hard fought game's scoring with a 55-yard runback in the second period.

A 34-yard punt return by Dick Zotti, two penalties and an 18-yard pass completion by Jimmy Kane to Danny Brosnahan, holting Joe Johnson was moved into position to launch a one-yard scoring slam for Boston College.

Zotti converted to put Boston College into a 7-7 tie.

Farmer Brown, Daisy Mae Paired With Henning Vs. M'Donald, Lopez

Tuesday Wrestling Card To Feature Colorful Team Match

The Tuesday night wrestling program at Gus Kallio's Arena will feature a tag team match between Farmer Brown; his second Daisy Mae; and his partner, Johnny Henning; vs. "Sockeye" McDonald and Raoul Lopez.

Two one-fall preliminaries, between opposite team members, will complete the card, the opening match to begin at 8 o'clock.

The fans have requested another tag team bout, and promoter Kallio obliged by signing up the Farmer and his colorful "aide", pairing them with popular Henning. The wrestling crowd watched Farmer Daisy Mae defeat Raoul Lopez three weeks ago, and are quite familiar with the Farmer's style, which consists of much whisker and bare feet rubbing, and an occasional helping hand from his second, Daisy Mae.

Henning needs no introduction; his popular flying dropkicks and clean grappling style having become very popular of late in the Walnut St. Arena.

"Sockeye" McDonald, the burly ex-wood chopper, has also appeared here the past two weeks, and when asked by promoter Kallio if he would appear in a tag match against Henning and Farmer, had this to say: "Oh yes, I know what that means to take on Brown—there will be that woman too, Daisy Mae. There will be three against two; Henning, Brown, and the woman with the shoe. Just get me the Mexican, Raoul Lopez, for my partner, and we'll take them on, but let me tell you one thing before you make the match—if Daisy Mae comes in the ring and bothers me while I'm wrestling, I'll forget I'm a gentleman and don't want any trouble with anyone, and she'll have to be able to take care of herself just like a man."

Lopez, the black-haired Mexican, accepted the match without comment. "Just go ahead and put me on," he said, "and I'll be there." Having been Farmer's and Daisy Mae's opponent recently, Lopez knows what to expect, and having done right well last time, should be even better Tuesday night.

TULSA DEFEATS RAIDERS, 26-20

Texas Tech On Tulsa Three-Yard Line As Game Ends

LUBBOCK, Tex., Nov. 29 (AP)—Tulsa's Golden Hurricane, the mightiest offensive team in the country, defeated Texas Tech 26-20 today by beating off a great Red Raider drive that swarmed to the three-yard line in the last seconds.

Gator Bowl - bound Tulsa, sparked as usual by tremendous fullback Howard Waugh who scored two touchdowns and gained 181 yards rushing, stopped the Raider surge when Ed Hugh intercepted a pass in the end zone with only 22 seconds left to play.

Waugh finished the season with 2,372 yards and probable first place nationally.

Waugh's touchdowns were on runs of 10 and 26 yards respectively. Another Tulsa score came when Dick Kercher lateraled to Ronnie Morris who fumbled on the Red Raider nine and the ball rolled to the one where Bobby Holladay picked it up and stepped into the end zone. The other Hurricane touchdown was on a quarterback sneak by Morris.

Bobby Cavazos sparked the Raiders with a pair of touchdowns. His first came on a 24-yard sprint and his second was on a 1-yard plunge over tackle. Jerry Johnson accounted for the first Tech touchdown on a quarterback sneak.

End Tom Miner for Tulsa and halfback Jack Kirkpatrick of Tech each converted twice.

Score by quarters:

Tulsa	7	13	6	0—26
Tech	0	6	7	7—20

Tulsa scoring: Touchdowns-Holladay, Waugh 2, Morris; Conversions-Miner 2.

Tech scoring: Touchdowns-Johnson, Cavazos 2; Conversions-Kirkpatrick 2.

Fordham Rams Blast New York U., 45 To 0

NEW YORK, Nov. 29 (AP) — The supercharged battery of quarterback Vinnie Drake and end Ed Brown turned the 30th football "Battle of the Bronx" into a rout today as Fordham walloped New York University 45-0.

Drake, a second-stringer until this week's practice sessions, started the rout with a 19-yard scoring shot to halfback George Murphy in the first five minutes and made it complete with three touchdown passes to Brown covering one, 44 and eight yards.

The three touchdown passes and 11 other aerials Brown snared gave him 57 for the season and enabled him to better the intercollegiate record of 52 pass catches in a season.

The record was set by Mississippi's Barney Poole in 1947 and tied by Art Weiner of North Carolina in 1949

TEXAS CHRISTIAN DEFEATS SMU, 14-7

Sophomore Quarterback Sparks Horned Frog Attack

DALLAS, Tex., Nov. 29 (AP)—Ronald Clinkscale, a flaming sophomore, ran through Southern Methodist like a purple ghost today to carry Texas Christian to a 14-7 victory in the season finale.

The tall and handsome quarterback, a track man who uses his speed on the gridiron, scored both of the Texas Christian touchdowns, one on a 36-yard dash and the other on a 12-yard jaunt.

Clinkscale romped to 152 yards in one of the finest individual shows his storied game ever saw. He also mixed in some adept passing in generaling the Christians to their upset triumph.

A crowd of 32,000 saw the game. Southern Methodist made a hefty fight of it. The Methodists got to the T. C. U. 21 and the 27 in first period drives but lost the ball.

Early in the second period Frank Eidom of S. M. U. fumbled and Carlton McCormack, ponderous Christian center, fell on the ball on the Methodist 40. Jack Ray picked up four in a bash at right guard then Clinkscale circled left end and raced to the score. Johnny Crouch kicked the extra point.

The S. M. U. touchdown came in the last period. The drive stretched 54 yards and Don Kilgore made 35 of it with bull-like rushes over guard. He scored the touchdown from the Christian one-foot mark. Sam Stollenwerk converted.

Texas Christian took the kickoff on its 26 and proceeded to parade to the winning touchdown with Clinkscale's passing and running doing the job. Clinkscale ran around right end for the last 12 yards. Crouch again converted.

Score by quarters:

Texas Christian	0	7	0	7—14
Southern Methodist	0	0	0	7— 7

Texas Christian scoring: Touchdowns, Clinkscale 2; conversions: Crouch 2.

Southern Methodist scoring: Touchdown, Kilgore; Conversion: Stollenwerck.

Florida State U. Hands Wofford 27-13 Defeat; New Pass Record Set

SPARTANBURG, S. C., Nov. 29 (AP) —A victory - hungry Florida State University football team spotted Wofford a first quarter touchdown and went on to beat the Terriers 27-13 today in a thriller.

Although they lost the game, the Terriers still had something to crow about. Jack Abell, their senior end from Columbus, Ga., caught four passes to give him 56 receptions for the season, topping both major and small college records.

Stranglehold Winner In Sequoia Handicap

SAN BRUNO, Calif., Nov. 29. (AP) —Stranglehold, with veteran Johnny Longden up, came from behind with a tremendous srtetch run today to win the $15,000 added Sequoia Handicap at Tanforan by half a length.

Count Abbey, with Willie Shoemaker aboard, ran second. A claim of foul lodged by Shoemaker against Longden's mount was not allowed by the stewards. Shoemaker had claimed that Stranglehold drifted out in the late stretch run.

Horsetrader-Ed, running as an entry with Stranglehold, placed third. Army was fourth.

The time of 1:50 1-5 equalled the track record for a mile and one-eighth, set in this same race a year ago by Galavon.

The winning entry, owned by N. G. Phillips of Beverly Hills, Calif., went off as second choice and paid $5.20, $2.60 and $2.70.

Count Abbey, the post - time favorite, returned $2.60 and $2.70. A crowd of 14,005 attended.

HUSKIES DOWN COUGARS, 33-27

Washington's Heinrich, State's Barker Set New Records

SPOKANE Wash., Nov. 29. (AP) —The Wizard of Washington, Don Heinrich, drove his smooth-running football machine to a 33-27 victory today over an unexpectedly stubborn Washington State eleven which fumbled away its chances for victory.

With the temperature at 25 degrees and the November sun providing little warmth, Heinrich passed sparingly but completed seven to snatch the national passing title from Tommy O'Connell of Illinois by four strikes. Heinrich wound up the season with 137 completions.

Another record tumbled when Washington State's fleet end Ed Barker hauled in 10 passes for a three-year total of 108 to beat by two the career mark set by Bill McColl of Stanford in 1951.

Three fumbles at vital moments cost the losing Cougars of W.S.C. their chance for an upset. Twice they were moving confidently downfield toward a tally and the third time a dropped punt cost them an opportunity after they had backed the Huskies up against the goal line.

Each team staged a drive in the first quarter which fizzled with missed attempts at field goals. Washington took a 14-7 lead at halftime, spread that to 26-13 in the third period, and then hung on grimly in the face of a closing rush by the Cougars.

State outdowned Washington 22-15, outpassed the Huskies 16-7 and out fumbled them three to one.

Score by quarters:

Washington	0	14	12	7—33
Washington S.	0	7	6	14—27

Washington scoring: touchdowns Nugent 2, Heinrich, Killingstad; Lariza; conversions, Niles.

W.S.C. scoring: touchdowns, Barker, Beckel 2, Pool; conversions, Barker 3.

Hamilton AFB '11' Drubs Luke AFB For Title, 28-0

HAMILTON AIR FORCE BASE, Calif., Nov. 29 (AP)—The Hamilton AFB defenders, representing the Northern Division, today won the Air Force football championship by trouncing the southern finalist, Luke Air Force Base, Glendale, Ariz., 28-0.

Former college stars of the Southwest Conference figured heavily. Quarterback Byron Gillroy ,formerly of the University of Texas, was a sparkplug all afternoon and scored the first touchdown.

Don Dumez, formerly of Texas A. and M., hurled two touchdown passes, one to end Milby Sexton, formerly of Baylor, and the other to end John O'Connor, formerly of Boston College.

Fullback Maurice Schnell, formerly of Iowa State, counted the fourth touchdown. Halfback Sammy Burk, formerly of Rice, made good on all four conversion attempts.

Manchester Becomes Pride Of Jena Fans As District's Leading Scorer

JENA, La., Nov. 29. (Special)—Jena's 190-pound fullback, Raymond Manchester, holds a firm grip on the north Louisiana Class A individual scoring lead for 1952 with 163 points in 10 games.

The six-foot, two-inch senior, playing his last high school football game a week ago, ran over four touchdowns and caught a pass for another as Jena's Giants blasted the LaSalle Tigers, 53-19, in a season finale for both schools.

In piling up his 163 points, Manchester has carried the ball on rushing plays 153 times for 1,429 yards and 25 touchdowns. He caught passes for two T.D.'s and another for one extra point. He's averaged a fraction more than 9.3 yards per carry and 142.9 yards and 16.2 points per game.

This record is, of course, enhanced by the fact that Manchester saw only limited action in one game because of injuries and was out for nearly two full quarters in three other games when the Giants piled up early leads and allowed Coach Bill Maxwell to use his second-stringers.

Raymond, an 18-year-old, two-year letterman, has proven just as outstanding in defensive back and end roles as on the offensive this season. His defensive record includes pass interceptions, recovery of an on-side kick and numerous tackles behind and on the line of scrimmage and in the secondary.

He starred at an end position in 1951, but his driving power, elusiveness and speed earned for him the fullback post on the 1952 Giants squad. His ability to catch passes and run after catching them has paid off in his backfield position, too.

In addition to football, Raymond plays basketball and baseball well enough to earn a berth on the starting line - ups. His sportsmanlike qualities and warm personality have merited widespread praise, and he has many firends among Jena High and Jena elementary students, as well as among Jena adults.

Raymond is the oldest of four children of Mr. and Mrs. U. M. Manchester, and has three brothers all of whom are playing football currently at their respective levels.

Physicaly, he is a clean-cut, well - built young man, with dark blonde hair and blue eyes. His 190 pounds are well distributed on his six-foot, two-inch frame.

In commenting on Manchester's football capabilities, Coach Maxwell asserts, "He has natural talent and ability, size and build, and he's eager to learn and ready to accept criticism of his mistakes. That's all a coach could ask for."

M'Lendon Joins List Of Speakers At Grid Officials Meet Dec. 9

Gordon McLendon, the Liberty network boss who is suing major league baseball clubs for barring his broadcasts of games last season, has been added to the guest speaker role for the Northeast Louisiana Football Officials Association banquet here Tuesday night, December 9, it was announced yesterday by Irving Zeidman, public relations official for the association.

McLendon, a son -in - law of James A. Noe of Monroe, thus joins "Hank" Crisp, line coach at the University of Alabama, as principal speakers for the officials' gathering. Crisp, a veteran of 30 years of coaching, had earlier accepted the invitation.

All members of the officials' association and the northeast Louisiana district high school and college coaches, who have been invited to attend, will be on hand to hear Crisp and McLendon.

SOONERS CRUSH AGGIES, 54 TO 7

Oklahoma Scores Almost At Will After Spotting Lead

STILLWATER, Okla., Nov. 29 (AP) —The Oklahoma Aggies' Bill Bredde returned the opening kickoff 98 yards for a touchdown, but that just made the Oklahoma Sooners mad—and they pounded their cross-state rival unmercifully through the rest of the 59 minutes for a 54 to 7 decision.

Oklahoma, the nation's No. 4 team, was unrelenting as it rolled its season's total of points to 407 in 10 games— the best scoring record in the nation.

The Aggies were no match for the powerful Sooners, and their own mistakes helped build up Oklahoma's final total.

Oklahoma thus closed out its season with eight victories, one defeat and one tie. The defeat was the Aggies seventh this season. In the other six reverses, the Aggies lost by a total of 21 points.

Oklahoma's Billy Vessels and Merrill Green each scored two touchdowns while Max Boydston, Roger Nelson, Buck McPhail and Gene Calame each contributed one. McPhail kicked six of eight conversions.

The game was played before 25,000 persons sitting in 36-degree weather but the sun broke through heavy clouds at game time. An inch and a half of snow fell on the field overnight but it melted before kickoff.

Score by quarters:

Oklahoma	13	6	21	14—54
Okla. A. & M.	7	0	0	0— 7

Oklahoma scoring: touchdowns—Vessles 2, Green 2, McPhail, Boydston, Nelson, Calame. Conversions—McPhail 6.

Oklahoma A. and M. scoring: touchdown, Breede. Conversion-Davis.

Futuresque Rewards Backers With $24.50

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 29. (AP)—The Red Head Stable's Futuresque led all the way to win the $5,000 Crescent City Handicap at the New Orleans Fairgrounds today.

Thelma Berger, owned by Joe W. Brown, was second and T. G. Benson's Mostest finished third.

Jockey G. Glassner moved Futuresque in front at the start and fought off a stretch drive by Thelma Berger to win the feature sixth race by a length and a quarter.

Futuresque paid $24.20, $10.80 and $5.60. Thelma Berger $5.20 and $3.00 and Mostest $3.10.

ALABAMA POUNDS AUBURN, 21 TO 0

Crimson Tide Does All Scoring In First Half

BIRMINGHAM, Nov. 29 (AP)—A merciless first - half running attack, paced by backs Bobby Marlow and Tommy Lewis, brought Alabama a 21-0 victory over Auburn today on a cold and muddy field before 40,000 chilled fans.

It was Marlow's final regular season game, and he ended the day with a net of 132 yards on 28 rushes, for a season's net of 950 and a three-year figure of 2,560.

'Bama showed its superiority quickly. With Lewis and Marlow doing the running, Alabama went 60 yards in six plays in the opening four minutes. Lewis drove 13 for the score.

Another 'Bama score followed on an 84-yard march before the first period ended. Lewis again rammed over, this time from 8 yards away.

Halfback Bobby Luna went 4 for the final marker early in the second quarter.

That was all the scoring, as Auburn defense stiffened and managed to stave off further drives. A 34 - yard pass from quarterback Clell Hobson to halfback Corky Tharp for a seeming touchdown was nullified by a roughing penalty.

Syracuse coach Ben Schwartzwalder, whose team meets Alabama Jan. 1 in the Orange Bowl, saw the game with four other members of his coaching staff. He said he got "an eyefull in the first half."

Auburn	0	0	00	—0
Alabama	14	7	0	0—21

Alabama scoring: Touchdowns Lewis 2, Conversions, Luna 3.

Notre Dame Ends Southern Cal's Unbeaten String

FIGHTING IRISH DROP TROJANS BY 9-0 MARGIN

'Sucker Shift' Paves Way For Game's Only Touchdown

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Nov. 29 (AP)—Notre Dame's spoilers humiliated Southern California today with a "sucker shift" to score in the second period and sent the Rose Bowl-bound Trojans crashing from the undefeated football ranks, 9-0.

The fighting Irish, ending USC's nine-game winning streak, beat the great defensive team at its own game. It was the Trojan's first loss since the Irish won 19-12 a year ago at Los Angeles.

Notre Dame scored the game-deciding touchdown in the first five minutes of the second period with its demon-like punt-patrol setting it up.

Johnny Lattner punted and the Trojan's safetyman, Jim Sears, received it on the USC 20. Sears looked up and saw Menil Mavriades and the bone-jarring Dan Shannon roaring down on him like a pair of wild bulls.

That was enough for Sears. He looked over his shoulder for help and then, for the only time in the game, lost his poise. He tried to lateral to Al Carmichael. Carmichael didn't foresee the maneuver and the ball bounced in back of him. Mavraides fell on it on the 19.

From there, the inspired Irish banged through USC's tight line to the 9 in three plays. Then came that "sucker shift." Notre Dame went into its regular split T alignment then shifted out in a box formation. Three Trojans jumped across the line of scrimmage and USC was ruled offside. The 5-yard penalty gave Notre Dame the ball on the 5 and a first down.

It took four players to score from there, but Lattner finally stabbed across the last inches.

Bob Arrix' try for the extra point failed when Bob Joseph, holding the ball for the place kick, bobbled it.

This same pair, however, made amends in the third quarter. Arrix booted a perfect 17-yard field goal at a difficult angle to give Notre Dame its 9-0 victory margin.

The shift that drew USC off side was used to set up a touchdown against Oklahoma the same way. The Irish blasted Oklahoma from the undefeated list 27-21 and also did the same with Purdue and Texas.

But the climax to the Irish's great season of wrecking favorites came against the men of Troy, ranked No. 2 nationally and a touchdown choice to register their first undefeated-untied season in 20 years.

Syracuse Coach Scouts Ala.; New Year's Foe

BIRMINGHAM, Nov. 29. (AP)—Syracuse coach Floyd Schwartzwalder saw Alabama, his team's Orange Bowl opponent, in action today. He said he was impressed.

"We'll have to score more than three touchdowns if we want to beat Alabama," he declared after the Crimson Tide defeated Auburn, 21-0.

"Alabama's first string is every bit as good as Michigan State's starting lineup," Schwartzwalder said. A defeat by the top ranking Spartans was one of Syracuse's two losses this season.

He said the second half breaks went against Alabama, and "if they needed more scoring they could have gotten it. Their potential was much greater than the 21 points on the scoreboard."

Schwartzwalder and four members of his coaching staff flew here to scout the game.

Basketball's 'Easy' Ed MacCauley Loses Father

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 29 (AP)—Charles J. MacCauley, 81, retired attorney and father of Ed MacCauley, player for the Boston Celtics in the National Basketball Association, died of infirmities today.

In addition to his son, who was an All-American star while playing at St. Louis University, MacCauley is survived by his widow and two daughters.

Northeast Drops Initial Basketball Tilt To Loyola Of New Orleans, 99-63

Bill Bigby Indian High Point Man With 16

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 29 (AP)—Loyola University warmed up for its tough intersectional basketball schedule tonight by routing Northeast State of Monroe, 99-63.

Loyola led all the way, moving to a 44-26 halftime lead and turning the contest into a rout in the second half.

Center Tom Ketchum's hook shots brought him high scoring honors for the night. He hit 10 field goals and eight free throws for 28 points.

Gus Reynoir, Loyola rebound artist, was second high with 21 points.

Bill Bigby with 16 was high man for Northeast.

Army-Navy Game Notes

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 29. (AP)—President Truman arrived at this huge Municipal Stadium shortly before noon and made the day's first fumble—he dropped the silver dollar used to flip for the opening kickoff.

The President looked as natty as usual, in a dark brown coat and gray fedora, perked at a jaunty angle on his head.

The Army Mascot reached the scene in a big sedan escorted by a defensive platoon of motorcycle cops. Billy, the Navy goat showed up inside a float built to resemble a large perfume bottle. What little wind there was came from the south and only those in the north stands got the full benefit of both Billy and the perfume.

The weather was on the crisp side. The sky was Army gray and more than one pair of lips were Navy blue.

Getting to the game was the usual battle for motorists and taxi drivers.

In keeping with the modern military motif, both teams took to the air bright and early in the game but neither the Army nor the Navy bomb sights was clocking at once. The first aerial completed developed out of a Navy fake field goal attempt. The pass was completed from John Weaver to Bob Lowell but only after the ball had caromed off the hands of two other players.

The officials who placed five wounded veterans at the Army end of the field, knew what they were doing. Most of the first quarter was played right in front of the veterans.

The sun came out midway through the second period and warmed everyone in the place but those in the covered press box and the unfortunates in the shade thereof.

There were so many fumbles in the first half one sage in the press box remarked the boys must have been using the more lively American League ball.

The pollsters carried Navy as the pre-game favorite and the Cadet Corps acted as though the prediction should be taken seriously—they seemed to be giving their team the silent treatment.

The two Weavers—Army's Edward of Kingston, N. Y., and Navy's John of Wausau, Wisc.—had themselves a day in the first half. Edward intercepted a pair of Navy passes and recovered a fumble, while his Navy counterpart picked off an Army pass and caught a Navy aerial.

Cut Lip Forces Dykes To Forego Turner Bout

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 28. (AP)—A cut lip has forced Jimmy Dykes to forego his scheduled 10 round fight with Gil Turner at Convention Hall here Monday night.

The Miami fighter will be replaced by Brooklyn welterweight Joe Miceli.

Dykes suffered the cut, which required two stitches, in a training bout today his manager reported.

The manager added that the doctor advised Dykes to lay off for about two weeks.

Miceli will be making his second Philadelphia appearance. In February, 1951, he won a unanimous decision over Ike Williams.

Cincinnati U. Turns Down Salad Bowl Invitation

CINCINNATI, Nov. 28. (AP)—The University of Cincinnati today turned down a bid to play San Diego Naval team in the Salad Bowl, Phoenix, Ariz., New Year's Day.

The proposal was put up to the members of the Bearcat squad, who ended their regular season yesterday with a surprising victory over previously unbeaten Miami University of Ohio, 34 to 9.

The University of Cincinnati and tied one this fall.

SWANS ALIGHT ON LAKE

RAYMOND, Canada (AP)—Hunters and others in the district were treated to a rare sight when they saw about 100 beautiful white swans alighting on Alkali Lake south of here. The area is about 350 miles south of Edmonton.

Although the ocean surface varies sharply at different places in the concentration of salt it carries, the general rule is that ocean surfaces are more salt than ocean depths.

MARQUETTE TIES SUN-BOWL'S COP

13-Point Underdogs Outplay Cop To Earn 27-27 Tie

STOCKTON, Calif., Nov. 29 (AP)—College of Pacific's Sun Bowlbound Tigers were tied here today 27-27 by a hard - fighting Marquette team, sparked by the passing of quarterback Alex Janikowski.

The Hilltoppers scored three times in the second half, twice on Janikowski tosses, to overcome a 27-7 Tiger halftime lead.

A touchdown pass and run Janikowski to fullback Anthony Winkler, in the fourth quarter good for 33 yards, capped the thrilling uphill drive of the Wisconsin team.

Statistically, the edge went to the visitors. Marquette outrushed COP 229 yards to 156 and outpassed the Tigers 124 yards to 103.

COP tried to break the tie with less than five minutes to go with a field goal from 12 yards out but Ed Mendoca's boot was wide and to the left of the uprights.

Box score:

Marquette	0	7	13	7	—27
COP	7	20	0	0	—27

Marquette scoring: Touchdowns — Mixan, Drzewiecki, Tobias, Winkler. Conversions—Molenda 3.

Two 50-Yard Air Plays Help Virginia To Whip William And Mary, 20-13

WILLIANSBURG, Va., Nov. 29 (AP)—Quarterback Charlie Harding threw two touchdown passes on plays covering half the length of the field today as Virginia's Cavaliers whipped William and Mary's Indians 20-13.

Harding flipped a touchdown pass to end Bill Chisholm on a play starting at midfield. A few moments later, Harding faded back again as the Cavaliers operated from their 45. He found halfback Pete Potter waiting on the W&M 44 and Potter grabbed the ball and set sail to the goal.

B. U.'s Harry Agganis Signs With Red Hose

BOSTON, Nov. 28. (AP)—The Boston Red Sox today announced they have signed Harry Agganis, outstanding Boston University athlete, and said the tall, heavy hitting first baseman would go south with the club in the spring.

No terms of the contract were disclosed beyond the fact that the Sox explained Agganis would not play pro football.

Agganis, several times boomed for All-America recognition as Boston University's quarterback, has been reported on the negotiation list of the National Football League's Cleveland Browns.

Agganis was injured early in B. U.'s game against Maryland, Nov. 1 and was unable to play much after that.

His college career was interrupted by a service hitch with the U. S. marine corps. He was discharged as a hardship case because he is the only support of his mother.

He will receive his degree from Boston University in January.

Last spring in 15 baseball games for B. U. he batted .322 and drove in 12 runs.

UNDERDOG RICE UPSETS BAYLOR

Intercepted Aerials, Punt Return Give Owls 20-14 Win

WACO, Tex., Nov. 29. (AP)—Rice Institute today used two intercepted passes and a magnificent 61-yard punt return by little Horton Nesrsta to beat Baylor, 20-14, and climax a comeback that brought it from a woebegone football team to runnerup in the Southwest Conference.

The intercepted passes set up touchdowns in the first and final periods and gave the Owls their fourth straight November victory after five straight lickings.

Nesrsta's touchdown run—made with Francis Davidson hanging all over him for what seemed an eternity—apparently made him the nation's top man at returning punts. His total after today of 536 yards shoved him past U.S.C.'s Jimmy Sears.

L. G. Dupre, Baylor's sophomore flash, romped 30 yards for a second period tally and then cracked Rice's line for two yards and another score to run his touchdown total for the season to nine.

Score by quarters;

Baylor	0	7	7	0	—14
Rice	7	0	7	6	—20

Wake Forest Rolls To 39-14 Victory Over South Carolina Rivals

WINSTON—SALEM, N. C. Nov. 29 (AP)—Wake Forest crammed three touchdowns into less than nine minutes of the second period today to overtake South Carolina and then kept rolling to a 39-14 victory.

Quarterback Sonny George, coming up with one of his top performances of the year, threw one touchdown pass and scored once himself.

In running up their highest score in 25 meetings with their old rivals, the Deacons sent five players across the goal line. Halfback Larry Spencer scored twice, with George, halfback Bruce Hillenbrand, fullback Jim Coker and Capt. Jack Lewis, a tireless end, getting the other tallies.

South Carolina dominated the first period, running up a 7-1 first down edge and finally scoring after a fumble on the Wake Forest nine had ruined a 67-yard march.

The first American president of the English - speaking union, an organization designed to promote co - operation between English speaking nations, was William Howard Taft.

VOLS VANQUISH VANDY, 46 TO 0

Pass Interceptions, Fumbles Set Up 5 Touchdowns

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Nov. 29. (AP)—Tennessee's alert Volunteers converted Vanderbilt miscues into an easy 46-0 Southeastern Conference football victory in a game played on a snow - covered gridiron. It was the widest margin of victory Tennessee has scored in this rivalry which started in 1892.

The Vols, already headed for the Cotton Bowl game with Texas on New Year's Day, wasted little time breaking into the scoring column and kept up a steady stream of touchdowns.

Intercepted passes and Vanderbilt fumbles set up Tennessee's first five touchdowns and the Volunteer defensive platoon kept the Commodores pushed back into their own territory throughout.

The Vols, held to a surprising 14-14 tie last week by Kentucky, played heads - up football in winning their eighth game of the season against one loss and a tie.

Vanderbilt's loss was its fifth against two ties and three victories.

The Vols collected 17 first downs today, to three for Vanderbilt, and held a tremendous edge in yardage both in the air and on the ground.

Score by quarters:

Tennessee	14	7	13	12	—46

Tennessee scoring: touchdowns—Atkins, Kolenik, (2), Oleksiak, 3, Alexander. Conversions — Kolenik, 4.

Zollners Acquire Andy Phillip From Warriors

FORT WAYNE, Ind., Nov. 28. (AP)—The Fort Wayne Zollners of the National Basketball Association announced today the purchase of Andy Phillip from the Philadelphia Warriors.

Phillip will join the Fort Wayne club in New York tomorrow night when Fort Wayne plays Boston in the first game of a double header.

Phillip, a former University of Illinois star, has scored 700 or more points in each of the last five seasons in the N.B.A. and is leading the league this year in assists.

Houston Smacks Down Detroit, 33-19, To Nab Missouri Valley Title

HOUSTON, Nov. 29 (AP)—Houston wrapped up the Missouri Valley Conference championship in mud and rain today by powering its way to a 33 to 19 victory over Detroit university.

The scoring rampage by the normally defensive minded Cougars included single touchdowns in each of the first three periods and two in the fourth.

Detroit's offensive attack meanwhile was being carried primarily by Quarterback Ted Marchibroda and Fullback Ray Zambaisl. Marchibroda passed for one touchdown and set up another while gaining a net of 147 yards rushing and passing. This gave him a season total offense record of 1813 yards, 89 better than Illinois' Tommy O'Connell, the nation's leader last week.

The victory gave Houston its first championship since starting football in 1946. The Cougars finished the season with eight victories against losses only to Texas A. and M. and Mississippi.

Score by quarters:

Detroit	0	7	6	6	—19
Houston	7	7	6	13	—33

Annual Twin City Open Golf Tourney Starts Friday

McGuire Park Golf Club, West Monroe, Scene Of Second Yearly Meet; Henry Costello Will Defend Title He Won In 1951

Plans and preparations have been completed for the Second Annual Twin City Open Golf Tournament to be played at beautiful McGuire Park Golf Club, West Monroe, December 5, 6 and 7.

The tournament will be a 54-hole medal contest over the well-trapped, pine tree-studded, narrow fairwayed championship course.

Prizes and cash totaling $1,500—$500 to the leading professional—will be awarded to the leading pros and amateurs. Cash will be given to the top seventeen pros and the eight lowest amateurs will receive prizes.

The golfer shooting the lowest score each day will receive $25 (amateur $25 in merchandise).

There also will be prizes given to the three longest knockers in a driving contest, cash to the pros and merchandise to the amateurs. Driving contest will be held Saturday afternoon.

Henry Costello, Alexandria C. C. professional, last year's winner with a 2-under-par 214, will be on hand to defend his title, along with many other prominent amateur and professional golfers from all over Louisiana, Mississippi, Arkansas and other parts of the country.

Jimmy McGonagill, Louisiana state amateur champ, and Eddie Merrins, Mississippi state titleholder, who finished in a tie for first place among the simon pures last year with a score of 219, have already entered and will be on hand to try to cop the cup.

Coming up from L. S. U. with Merrins will be the long, straight knocking Bert Weaver, recent winner of the P. G. O. tournament in Bastrop at the Morehouse Golf and Country Club where he set a new competitive course record of 65, 7 strokes under par figures.

Weaver finished third in the Twin City Open last year with a score of 220, after being tied for the lead in the opening round with a fine 69, 3 under par, and is figured to be well up among the leaders.

Also representing the L. S. U. golf team will be Sophomore Jackie Doss, playing in his own back yard, and Tommy Morrow, of Shreveport.

Doss finished well up the list last year with a score of 225 and Morrow was one shot back with a 226.

Tommy Beard, also of the L. S. U. golf team, is expected to be a participant.

One of the most renown golfers entered at this date is Pro Felice Torza, who has finished well up in the money in several P. G. A. sponsored tournaments this year, and who is expected to give Costello and the field something to shoot at in order to win. Torza is one of the top favorites and is from St. Charles Country Club, St. Charles, Ill.

Another professional traveling a long distance to play in the weekend meet beginning Friday is Hugh "Tex" Ardoyno, pro, Dearborn Hills Golf and Country Club, Dearborn, Mich.

One of the most unique amateurs ever to participate in a golf meet in the Twin Cities is "Buddy" "Tex" Sprague, amateur from Ft. Worth, Tex., who is one of Uncle Sam's boys stationed at Alexandria, La.

"Buddy" is a fine golfer who got off to a bad start in the Labor Day meet at Bayou DeSiard Golf and Country Club, but he is expected to give a good account of himself at McGuire. His uniqueness comes from putting with a sand wedge, adopted while practicing sand trap shots in Texas.

Seventeen golfers have entered and assured the tournament committee of participation and there will also be quite a large contingent of local amateurs participating.

Golfers registered and entered to date are as follows:

Gibb Sellers, Hot Springs, Ark., professional.

Harold Williams, pro, Tuscaloosa, Ala.

E. S. "Shep" Girault, local businessman golfer.

Henry Costello, Alexandria Country Club pro, and defending champ.

Paul E. Farrington, pro from the Blytheville, Ark., Golf and Country Club.

Hugh "Tex" Ardoyno, Dearborn Hills Golf Club, Dearborn Hills, Mich., pro.

Milo Mattinson, professional at the Morehouse Golf and Country Club, Bastrop.

Johnny Stahl, pro at the National Park Golf Club, Vicksburg, Miss.

Everett J. Alleman, Canton, Miss., pro.

Jimmy Witcher, Marshall, Tex., pro.

"Buddy" Sprague, amateur from Ft. Worth, Tex.

Bib Menea, Pine Bluff, Ark., pro.

Bill Brewer, pro from Greggton, Tex.

Felice Torza, St. Charles Country Club pro, St. Charles, Ill.

Bert Weaver, Eddie Merrins, Jackie Doss, Tommy Morrow and probably Tommy Beard from L. S. U.'s golf team.

Professional Bob Crow.

Buck White, Greenwood, Miss., pro.

Gray Little pro from Lake Charles, La., Country Club.

Amateurs Alvin Dark, New York Giant star shortstop, Dick Watson and Dr. M. J. Bono, all from Lake Charles.

John Cockran, Greenwood, Miss., Country Club pro.

Winnie Cole, pro at the Bayou DeSiard Golf and Country Club.

John Finlay, host pro of the McGuire Park Golf Club, will also participate.

Muny Pro Britt will act as official starter.

OLE MISS TRIPS MAROONS, 20-14

Mississippi Fights Off Desperate Rally To Triumph

OXFORD, Miss., Nov. 29. (AP)—Sugar Bowl - bound Mississippi preserved its unbeaten record by beating Mississippi State, 20-14, here today as Fullback Pete Mangum stopped a desperate last period State drive with a pass interception.

A numb crowd of 28,000 sat in an intermittent drizzle and chill 35 degree temperature to watch the brilliant battle between the two arch and traditional Mississippi rivals.

Quarterback Jimmy Lear called flawless ball but he and his team mates were hard pressed to break up a determined fourth period drive by Mississippi State.

Jumping Jack Parker, States brilliant quarterback, was a star even in defeat and for personal laurels tied the Southeastern Conference touchdown record by making his 15th and 16th today.

Ole Miss victory gave the Sugar Bowl two unbeaten teams, the only major bowl with such a contest. Mississippis New Years Day opponent in New Orleans, Georgia Tech, defeated Georgia 23-9 to end its season with a perfect record of 11 victories. Mississippi was twice tied, by Kentucky, 13-13, and by Vanderbilt, 21-21.

The win was a team victory for the Ole Miss Rebels shared by every man.

Mississippi opened the scoring in the first period after failing to cash in on a State fumble on the initial kickoff. The score came when Lear crashed four yards to the end zone. Lear failed to convert.

Ole Miss worked its second touchdown on long dashes by Alan Muirnead, Wilson Dillard, Lear and Dick Westerman to the Mississippi State four. Muirhead took a pitch out and neaty worked himself across. Lear kicked the point to give Ole Miss a half time lead of 13-0.

State was a different team after the half. Parker engineered a ground and air touchdown within six minutes of the third period, lugging the last foot himself. He also booted the extra point.

Just 28 seconds later Ole Miss Fullback Harol Lofton on the first scrimmage play after States score broke loose for a 77 - yard dash to the goal line and Lear kicked the point.

The battling Maroons with Parker at the helm cashed in again with the elusive quarterback dancing the final 15 yards to score. Parker also converted to give State all their 14 total points.

Score by quarters:

Miss. State	0	0	14	0—14
Mississippi	6	7	7	0—20

Mississippi State scoring: touchdowns, Parker 2. Conversions, Parker 2.

Mississippi scoring: touchdowns, Lear, Muirhead, Lofton. Conversions, Lear 2.

3 Basketball Leagues Slate Organizational Sessions Here Tuesday

More definite steps toward organization of three of the basketball leagues to be sponsored here this winter by the Monroe Recreation department will be taken at meetings here Tuesday night.

Jack Hesketh, recreation director, announced yesterday that a joint meeting of the Midget and Junior Basketball Leagues will be held Tuesday night at 6:30 o'clock at the Monroe Recreation Center, and that a meeting of City League interests will follow immediately after at 7:30 o'clock.

All teams planning to participate in Midget, Junior or City circuit play this winter should have representatives present at the meeting, Hesketh said.

Oklahoma Refuses 'Mercy Bowl' Tilt With Spartans

STILLWATER, Okla., Nov. 29. (AP)—The University of Oklahoma will not consider a proposed "Mercy Bowl" game with Michigan State, it was announced here today.

The game was suggested by sports editor Al Tostado of the Humboldt Times, Eureka, Calif., who proposed the game with admission to be a pint of blood for servicemen in Korea.

Harold Keith, Oklahoma publicist here for the Oklahoma - Oklahoma A. & M. college game, said the Sooners will abide by Big Seven Conference rules which prohibit any bowl games. Keith pointed out that Oklahoma coach Bud Wilkinson will coach a bowl game at Honolulu and that Oklahoma seniors will play in several all - star games at the end of the season.

Earlier a Michigan State official had said that school and Big Ten Conference rules would make the game impossible.

Unbeaten Tech Defeats Georgia U., 23-9, In Final Ten Minutes Of Game

Engineers Come From Behind To Score Winning Touchdown

ATHENS, Ga., Nov. 29 (AP)—Georgia Tech came alive in the last quarter today and whipped Georgia, 23-9, but not until after Zeke Bratkowski' passes had run the undefeated Engineers ragged for most of the game.

Two touchdowns in the last 10 minutes broke open a hard-fought game which could have gone either way until that time. It was the Engineers' 16th straight victory.

Tech, completing its first perfect season in 24 years, was scared and didn't care who knew it. In the last quarter, leading 10-7, Tech stopped a Georgia drive at the 3. After two quarterback sneaks without success, Tech sub signal-caller Pepper Rodgers deliberately grounded the ball in the end zone, making it 10-9 Tech. The safety enabled Tech to get a free kick from the 20.

The Sugar Bowl bound Engineers the nation's third-ranked eleven, simply were afraid to risk a blocked kick so near the goal at that stage of the game. A little later a pass interception gave Tech another touchdown and the pressure was off.

The victory gave Tech the Southeastern Conference title for the first time since Bobby Dodd became head coach in 1945. Tech and Tennessee shared the crown in 1951.

Georgia battled the highly - favored Engineers on even terms or better until the closing minutes. Bratkowski's passes were particularly effective. His favorite target, Harry Babcock, suffered a broken cheek bone in the second quarter but Bratkowski had no trouble hitting John Carson and Art DeCarlo as alternates.

Tech missed badly the ball-lugging ability of its star halfback, Leon Hardeman. Hardeman reinjured an ankle sprain the second time he carried the ball and was out for the rest of the game.

Georgia's running backs—Bobby Dellinger, Charlie Madison and Bob (Foots) Clemens—were primed for Tech and balanced off the Brat's passing neatly. Bratkowski completed 15 of 26 passes for 134 yards.

Glenn Turner, Dick Pretz and Billy Teas spearheaded Tech's ground game.

102,000 Watch Navy Win 3rd Straight Grid Tussle From Battered Army, 7-0

Fullback Franco Leads Midshipmen In Defensive Battle

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 29 (AP)—Fred Franco, a churning workhorse of a fullback, and a defense that held like stanchions of steel gave Navy its third straight football victory over Army today, 7-0, in a fierce, fumbling battle before President Truman and a crowd of 102,000 at Municipal Stadium.

The hard - hitting Midshipmen were denied the satisfaction of a larger margin of victory when Army's beaten and battered forward wall stopped Franco on the Army half-yard line as the gun ended the game.

Franco, a 185-pounder from Newport, R. I., set up the day's only score with a spectacular 45-yard burst in the opening period which launched a 66-yard lightning sortie.

With the ball on the Navy 34, Franco slashed outside his own left tackle and broke into the clear, storming to the Army 21 before he was brought down from behind by Army's John Krobock.

Franco's running mate, sophomore Phil Monahan of Burlingame, Calif., smashed 19 yards to the 2 and on the third try bulled across for the score. Nee Snyder of Lafayette, Ind., kicked the conversion and that was the day's ball game, although opportunities—like loose footballs—flew thick and fast thereafter.

Franco, playing his last game for the Midshipmen, carried the ball 34 times and rolled up 144 yards on the ground in one of this ancient spectacle's greatest offensive displays.

Army, still feeling the effects of the cribbing scandal which wrecked its mighty squad some 13 months ago, brought its supporters to their feet with two brilliant goal-line stands in the opening period and one brief offensive flurry in the fading minutes of the game.

But it was a hopeless cause for the Cadets this cold, raw day.

Navy's fierce defensive platoon rushed Army's Pete Vann with such force that the young Hamburg, N. Y., passer was constantly overshooting his target.

The third period was 13 minutes old before Army was able to muster a first down under its own steam. In all, the Cadets were limited to four first downs, only one by rushing, and to 55 yards rushing and 51 yards passing.

Navy, on the other hand, with Franco, Monahan and Don Fisher of Middleton, Pa., carrying most of the load, smashed through Army's reeling defense for 258 yards on the ground. Navy had only 65 yards passing, going into the air only nine times and completing six.

Tackling was of such a bone-rattling nature that there were 11 fumbles, eight of them by Navy. Navy lost five balls by fumbles and Army lost three.

A highlight in the play of the losing team was the stalwart defensive work of Ed Weaver, veteran defensive end from Kingston, N. Y.

Weaver pounced on two Navy fumbles and intercepted a pass near the end of the final quarter when Navy marched 45 yards to the Army 15. Weaver snagged the ball on the Army goal-line to end the threat.

Where Army's offensive platoon failed, the Cadets' defensive squad held its own against the big, bruising Navy squad.

Twice—once in the opening period and again in the fading minutes—the Cadets threw back Navy thrusts that carried to the Army 7-yard line.

This provided a moral victory for Army backers, whose team went into this 53rd service classic a 7 to 10-point underdog.

TALLULAH WHIPS OAK GROVE, 26-6

Trojans Score In Every Period To Trounce Tigers

TALLULAH, La., Nov. 29.—(Special)—The Tallulah Trojans ended their 1952 football season Wednesday night at Oak Grove when the forceful Trojans defeated the Tigers 26 to 6. The outcome of the conference game had no bearings on the Class A race.

Tallulah, losing only one conference game, tasted defeat three times in their rough 11-game schedule. The Trojans upset by Lake Providence, also lost to Greenville, Miss., and Neville. But the Trojans were by far the superior in the other seven games, especially Winnsboro and Delhi, who had favorite teams. The Trojans racked up a total of 249 points to 126 for their opponents during the season.

The tremendous quarterbacking and running of "DoDo" Crothers delt misery to the Tigers as he netted 160 yards rushing. R. Powell, 145 - pound guard, ripped through the line to star in erupting the passing attack of Oak Grove. Lee, Bonar, Hill and Torrence led the vicious Tigers that never gave up.

Tallulah took an early lead and added a score in every period, while Oak Grove scored only in the first quarter. The Trojans' powerhouse netted 377 yards rushing and 31 by air, completing three of 13 passes. The Tigers were held to 99 yards on the ground but completed five of 17 passes for 90 yards.

Tallulahs' forceful play was also shown in first downs with 24 while the Tigers could account for only seven.

Gardner ran nine yards for the Trojans' first TD. Brown plunged three yards for a second-quarter tally. Halback added the third score in the third frame and Dahlhauser the final touchdown in the final period, each running a yard for the scores. Crothers ran one extra point and Laird converted for the other. Torrence scored the lone Tiger tally in the first period when he took a 10 yard pass from Bonar and ran the remaining five yards.

San Diego Tars Become Two Bowl Guests With 27-21 Marine Victory

SAN DIEGO, Calif., Nov. 29 (AP)—The San Diego Naval Training Center today became a two-bowl team as former Vanderbilt University end Bucky Curtis started the scoring that led to a 27-21 victory over the San Diego Marine Corps Recruit Depot.

By their victory, the Bluejackets won the right to meet Bolling Air Force Base of Washington, D. C., in the Poinsettia Bowl here Dec. 20 for the Armed Services championship.

They already had been invited to play in the Salad Bowl game at Phoenix, Ariz., New Year's Day.

Curtis was on the end of a two-pass play in the first two minutes of the game that was good for 75 yards and a touchdown.

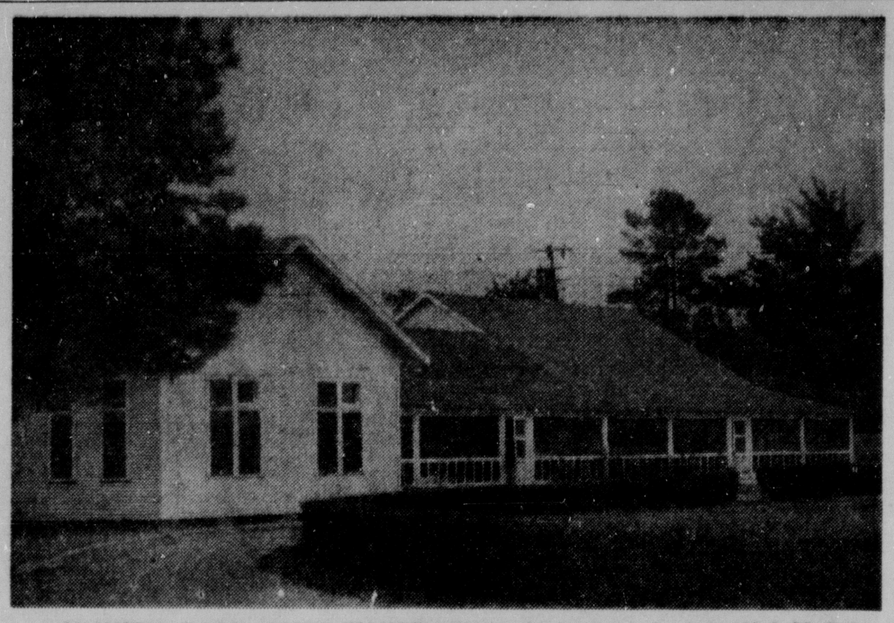

The Marines fought back gamely but never were able to catch up.

Chuck Davey Agrees To Cleveland Bout Dec. 10 But Vs. Different Man

—Chuck Davey agreed today to fight in the Cleveland News Toyshop boxing show—but against Fitzie Pruden, not Del Flanagan.

The unbeaten Michigan welterweight contender balked after Ed Bang, News sports columnist, announced he was matched against Flanagan. Davey, an instructor at Michigan State, said he and the Minneapolis boxer had the same style and that it would not have been a "good fight."

Both he and Flanagan are "spoilers" and "stalkers," he added. Davey also said he was too heavy now to train down to 147 pounds for Flanagan.

Bang said Davey suggested the names of three welterweight be put in a hat, and he would fight the boxer whose name was pulled first. Pruden's was the name.

Pruden, said Davey, uses a stand-up style.

Pruden, from Patterson, N. J., originally was booked against Joey Brown of New Orleans in a 10-rounder on the Dec. 10 show. Bang said another opponent would be found for Flanagan.

DEATH TOLL RISES TO 37 IN PLANE CRASH

TACOMA, Wash., Nov. 29 (AP)—The death toll in Friday's predawn crash of a military transport from Alaska rose to 37 today.

Airman 3-C Bobby R. Wilson of Ft. Worth, Tex., died of the multiple skull fractures and burns he suffered in the crash in darkness and fog a mile from McChord Air Force Base. Wilson had been the lone survivor of the seven-man crew from the Great Falls, Mont., air base.

The two other survivors remained in critical condition at hospitals.

They are Curtiss Redd, an Air Force passenger, of Fairfax, S. C., and Joseph Iacovitt, 8, of Bridgeport, Pa. Joseph's parents, Lt. and Mrs. Anthony R. Iacovitti, his two brothers and a sister died in the flaming crash.

MORSE BACK IN GOP FOLD

Oregon Senator Gives Republicans Control Over Senate

WASHINGTON, Nov. 29 (AP)—Sen. Wayne Morse of Oregon, who bolted the Republican party in the presidential campaign said today he would vote with Republicans on organization of the new Senate.

Morse said he would take that course so that Republicans would have full responsibility for the government under President - elect Eisenhower.

His long awaited decision bolsters GOP control over the Senate. Republicans already had 48 seats, Democrats 47, with Morse listed as an independent.

STATE POLICE

Thirty persons were arrested by members of Troop F, Louisiana State Police, during the past week. Of this number, only three were charged with operating a vehicle while under the influence of intoxicating liquors.

Other leading offenses were reckless driving, speeding and no drivers license.

Dulles To Begin Sweeping Study Of Foreign Policy

WASHINGTON, Nov. 29 (AP)—John Foster Dulles, who will be President - elect Eisenhower's secretary of state, is due here Wednesday to begin a sweeping study of U. S. foreign policy and operations all over the world.

It was learned today that Dulles plans to call on Secretary of State Acheson, if he is back from the der-Secretary of State David Bruce and Defense Secretary Lovett. It is understood that he will divide his time during the months of December and January, up to the advent of the Republican administration, between Washington and Gen. Eisenhower's headquarters in New York.

Under instructions from President Truman to give the incoming Cabinet officers complete co-operation, the State Department has prepared detailed studies of its activities in preparation for Dulles' arrival, Altogether he will be presented with copies of five volumes of information, including three which President Truman gave Eisenhower at their White Houce conference two weeks ago. The five volumes cover:

1. The organization and functioning of the State Department and its relationships with other departments and agencies as well as a description of duties imposed by law and tradition on the secretary of state.

2. The facts on top problems confronting the State Department, country - by - country around the world. The department's political officers, as well as its economic and other experts, have been at work on preparation of this volume for several weeks.

3. A study of various danger spots in the world, such as Berlin, Iran, Indochina and Korea. This volume was worked up jointly by the Defense and State Departments and the Central Intelligence Agency in advance of Gen. Eisenhower's conference with President Truman.

5. A country - by - country summary, worked up by the National Security Council on United States policies and the actions which have been taken in recent years to carry out those policies. This volume obviously parallels the country-by-country problem analysis prepared especially for Dulles by the State Department.

Boy And Dog Reach Safety After 14-Hour Nightmare

FORT WALTON, Fla., Nov. 29 (AP)—A three-year-old boy and his dog who shivered through 14 hours together while adrift on Choctawhatchee Bay were safe, sound, and together again today.

Missie, a brown and white spotted dog, licked happily at her masters hand as little James Adairo lay in bed recovering from exposure to the bitter-cold bay air.

The dog, part spitz, barked until it attracted members ot an Eglin Air Force Base search crew to the shore where the skiff had drifted.

The boy was rushed to the Eglin hospital for treatment, but in the confusion his faithful companion was left behind.

A crew of volunteer searchers went back into the wooded area to look for Missie, but it was not until last night that the dog answered the familiar call of the boys grandfather. She scampered from her hiding place in some bushes near the bay.

Public information officers at Eglin Air Force Base said the incident began Thanksgiving morning when James' mother, Mrs. Ruth Adairo, 24, was thrown out of the fishing skiff into the bays choppy water.

Robert Glass, 23, Eglin civilian employe who had taken the Adairos fishing, jumped in after her and the boat drifted away.

Mrs. Adairo and Glass were found clinging to a target buoy by an Eglin boat squadron about 6:30 that evening. The search for James and Missie got under way and the pair were found about midnight 15 miles away.

S-Sgt. John Cornett, of Hindman, Ky., said he had to pry James stiff fingers from the side of the skiff.

Eglin hospital authorities released James today. When he went home in the automobile, Missie was on the seat with him.

Beer-Fed Tallulah Steer Wins At Live Stock Show

CHICAGO, Nov. 29 (AP)—A beer-fed Hereford steer from Tallulah, La., today beat out 79 teetotaling members of the breed to win a blue ribbon at the International Live Stock Exposition.

The steer, a summer yearling named 4-B Ike, was picked as the outstanding Hereford of 80 in his class in the junior feeding contest. His owner is 12-year-old Jim Brown, son of Charles M. Brown, who operates a 1,562 acre Polled-Hereford ranch near Tallulah.

The elder Brown, president of the Louisiana Hereford and the Polled-Hereford Associations, said he's been giving his show cattle beer for a dozen years—in moderation that is.

He said the foamy liquid is an excellent method of filling out show animals for a brief time when they are off their feed and refuse to eat or drink.

From two to 12 bottles will cause a steer with hollow spots to blossom out and show to better effect, Brown said.

In his 12 years of showing prize Herefords, Brown said he has never shown a steer that was really intoxicated.

"Sometimes they get a little sleepy and stagger a bit, but none have ever got out of hand. The effects of the beer usually wear off in about an hour," he said.

The animals aren't particularly fond of beer. Their handlers usually have to force them to take it, using a syringe to get it down their throats.

Young Brown's winning steer wasn't carrying an alcoholic breath today. He'd been eating well and his handlers decided it wasn't necessary.

But last month, the elder Brown said, 4-B Ike was given a goodly portion of the stuff just before he was named champion steer at the Louisiana State Fair in Shreveport.

He also was on a beer diet in September when he won the steer championship at the Mississippi-Louisiana Exposition at Vicksburg, Miss.

But the Brown family has another Hereford—with hollow spots—which is scheduled to gulp down several bottles of the amber fluid before he enters the judging ring at the International.

The animal belongs to Brown's younger son, Dick, 10, and will compete against 75 other Hereford junior yearlings.

THREE ARRESTED FOR BURGLARY

Admit Breaking Into 14 West Monroe, One Monroe Place

Three Negroes, two of them juveniles, were being held in the Ouachita parish jail Saturday after the three admitted breaking into fourteen West Monroe businesses and one Monroe store. The three were caught late Friday afternoon.

Working together on the case were members of the Ouachita parish sheriff office, West Monroe police department and city detectives of the Monroe police department.

One Negro youth arrested was identified as James Chappel, 17. The two juveniles were not identified. They were turned over to the parish juvenile officer. The trio admitted breaking into the 15 businesses in the Twin Cities and attempted to enter three others in Monroe during the past year. They were apprehended while trying to break into the Stag Shop, West Monroe.

A large quantity of clothing taken from Dyar's Department Store and Vogue Cleaners in West Monroe was recovered as was merchandise from R. C. Brown in Monroe and a wristwatch from Williams Pharmacy, West Monroe.

Stores broken into and burglarized were: R. C. Brown, Monroe, and Grant and Jones Service Station, Quality Cleaners, Economy Auto Suppiy, Hogan's Grocery, Vogue Cleaners, Jackson Hardware, Scott's Flower Shoppe, Eyre Motor Co., Powell's Garage, Williams Pharmacy and Dyars Department Store, in West Monroe. Both Dyars and Vogue Cleaners were entered twice, the youths told officers.

Jacques Fath Held By Immigration Service

NEW YORK ,Nov. 29 (AP)—Jacques Fath, internationally known French designer of women's clothes, arrived here today by plane only to be taken into custody by the immigration service.

The designer of clothes for some of the world's most fashion-conscious women was whisked in a launch from Idlewild Airport to Ellis Island for detention.

Immigration officials declined to explain the basis for the action. They said he would be held at least until Monday when the question of his admissibility would be studied by a board of special inquiry.

The 40-year-old Fath regularly makes trips to this country to arrange showings and sales of his fashions which are handled by several major department stores throughout the country.

ENDING BASIC—Huey D. Smith, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Smith, Rt. No. 1, Simsboro, La., is completing his AF basic airmen indoctrination course Lackland Air Force Base, the "Gateway to the Air Force."

JUDD WOMAN RECAPTURED

Trunk Murdress Taken After 48 Hours Of Freedom

PHOENIZ, Ariz., Nov. 29 (AP) — Winnie Ruth Judd, the crafty killer who broke out of the Arizona State Hospital on a chill Thanksgiving Day evening, was captured here tonight after 46 hours of freedom.

Wily Winnie, red-haired murderess of 21 years ago, was found hiding in a closet at the home of her guardian, Mrs. Fay Harvey.

Vic Soule and Gene Geiger, Phoenix detectives, found her cowering under a pile of clothes, her legs pulled in under her, her back against the wall.

"Why don't you leave me alone?" she begged as the clothes were snatched away.

"Please let me stay for awhile. I want to get a job and see some people. I'm tired of being locked up."

Internal Revenue Bureau Completes Reorganization

WASHINGTON, Nov. 29 (AP)—Secretary of the Treasury Snyder will deliver a well-worn address at Cleveland Monday morning, then fly off to Detroit and give the speech once more, thereby closing out national reorganization of the Bureau of Internal Revenue.

Cleveland will be the 16th new federal tax district set up under a national reorganization plan accepted by Congress last year, and Detroit the 17th and last. The shakeup followed widespread scandals in the revenue bureau.

Snyder first gave his speech at the first new district headquarters, established at Chicago last May 20, and, with variations for local emphasis, has repeated it in practically all the tax districts and at the reorganization of national headquarters in Washington.

In proposing the plan to Congress, President Truman said it was aimed at taking the tax bureau out of politics and streamlining it, the better to carry its now huge tax collecting and policing jobs.

The plan divided the nation into not more than 27 tax districts (the reorganizers finally settled on 17), each district to be headed by an entirely new tax official—district commissioner of internal revenue.

Under the district commissioner, directors of internal revenue replaced the 64 politically appointed collectors. Selection of district commissioners and the directors, as well as their assistants, was placed in the hands of civil service. Thus, all bureau employes and officials, with the exception of the commissioner in Washington, became civil service, rather than political, employes.

District headquarters, in order of their establishment, are:

Chicago (Illinois and Wisconsin); New York City; Baltimore (Virginia, West Virginia, Maryland, District of Columbia); Buffalo (upstate New York); Boston (Massachusetts, Connecticut, Rhode Island, Vermont, New Hampshire, Maine); St. Paul (Iowa, Minnesota, Nebraska, North and South Dakota); Louisville (Indiana, Kentucky, Tennessee); Atlanta (Florida, Georgia, North and South Carolina); Seattle (Washington, Oregon, Idaho, Montana, Territory of Alaska); Philadelphia (Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Delaware); Dallas (Oklahoma, Texas; St. Louis (Arkansas, Kansas, Missouri); Birmingham (Alabama, Louisiana, Mississippi); Denver (Arizona, Colorado, New Mexico, Utah, Wyoming; Los Angeles, (California, Nevada, Hawaii); Detroit (Michigan); Cleveland (Ohio).

The plan resulted in some 439 new field officials—17 district commissioners, 102 assistant district commissioners (six per district), 64 directors and 256 assistants to the directors (four for each director). In addition, three assistant commissioners were installed in Washington, with 14 assistants named to them. Nearly all the high and middle rank appointments went to career bureau officers, of medium rank, such as inspector, revenue agent in charge, or special revenue agent. Most had 15 years experience or more.

Examination of the completed roster of new officials today showed that 15 of the former collectors kept their jobs, merely changing their titles to director.

Also, three former high Washington revenue bureau officials got jobs as district commissioners. These included John B. Dunlap, who left his job as national commissioner to return to Dallas, Tex. where he had once been collector, to become district commissioner.

Dunlap got $15,000 a year as commissioner, and gets $13,500 as district commissioner, but he exchanged a political appointment almost certain to die with the new administration, for a return to the career service he left to come to Washington. Dunlap has been with the bureau 19 years, with four years out for military service. He had been commissioner 15 months, and had presided over the bureau's investigation of its own employes in the face of congressional criticism as well as reorganization. Practically all his previous service had been in Texas, mostly in the Dallas area.

Frank Lohn, bureau crime buster, left his post as director of the bureau's intelligence division to become district commissioner at Denver. He headed an investigation in 1939 to 1941 that resulted in conviction of Louisiana's Gov. Richard Leche for tax fraud, and later scored against officials and mobsters in Wichita, Kan. and Kansas City, Mo. Lohn has been with the bureau, always in intelligence work, for 25 years.

Stewart Berkshire, head of the bureau's appeals staff in San Francisco, became district commissioner at Los Angeles. Berskshire is a career bureau officer, with 18 years of service. He was assistant national commissioner from 1946 to 1948, before he went to San Francisco.

MAN OUT-EATS HORSE

DAVIS, Calif. (AP)—For his size, man puts away more food than the horse, says an animal husbandman at the University of California.

Carroll E. Howell, in commenting on the statement that a mature human eats 16 times his body weight in a year, claims that a hard-working horse given liberal allowances of food every day could eat only eight or nine times its weight in a year.

Santa Claus Delivers Eight-Pound Baby Boy

Santa Claus delivered a baby boy to Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Archer of Nicholson.

Dr. S. S. Kety was playing the role of Santa Claus at the annual Picayune Christmas parade last night when he received an urgent call from Mrs. Archer.

The doctor didn't have time to change his clothes so he attended the birth in full costume.

The boy weighed eight pounds, six ounces and was reported doing well.

JAPAN GETS TV JOB

TOKYO (AP)— Japan will start turning out 2,000 television and radar tubes for an American company, starting in February.

A $500,000 contract to mass-produce electronic tubes was signed by the Tokyo Shibaura Electric Co. and the Eimo Co. of the Untied States.

Faces Two Charges After Auto Mishap

James Edwin Smith, 44, 909 Cole Avenue, was arrested late Friday night on charges of driving while under the influence of intoxicating liquor and operating a motor vecle in a criminally negligent manner. He was placed under a $450 bond.

Police officers reported that Smith was traveling west on Louisville Avenue and rammed into the rear of a stopped automobile driven by Eugene Haney. Haney's car had been involved in an accident a few minutes prior to the time Smith struck his car and was standing still when the accident occurred, police said.

Haney was taken to St. Francis hospital suffering from cuts about the face received in the previous accident, but was released Friday night.

Mrs. Venable Has Lamkin H. D. Club

Mrs. Euna Spielman met with the Lamkin Home Demonstration Club Nov. 11 in the home of Mrs. T. L. Venable.

Mrs. Spielman gave a demonstration on flower arrangement, the materials used were coleus, red chrysanthemums, pyrancantha cedar, and red roses. The demonstration was most instructive and the arrangements were beautiful. A covered dish lunch was enjoyed at noon. After luncheon a business meeting was held. Final plans were made for the project of the year. A Christmas party will be given for the pre - school age boys and girls. The club enjoyed the pleasant contact with Mr. Black, the matrons, and the children at the home.

Election of officers for the coming year was held and it was voted to have the officers serve for a two year period. The following were re-elected, Mrs. Irwin Waller, president, Mrs. L. S. Dean, vice president, Mrs. E. M. Sanders, secretary and treasurer, Mrs. J. D. Collier reporter. The year books were distributed and leaders were selected and meeting places decided on. The club resolved to make the 1953 year a better year.

The December meeting will be held in the home of Mrs. L. L. Dean. All members are urged to attend, as Christmas will be the theme of the day. Mrs. Venable served coffee and cake to Mrs. Irwin Waller, Mrs. L. L. Dean, Mrs. E. N. Sanders, Mrs. C. C. Beadles, Mrs. J. D. Collier, Mrs. D. L. Beavers, Mrs. E. M. Ormond, Mrs. Pat McHenry, and guests were Mrs. Jesse Ball and Mrs. Ernest Venable.

December Bride Feted With Shower

Miss Betty Jane Harrop, of Tallulah, bride-elect of Mr. John Frederick Halton, whose wedding on December 7 will be of interest here, was delightfully complimented on Tuesday afternoon with a miscellaneous shower at the home of Mrs. Glenn R. Whetstone. Cohostesses with Mrs. Whetstone were Mrs. I. M. Heflin, Mrs. J. W. Deason, Mrs. W. E. Butler and Mrs. H. J. Jones.

Receiving with the honoree and hostesses were Mrs. A. H. Harrop, mother of the bride-to-be, who wore a black dress with a corsage of red carnations. For the occasion Miss Harrop wore a becoming dress of beige faille with which she wore white carnations. Mrs. Vonsell Sharpe had charge of the bride's book.

Fragrant pine branches in large brass jardinieres decorated the reception rooms, and the tea table was especially attractive with a silver epergne filled with lavender chrysanthemums and pink carnations. Graceful folds of pink tulle, caught at intervals with sprays of chrysanthemums, were arranged around the outer edge of the polished table. Miss Sylvia Cosse presided at the crystal punch bowl and was assisted by Miss Margaret Ann Deason and Miss Gloria Sue Deason in serving dainty and delicious sandwiches, salted pecans and confections.

Miss Harrop was the recipient of many lovely gifts in her chosen patterns of china and crystal as well as linens, etc. Over sixty friends called during the appointed hours.

Cheniere Club Meets With Mrs. McDonald

The Cheniere Home Demonstration Club met with Mrs. M. B. McDonald with eleven members present and one visitor.

The meeting was called to order by the president. Reports were given by Mrs. C. C. Street and flower arrangements by Mrs. Pigot. New officers were appointed for the coming year. Mrs. Elaine Newton was elected president, Mrs. Thelma Frost, vice - president, Bernice Owens, secretary - treasurer, and Alice Davis, reporter. Council members are Fay Lowery and Alice Davis. Home management leader, Beatrice Mann, Home Furnishing, Audie Street, Garden and Landscape, Virgil Parsons, Garden, Vegetable, Audie Street, poultry, Mrs. J. E. Rainer, food preservation, Mattie Portman, food preparation, Mrs. M. B. McDonald, nutrition, Eula Mae Calloway, clothing, Cora Carter, citizenship, Mattie Portman, safety and health, Maurine Hudnall, consumer education, Maurine Hudnall, recreation, Mrs. Owens and Mrs. Mann, song leader, Mrs. Mann, 4-H, Fay Lowery, family life, Mrs. Rainer, historian, Mattie Portman.

The next meeting will be held December 11 at the home of Mrs. McDonald.

Connecticut in 1875 established the first State agricultural experiment station.

Clay-tile production in the United States for the first six months of 1952 totaled more than 65,550,000 square feet — enough for at least 554,600 average-size bathrooms.

La Vingt Club Members Plan Christmas Luncheon

The regular meeting of the La Vingt Club was held recently at the home of Mrs. Robert C. Butz. The president, Mrs. W. R. Crow, called the meeting to order and the club collect was read in unison. Mrs. Crow then welcomed the guests.

Minutes of the last meeting were read and approved.

A brief business meeting was held during which plans for the annual Christmas party and luncheon were discussed.

The president then turned the meeting over to Mrs. T. H. Scott, who introduced Father William Allison, guest speaker. Father Allison spoke on "Religion as a Positive Way of Life." Father Allison said in part, "Religion is not a negative thing, not a series of don'ts. On the contrary, religion is a positive way of living, of doing, of being. When we realize fully that religion is a way of living which leads to complete happiness, then we will live that religion to its fullest possibilites because of out innate desire for happiness." . . . "The don'ts in religion are simply the sign posts to keep us off the wrong way of life, but more so to keep us going on the right way to joy and peace."

"God can create nothing bad, so we know that all things that are, are good. It is man's abuse or wrong use of things that make that evil. In religion, in its true positive sense, we learn to regard the reflection of God's own goodness, truth and beauty in all those things which will make us happy here and hereafter.

"Any negativistic philosophy of life leads ultimately to its very name. negativism; that is nothingness. There is nothing that tends to make a man more miserable or filled with wrath than to have nothing for which to strive, or as negativism essentially teaches, this philosophy will lead to emptiness, forlornness, or fanally despair."

Following the program, the hostess served a delicious dessert course to the guests, Mrs. Lucian Harris, Father Allison, and the following members: Mrs. W. R. Crow, Mrs. Bruce Brooks, Mrs. Earl F. Stovall, Mrs. F. G. Le Moyne, Mrs. Harold Fink, Mrs. George Phebus, Mrs. A. D. Bernhardt, Mrs. T. H. Scott, Mrs. R. F. Seiler, Mrs. W. O. Webb and Mrs. A. Petrus.

Mrs. Malone Hostess To Club

Due to the continued drouth this was indeed a hard time to give a demonstration on flower arrangements, but Mrs. Euna Spielman did this at the home of Mrs. Pearl Malone on Monday November 3.

She gave six steps in flower arrangements and many useful helps in each step. One of the outstanding hints was the use of the material at hand, rather than the buying of costly ones. She chose for her demonstration the simple foliage from the woods, wild huckleberry, and beautiful red berries. With these and her simple containers, she was able to make two beautiful arrangements.

Officers for the coming year were elected and plans were made for the Christmas meeting to be held at the home of Mrs. Ross Garland. Refreshments were served to the following: Mrs. B. O. Avant, Mrs. Clyde Garland, Mrs. Ada Spillers, Mrs. Albert Malone, Mrs. Carl Jordan, Mrs. Arthur Albritton, Mrs. J. T. Whitlock, Mrs. W. J. Jordan Jr., Mrs. Ellis Aulds, Roy Avant, Freddie Hooter, Joyce Albritton, Margaret Ann Malone, Diane and Skippy Fife and Mrs. Euna D. Spielman.

Bono Nostrorum Club Meets With Mrs. Murray

The Bono Nostrorum Club of Mangham held its November meeting in the home of Mrs. H. L. Murray, with Mrs. Homer Boughton as co-hostess.

The president, Mrs. T. G. McKay, called the meeting to order, and introduced the first speaker, Mrs. M. K. McConnell, who gave a very interesting biography of Elizabeth, the uncrowned queen of England. Mrs. McConnell used as the basis of her talk. "The Little Princesses," by Marion Crawford. She also drew from current magazines and newspapers for more recent information.

Miss Crawford's appealingly human account of Elizabeth and her young sister relates their childhood in the home of their happy parents before it occurred to anyone that the crown would be placed upon the head of either father or daughter.

For their children these wise parents wanted a happy childhood with fond memories stored up, wise guidance and training under their own and their governess's direction, and happy marriages. Miss Crawford, the governess, then relates the tedious task of guiding the children over the turbulent time of the abdication of their beloved uncle; the momentous change in their lives; the years in Buckingham Palace before the war; the trying years of the war, when Princess Elizabeth drove a Red Cross van through bomb-shattered London during black-outs; the years of her courtship, her marriage to Philip and the birth of her son and heir. This little book is dedicated to the people of America with the hope that the two nations may be drawn closer together in understanding and sympathy.

Since the subject of the meeting was international relations, our chairman for this division, Mrs. E. D. Baker, gave a report saying in part that as the world is knit together today there is nowhere American influence does not count, nowhere it may not be markedly beneficient. Nothing demonstrates that more clearly than the sense of vacuum created when America, for a brief interval, marked time in her diplomatic activity.

The French have been financially embarrassed by the United States refusal of a contribution of six hundred million dollars; the U. S. declaring that five hundred twenty - five million is the maximum amount available. Also the French resent our attitude toward the North African nationalists. Further, they have demanded that we supply more equipment for their forces in Indo-China.

The Americans are bitter over France's "obstructionist" position on European Army aid, and disillusioned by France's contribution to NATO. By the close of this year the U. S. will have poured into France nearly three billion in military aid alone. For all this France can show less than half its promised army ready to enter combat.

Every nation that we have assisted wants more, and is dissatisfied with what they are receiving. Where once they looked to us for their very life, they now evidence resentment of any dependence they have had on us. This is causing American tax payers to mutter about rank ingratitude.

Last week five U. S. allies charged us tariff on imported dairy products — a flagrant violation of world-wide agreement on tariffs and trade. The Dutch also slapped a tariff on U. S. flour imports. A comentary says all this shows the patient is getting well enough to feel cantankerous.

After the meeting was turned back to the president, she welcomed our new member, Mrs. C. J. Windham; then conducted a short business meeting during which she and Miss Watson made reports on the L. F. W. C. meeting held recently in Lafayette.

As there was no further business, the meeting was closed by reading the club collect.

Delicious refreshments were then served to the following guests: Mesdames A. K. Baker, T. G. McKay, Maude Parham, W. E. Hixon, B. N. Hixon, Mary Laird, R. M. McIntyre, E. T. Lee, J. D. Williams, M. K. McConnell, C. J. Windham, Misses Kate Talbert, Ethel Watson, and Virgie Evans.

Literary Club Meets In Mangham

The Mesdames R. B. and Felix Boughton were hostesses to the Mangham Literary Club at the November meeting. The profusion of autumn flowers used throughout the rooms of the R. B. Boughton home definitely added a note of cheer to the gathering.

The meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. Kenneth McDonald, and old and new business discussed. Mrs. O. E. Deville was welcomed back into the club, with the club's assurance that her talents and willingness to work had been greatly missed. Names were drawn for the exchanging of gifts at the Christmas party to be held in the Kenneth McDonald home on December 9.

Mrs. Bennie Hixon, leader, took charge, introducing the topic, "Fine Arts in Living." Mrs. Hixon stated that an appreciation of art is the result of understanding the art process, feeling its qualities, understanding its structure and its content.

Mrs. Bob Bell, Jr. discussed interestingly and at length the subject, "Furnishing with Color" with the sub - topic "Make Decorating Your Hobby." She said in part, "We are all home makers and although the housewife has little leisure time, she, too, should have some hobby. Your job is many-sided. You have to cook three meals a day; clothe your family and keep a house running in order. Decorating is a plus. It requires a plus in time and a plus in energy; but it will repay you many times ove because decorating is a live, creative thing. In making your home more attractive you not only provide a more gracious and congenial background for your family but you personally benefit and grow. Many people are starving their God - given sense of beauty. They are suppressing their creative instinct. They take what shops have to offer without applying any of their own individuality. This lack of inspiration in today's homes is too often due to fear of doing something wrong; to lack of knowledge of what to do; and, probably in many cases to sheer inertia, because it does take time and thought." Mrs. Bell's talk continued giving many helpful hints to the homemaker on how to secure beauty and make her home reflect the homemaker's personality.

Mrs. Bennie Hixon in a quiet, pleasant manner gave the group some information on the "Modern American Painting." She said, "Color is the most descriptive element of art structure. It is employed to create lines, forms, quality, to denote texture, suggest space, ideas, emotions and to portray moods. In addition to its use as an emotional stimulus, color is also used to portray standards of conduct. Art, like drama, is a world of "let's pretend" "make-believe" and "imagination."

The meeting was adjourned by repeating the club collect in unison.

Carolyn Apperson November Bride

The marriage of Miss Carolyn Apperson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Charles Apperson, to Mr. James Adams Conover Jr., ensign, United States Navy, was celebrated Tuesday in the Green Acres home of the bride's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Redmon. The Rev. Dana Dawson performed the ceremony.

The bride wore a champagne-color moire faille dress fashioned with a full, waltz-length skirt and a short jacket embroidered in seed pearls She also wore a close-fitting hat of the same color and carried a bouquet of bride's roses and lilies of the valley.

Miss Mary Redmon Catchings, the bride's cousin and only attendant, wore an iridescent green taffeta dress and carried a bouquet of chrysanthemums in shades of cream and rust.

Ensign Conover had as his best man Mr. William Auburn Hays Jr., also a cousin of the bride.

Following the ceremony there was a reception attended by members of the two families and a few close friends. The reception rooms were decorated with white roses and white stock.

The bride attended Louisiana State University, where she was a member of Kappa Kappa Gamma Sorority and of Alpha Lambda Delta honorary scholastic sorority. Her mother was before her marraige Miss Alma DeVernon Brown.

Ensign Conover graduated from Tulane University in June, where he was a member of Kappa Sigma Fraternity and of the Scabbard and Blade honorary military fraternity. His mother was the former Miss Miriam Bibus of Atlantic City N. J.

Later in the afternoon Ensign Conover and his bride left for a trip along the Gulf Coast, after which they will make their home in Norfolk, Va., where Ensign Conover is stationed.

Camellia Garden Club Meets With Mrs. Paylor

The Camellia Garden Club held their regular November meeting in the home of Mrs. John H. Paylor with Mrs. W. M. Hochstetler as co-hostess. The dining table was attractive with a beautiful arrangement of chrysanthemums.

The meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. Lloyd Miller. The business session was adjourned following reports given by committee chairmen.

Plans for the Christmas party were made and will be held at the home of Mrs. Cecil Jones.

The program was then turned over to Miss Maibel Hood, who spoke on "The Wrapping of Gifts." Miss Hood discussed the different types of packages to be wrapped. Some of the rules to follow are: to select the color he or she might like best; whether it is for a male or female, you also had a personal touch; there is the plain type package, tailored type for men, the modernistic type and using straws for children's packages. Miss Hood also demonstrated the different type of bows used.

Two new members were welcomed at this time, Mrs. Martha Albright and Mrs. Roberta Holdsworth.

After adjournment of the meeting delicious refreshments were served to the members and visitors who were: Mrs. E. N. Craven, Mrs. L. T. Harper, Mrs. J. R. Freeman, Miss Maibel Hood, Mrs. Jean Dinkle, Mrs. C. L. Harris, Mrs. W. A. Cornett, Mrs. Cecil Jones, Mrs. J. C. Magee, Mrs. Lloyd Miller, Mrs. Ola Mae Passman, Mrs. H. T. Poulan, Mrs. J. B. Renaud, Mrs. G. L. Thompson, Mrs. Earl Vigg, Mrs. William Simpson, and the hostesses, Mrs. John H. Paylor and Mrs. W. M. Hochstetler.

Jefferson, Lincoln, and Hayes, were the only U. S. Presidents who did not belong to a church.

Tea-Shower In Jones Honors Miss Dorothy Wallace, Bride-Elect

The country home of Mrs. Leon Doles on Bayou Bartholomew in Jones was the scene of a tea-shower, Monday, November 24 between the hours of 3 and 5 complimenting Miss Dorothy Wallace of Monroe, popular bride-elect of Tom Dillon of Jones and Monroe. This was another in the whirl of parties given Miss Wallace whose wedding was one of the major social events on Thanksgiving Day.

Graciously welcoming the guests at the door was the hostess, Mrs. Leon Doles who was wearing a black crepe model and a corsage of white mums. In the receiving line were Mrs. Hawkins Dillon, the bridegroom's - to - be mother, who presented the callers to Miss Wallace and her mother, Mrs. I. D. Wallace, Jr. Mrs. Dillon was wearing a frock of black crepe accented by a corsage of yellow carnations. Miss Wallace's brunette charm was enhanced by wearing a striking fall model of aqua velveteen complimented by a shoulder corsage of white mums. Mrs. Wallace was in black faille with a corsage of orchid mums.

The reception rooms were radiant with exotic arrangements of fall flowers and autumn foliage which were placed at vantage points. The mantel in the living room was particularly attractive as an autumn motif with an arrangement of candles in wrought iron candle holders. Centering these were clusters of pyracantha interwoven with ivy running the length of the mantel. Another artistic design of magnola leaves and chrysanthemums were used in profusion in smaller arrangements in the receiving rooms.

In the dining room refreshments were served from the long polished table which was overlaid with an exquisite white lace cloth and the magnificent arrangement that was the center of interest. An immense crystal punch bowl at one end was presided over by Miss Dot Dillon of Alexandria, sister of the bridegroom elect. Her waist corsage was of yellow chrysanthemums which was particularly distinctive on her dress of black velveteen. At the opposite end of the table were green and yellow candles in branched crystal candelabra that were flanked by green foliage and yellow mums, which served as an improvised altar as the background for a miniature bride and groom. Further carrying out the bridal motif were the refreshments of green and white. Assisting in serving the punch, mints, individual cakes and nuts which were arranged along the side of the table in crystal plates were Mrs. W. F. Doles, Jr. who was wearing a party dress of black puckered crepe and a corsage of yellow and orchid mums for the occasion.

Registering the guests who called was Mr. Dillon's aunt, Mrs. Louie Crook of Baton Rouge. Floating hostess was Mrs. David Doles. Each was wearing a black fall model and a corsage of white mums.

Congratulating the honoree and admiring the beautiful gifts that were attractively displayed and included an assortment of miscellaneous items, were Mesdames: Harry Crossley, Albert Tubbs, E. B. Floyd, Jr., George Howell, Julian Kinnaird, R. S. Bradford, G. G. Stell, Narvin Sawyer, P. D. McKoin, Jr., George Armstrong, Jr., Jessie Zackery, Mable Adams, J. G. Ferrell, W. F. Doles, Sr., Julian Hogan, and Miss Marie Stell of Jones; Mesdames: Leslie McKoin, Marvin McKoin, C. S. 'Share The Flower And Plant Project'

Miss Juanita Porter, chairman of this project, has announced that the "Share The Plant and Flower Project" will be held on Thursday December 4th, 1:00 p. m. to 5:00 p. m. Those who have plants or flowers to share will please bring them to the YWCA on Wednesday or Thursday morning or to contact the YWCA regarding the plants. Those who wish to get some of the plants or flowers will come to the Y on Thursday afternoon during the hours given for the project. This project is for the purpose of assisting those who have new homes to get plants, bulbs, or flowers for their yards.

YRG'S

The Thanksgiving motif was carried out in the table decorations and in the dining room for the supper for the YRG Club which met on Monday evening at the Y. Pearl Hopkins, vice president, presided at the meeting in the absence of the president, Frances McClary. Miss Bess Sharp gave the devotional: "Give Thanks, The Meaning of Thanksgiving, and Facts About Our Observance of Thanksgiving."

Y-Teens

On Monday afternoon the Honest Injuns' Club was held at the YWCA with Lillian Roddy, president, presiding. Carolyn Bass gave the devotional. The secretary, Lorna Montgomery read the minutes and called the roll. The treasurer, Mary Lou Trawick, gave a report and stated that all dues must be paid by the meeting on December 1st. Mary Ann Griffith, vice president and program chairman, was in charge of the Thanksgiving program. Those who took part on the program were: Jeanette Blackwell, Pam Roye, and Lorna Montgomery. Plans for the Christmas Party which the club will sponsor for all Y-Teens at the Recreation Center on Tuesday, December 23rd, were discussed. Sammie Camp is in charge of invitations.

The Lenwil Y-Teen Clubs took small boxes of fruit to the "older people and shut-ins" in their community, sang songs and said the Y-Teen motto for them. This is the annual Thanksgiving Service Project of the Lenwil Clubs.

Miro Book Club Hears Review By Mrs. Tidwell On 'Winston Churchill'

The last regular meeting of Miro Book Club was held in the home of Mrs. B. L. Mulhern, 1001 Milton Street with fourteen members present.

Mrs. D. M. Moore, president, called the meeting to order, the Collect was repeated in unison and the pledge of allegiance to the flag. Reports from the State Convention of Federated Clubs, held in Lafayette recently, were given, and Mrs. Moore's report on the last meeting of the local Health Council was also an interesting item on the business agenda.

Following the business session, the program chairman, Mrs. Thoman Jett introduced Mrs. R. L. Wood who reported on the Welfare as interpreted by the G. F. W. C. chairman, Mrs. Samuel Levy of Natchitoches. Mrs. Wood said that the aim of the Welfare department is "to help every man, woman and child to become physically strong and mentally alert in order that they may be useful American citizens, thus preserving our American heritage." She said that Mrs. Levy's particular department in Welfare is Health, and that she urges every club woman to have a complete physical check-up every year; to observe National Health day; to cooperate with local health units and take an active interest in health problems in our communities.

The second number on the program presented by Mrs. Jett was the book review, "Winston Churchill" by Robert Lewis Taylor, as given by Mrs. C. R. Tidwell, who said in part: "The last of the great statesmen, Winston Churchill, a man of multiple genius, will be devotedly remembered as one of the most exasperating figures of history. For 77 years he has flashed over the public scene. He has been the voice of Britain's conscience, the court of last appeal in time of danger, yet he remains impish, mischievous and remarkably boyish. Even his appearance seems to remain little changed. He inherited superior gifts of impatience. His clothing is a case in point. Churchill's costumes have provoked reactions ranging from shock to indignation. Visiting an anti-aircraft gunnery display in 1940, he wore a pair of gum boots, a naval topcoat and a yachting cap. Churchill must be adjudged the most notably independent spirit of modern times. By simply giving full credence to his own opinions, he has attained immortality as a conservative statesman, liberal statesman, orator, historian biographer, wit, war correspondent, and brandy drinker, and has established somewhat lesser records as artist, bricklayer, novelist, aviator, polo player, soldier and race-horse owner. He is a blend of three main ingredients matchless energy, a combination of intelligence and memory, and the most ambitious of anyone since Alexander complained about the scarcity of worlds to conquer.

At the age of 26 he began his life of public service. He switched his political affiliation altogether and moved over to the Liberal side of the house, and established himself as a cabinet minister. He was 31, and in securing this post, under-secretary for the colonies, he continued the legend of Boy Wonder.

He was one of the hardest working ministers to fill a cabinet position. He did not hesitate to change his mind. In the light of history, there can be no question that Churchill, almost alone, saved England's skin in the first World War.

He was taunted with trying to be a prophet, as he warned England of the growing menace of Hitler. All too late Britain awoke to the fact that Churchill, again, had been right from the start. Churchill's skill as an artist can only be described as professional, nevertheless, he still sees his painting as a relaxation. Churchill has been fortunate in his family. Mrs. Churchill is an intelligent, athletic still beautiful woman of many interests.

Members of the house, including the opposition, take such pride in his record of accomplishment that his birthday now amounts to a state occasion. His appearance in the house brings a standing storm of applause and shouts. Churchill tries to make his expression fierce, the look of the boy warrior. He is easily moved to emotion and the tears roll down his cheeks as he bobs his head like a school boy. Robert Lewis Taylor closes his biography with the lines "England continues to cry" Hail! to her man of heroic size the last of the great statesmen, a giant among pygmies—when comes such another."

Mrs. Mulhern, assisted by Mrs. Temple and Mrs. Tidwell served delicious refreshments typifying the approaching holiday season to the following members: Mrs. Roy Q. Cole, Mrs. A. C. Bennett, Mrs. Thomas Jett, Mrs. Neal W. McHenry, Mrs. D. M. Moore, Mrs. J. W. Murphy, Mrs. A. L. Peters, Mrs. F. L. Smith, Mrs. George Temple, Mrs. A. S. Tidwell, Mrs. C. R. Tidwell, Mrs. R. L. Wood, and Mrs. Irving J. Wolff.

STEEL SHIPMENTS RISE

GARY, IND.—More than 737,000,000 tons of finished steel were produced by steel companies in the United States during the 12 years from 1940 to 1952. From nearly 46, 000, 000 tons in 1940, annual shipments climbed to nearly 79,000,000 tons in 1951, a gain of 72 per cent.

Garden Rakings

The sasanqua hedges have been particularly beautiful this year, proof of the value of these evergreens as good all - around plants. Some of the blooms on my Snow on the Mountain have been almost as beautiful as the Alba Plena and semi - double white camellias. This variety doesn't grow as bushy as the Cleopatra Sasanqua and, of course, for screen planting you want the busy ones.

Soon Dr. McHenry and Alymer Montgomery will be wearing camellias on their lapels and we'll all be green with envy. These plants can be set out while they're blooming so don't envy your neighbor. Mrs. A. R. Butler was wearing a Daikaguras (variegated rose and white) bloom last Monday. Soon the debutante, purple dawn, Hovey, elegance, Governor Mouton and Professor Sargents will be blooming.

It isn't easy to convince a new home owner that she should wait until they grow some shade before starting in to grow camellias. Often new yards are not too well drained and good drainage is absolutely necessary for growing camellias. Protection from full sun and an acid soil are also required. Be sure to get one of our camellia bulletins if you are interested in growing this plant.

This is the month to prune your broadleaf evergreens and summer and fall blooming shrubs such as Althea and crape myrtle. Don't prune your spring flowering shrubs until after they bloom as they flower on the wood that grew this past summer.

Transplanting

December, January and February are the best months for transplanting most shrubs and trees. Please let me warn you to be careful in transplanting. Protect the roots from the time the plant is dug until it's transplanted. Be sure to dig the holes larger and deeper than the spread of the roots. Partially fill this with good soil, then plant the shrub no deeper than it grew before. Do not put fertilizer in the hole under the roots because it will burn the feeder roots. Mr. Carey Holmes saw somebody digging the hole to plant a sasanqua using a post hole digger. I guess he'll wonder why his plant didn't live.

You can still plant any of the spring blooming bulbs you find at the seed stores and nurseries. If you've refrigerated your tulip bulbs, you can plant those now, too. Remember, tulips are never as satisfactory as other bulbs in this climate.

You can plant these seeds this month: bluebonnet, candytuft, forget-me-not, four o'clock, gayfeather, phlox drummond, mignonette, larkspur, California poppy, Shirley poppy, sweet pea, sweet alyssum, cornflower, gaillardia, coreopsis, arctotis, pinks, blue salvia, scabiosa, sweet William, snapdragon, verbena and stock.

The New Look

No — not in clothes, girls. I'm speaking of a newer look in woodwork. About twenty - five years ago when I built my house — some of us went on a tangent and stained all the woodwork walnut. Now, of course, we want the lighter colors to match our walls. I've found an easy way. Put a coat of aluminum paint on first, then a coat of flat inside, then a coat of enamel. The aluminum paint keeps the dark stain from bleeding through your paint. This absolutely works because I tried it two years ago and two years should be a good test.

The only other way to do is sand all the woodwork (which will cost you many dollars for labor), wash with Sal soda, (more labor), put on a coat of flat paint and then enamel. The aluminum paint goes on so quick and easy, too.

Landscape School

When Mr. Spurlock from L. S. U. taught the landscape school last week, he showed a number of slides to illustrate good planting of different areas. I was quite pleased that Mr. Spurlock used so many pictures of Monroe homes. These included gardens of Mrs. Fagan Cox, Mrs. Jack Lanier, Mrs. H. Mickel and Mrs. H. M. James. Sometimes I want those home owners to see these slides. They'l be proud of their work.

All agents will be in Baton Rouge this next week, attending the state conference. We'll try to find all that's new and bring it back to you.

See you next Sunday in this same column.

News From Public Library

In spite of the fact that the librarian and the chairman of the Board of Control of the Ouachita Parish Public Library have been in Mexico City for the past week, the work of the library has gone on as usual. A number of new books have been added to the collection. There is something to appeal to every type of reader.

Mystery readers always like the names of new titles and we have two which sound very thrilling. One is "So Rich, So Lovely and So Dead" by Harold Q. Masur. The other is by the perennial favorite Erle Stanley Gardner and is called "The Case of the Grinning Gorilla." Robert Wilder is the author of a number of very popular novels. His latest one is "Autumn Thunder." This is the story of a football hero, who had never learned to face life and for whom the only reality was the thunder of the crowd on the Saturday afternoons each autumn. Finally he was forced to evaluate his life and trace the road back to find out what he had missed. Robert Wilder knows his America and his people. He writes of it in vivid terms and in unforgettable pictures. His writing portrays understanding and compassion and he is possessed of great vitality. This is a modern book of people that you might have known. It is also a book to make one think. You will not want to miss it.

Cook books are always popular at the library and there are two new ones in this week's additions. "Solving the High Cost of Eating" by Ida Bailey Allen gives wonderful helps for economical cooking. "The Home Freezer Book For Better Living" by Zella Boutell is a wonderful book for anyone who owns a home freezer. It tells how to prepare food for the freezer and how to use it most effectively.

Eagerly awaited each year is the collection of "Best American Short Stories" made by Martha Foley. The collection for 1952 has just arrived. If you like to read short stories, here are the best. There is no writer of fiction who has had a more uplifting effect than Lloyd C. Douglas, the author of such books as "The Magnificient Obsession" and "The Big Fisherman." Now his daughters, Virginia and Betty have written a delightful biography of their father and called it "The Shape of Sunday." Anyone who reads his novels with pleasure will want to read the story of this great man's life.

A book to be read for pure enjoyment is "There Are Ladies Present," a collection of cartoons by Helen Hokinson. She drew a certain type of American club woman. She portrays them in an affectionate and humorous manner. Another book that will be vastly entertaining is "The Last Resorts" by Cleveland Amory. This is an account of the playgrounds of the rich in America and will appeal to all those who enjoy reading about the actvities of the immensely rich set.

Norman Vincent Peale is a preacher in New York, who combines psychology and religion in an effort to help people help themselves. This is the theme of his latest book, "The Power of Positive Thinking." It is a book that will help everyone who reads it with a desire for improvement and who does not need it?

A new book of a scientific nature is "More Modern Wonders and How They Work" by Captain Burr Leyson. This book takes up in detail many of the amazing inventions that have changed our everyday life so radically in the past few years.

A book to appeal to the railroad enthusiast is "The Railroads of America" by Merle Armitage. This is a perfectly beautiful book containing pictures and information about the railroad systems of this country. Peter Hunt's "How-To-Do-It Book" is a fascinating book of modern handcrafts and decorating. It shows us just how to make all sorts of beautiful things for the home.

Teachers will want to see the new book "Language Arts in the Elementary School" by Ruth Gertrude Strickland. It contains wonderful information on how to go about teaching this important group of subjects. The additions this week are good samples of the type of thing available at your public library. Are you making the most of its resources?

Mason-Eastern Star And Rainbow Meeting Is Held

H. B. Conner, Past Grand Master of the Grand Lodge of La. was the guest speaker at the joint Mason-Eastern Star and Rainbow meeting held in the Georgetown Masonic Hall recently for the purpose of a George Washington Memorial Program. Monnie Cheves, PGP of the Grand Chpt. OES. introduced the guest speaker.

After Mr. Conner's address on "George Washington the Mason," the Eastern Star gave a beautiful pageant, during which a memorial service for Mrs. Virginia Selvidge and Mr. E. O. Dickerson was held.

The Masons honored their 50 year "Gold Certificate" members, W. P. Watts and Pete Killingsworth. The Gold Masons received their certificates and gold pins from H. B. Conner. Mr. Killingsworth's son, Columbus, pinned his father's and Mr. Watts' friend Lem Kees pinned his friend.

Twenty - five year members of the Eastern Star who were honored in the program were: Ida Kees, Livonia Foster, Lula Dickenson, Lura Dunnam, and Grace Sloane. Mrs. Gertrude Davis, Grand Secretary, presented Mrs. Zuelia Long with her silver certificate.

"A Rainbow in the Sky" was sung by the Rainbow Girls with Jerry Foster taking the solo and dedicated to the Georgetown Masons.

At the conclusion of the program, the Star Points formed a huge silver star in the East with five Masons and the Arch of Rainbow Girls in the background, while Mrs. Margaret Conner sang "Oh, Beautiful Star."

Thanksgiving supper was served to over 200 guests.

Distinguished visitors were: Mrs. Fannie Nelkin, PGM, Mrs. Margaret Conner, PGM, Mrs. Gertrude Davis, PGM and Gr. Sec., Mrs. Flossie Faust, PGM, Mr. Monnie Cheves, PGP, Mr. Haney B. Conner, PGP and PG Master, Mrs. Arah Culver, Gr. Cond. and Mrs. Jeanette Durham, Supreme Insp. Order of Rainbow for Girls.

Birthday Party Honors Gem Wells Of Olla

Gem Wells, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Wells, of Olla, was entertained with a party at her home on her tenth birthday. Hostesses on this occasion were Gloria Williams, Joan Davis, and Bettie Ann McDuff.

After opening the many gifts and playing several games the candles on the birthday cake were blown out by the guests.

Birthday cake, soft drinks and sandwiches were served to Fern Dale Allbritton, Louis Newell, Jr., Peggy Henderson, Dale Roberts, Brenda Gail Roberts, Jimmie Finley, Sarah Lou Finley, Buddy Hinton, David Williams, Everett Williams, Buddy Hinton, Delores Young, Jackie Young, Mary Ann Young, Shirley Ann Burnette, Gearlie Glidwell, Jerry Lilley, Bunch Duke and the hostesses, Joan Davis, Gloria Williams, and Bettie Ann McDuff.

Manzie Guerriero Writes Article For Magazine

Miss Manzie Guerriero, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Guerriero and student at Vanderbilt University in Nashville, Tenn., is spending the holidays in New Orleans, with her parents, who left Wednesday night for the Crescent City. While in New Orleans they attended the races and the Tulane-L. S. U. game Saturday.

Miss Guerriero's article "Grab Your Slide Rule, Manzie" was recently publicized in the November issue of V-Square, Vanderbilt Engineering Magazine. Miss Guerriero, who is a sophomore student, writes about the many folders and letters she received from the engineering school when she graduated from Neville. Much of the correspondence comprised invitations to join the different fraternities and reasons for becoming a member of the NROTC. As there are approximately fifty girls enrolled in the engineering school, the faculty and students thought Marion Guerriero's name belonged to a male student.

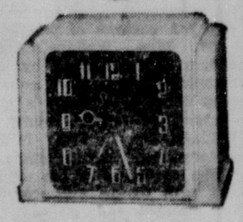

Because of the fact that Manzie is studying to be an architect, she has now acquired the title—Maisie Geronimo, the lady Engineer.

Girl Scout News

As promised, the column today is written by our executive director, who will tell our readers some of the highlights of the Regional Conference a couple of weeks ago, especially the parts played by girls themselves. We assume that most of our readers are adults, though we hear from time to time of troops whose members read this column. This particular write-up is aimed at grown ups, but may be of interest to girls also. Go ahead, Annis.

"First I would like to tell you of some of the ways in which girls participated in the Regional Conference. To everyone in Scouting it is the girl who is important; ours is an organization that never loses sight of the girl.

It was a wonderful sight to see a troop of girls march on stage to open the conference with a colorful flag ceremony, using the American, Girl Scout, and world flags. Wish all of you could have been in that audience of green-uniformed women from the five states of Region V.

Giving up the afternoon of a school holiday, for Armistice Day is a holiday in Memphis, some fifty girls manned the booths for a program fair, showing the visitors what Memphis troops are doing in homemaking, community service, world friendship, and the out of doors.

Through posters, exhibits, and demonstrations, they told the story of Scout activities. Two of the most unique 'booths' were in the park across from the meeting place. One showed the activities of a Mariner troop. With the children's wading pool as a waterfront, these senior Scouts in their bright blue Mariner uniforms demonstrated safe waterfront pratices and the newer method of artifical respiration.

In another part of the small park was a camp set up, with lashed table, lashed tripod for the water bucket, cache for food, fires laid for different kinds of cooking, and a woodpile with tinder, kindling and fuel stacked in rows. It made us want to strike a match and start cooking those biscuits on a reflector oven!

Practically every one of the grownups at the conference voted that the most inspiring session was the one on Word Friends—What They Mean." On this program appeared a camper who had attended the All States camp in Oregon last summer, the mother of the Juliette Low awardee who went to our Chalet in 1951, an exchange camp counselor who served in a French Girl Guide Camp last year, a young woman of international experiences, once being chosen as a Juliette Low delegate to Our Chalet and later as a counselor for an international camp.

But the favorite speaker, as far as most of us were concerned, was Byrd Gibben, a Senior Scout from Baton Rouge, who told how her whole troop used the requirements for an international award as troop program and how all the girls in the troop benefited from having an awardee in the troop. Byrd sounded like a Dale Carnegie Course graduate or certainly like an old hand at public speaking. She was precious!

Lest our readers begin to think by now that it was entirely a girls' meeting, we assure you that there was plenty of adult discussion, and help offered in the six sessions of the conference. One of the pleasures connected with the conference was meeting Mrs. Roy F. Layton, the national president of Girl Scouts of the U. S.A., a charming, white-haired woman, who appeared on several programs, one of them being the session on World Friendship when she told of attending an international meeting at Dombaas, Norway.

Three troops told a story of 'What It Means to be Prepared' at the opening session, with Miss Margarite Hall of the National Program department as coordinator. 'To be prepared to serve others, to be resourceful, to live Democracy" was depicted by these girls can serve in their community, such as giving a party for children, packing an overseas box, and making tray favors.

We wish all our people interested in civil defense could have seen how the girls depicted resourcefulness. The Doe family, cold and hungry because an ice storm had cut off utilities, had a hot breakfast because Scout daughters knew how to make buddy burners and use tin can stoves. That is something Scouts do for fun that sometimes has a greater importance.

And for democracy the troop showed good troop practices in governing themselves, not one person doing all the talking, but sharing and working together.

"This could go on and on, mentioning the chorus which sang to open one session, for example, as well as other exhibits that impressed us. We do want to mention the beautifully - rendered choral reading, 'The Child Speaks' given by a large troop of Intermediate Scouts from St. Peter's Orphanage. What we thought of was not the girls looked so nice in their uniforms, nor that they spoke so beautifully, although both were true, but that devoted leaders had given of their time to make scouting possible for this group of girls. And since these girls live in an orphanage, it means that these leaders were not the mothers of girls, but civic-minded individuals who work for the pleasure of helping girls to be better citizens.

"It was nice being with you"

Auxiliary Of U. S. W. V. Meets

Thompson Wood Lee Auxiliary, United Spanish War Veterans, held their November meeting in the home of Mrs. Ida Hawkins in West Monroe. Mrs. Mable Cavaness, Auxiliary Pres. presided, and the meeting was opened with prayer by the chaplain. After a short business meeting an informal social session was held at which time Mrs. Winnie Mangham Department Pres. told of her official visits to auxiliaries over the state and a recent visit to New Orleans when National Commander Dan S. Hewett of California made his official visit to Louisiana. Mrs. Mangham was a guest at Arnauds at a luncheon given in honor of the National Commander. Another interesting feature was a report given by Miss Josephine Keller on her recent visit to New York.

Mrs. Hawkins' home was decorated throughout with yellow and bronze chrysanthemums and decorations of the Thanksgiving season were used on the refreshment tables. Mrs. Boone and Mrs. Liles assisted Mrs. Hawkins in serving Mrs. Minnie Mangham, Mrs. Stella Courtney, Mrs. Leila Davis, Mrs. Mary Hood, Mrs. Lula Pope, Mrs. Alma McKee, Mrs. Stella Ross, Mrs. Mabel Caveness and Miss Josephine Keller.

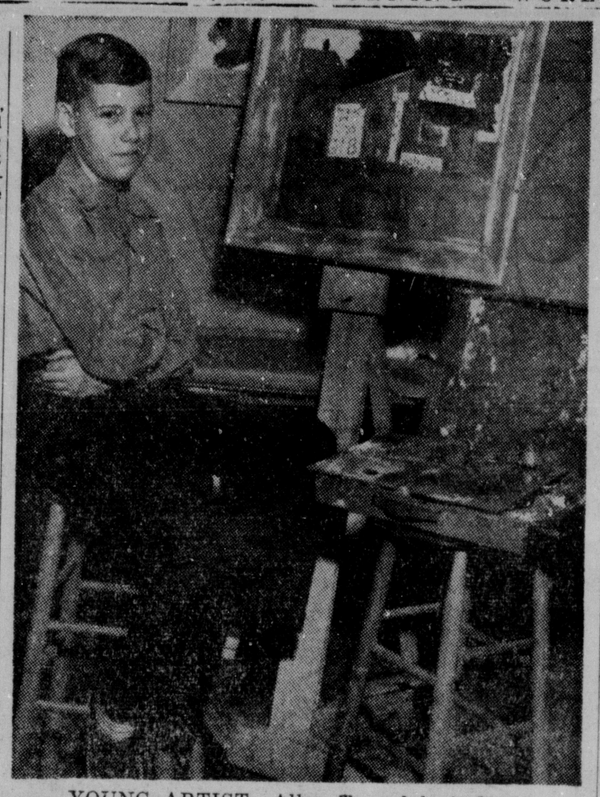

Drew P.-T. A. Hears Talk On Civil Defense

The regular monthly meeting of Drew P.-T.A. was held Thursday night in the school cafeteria. The meeting was opened with prayer by R. M. Drew.

A short business session was held and Mrs. Homer Cook gave a report on the chicken spaghetti supper which was held November 10.

Mrs. David Smith, program chairman, introduced E. E. Hall, Kelly Thompson, and Mr. Johnston, who are associated with Civil Defense. Mr. Hall gave a very interesting talk on Civil Defense after which a movie was shown that answered many questions concerning what to do should we be forced to put our civil defense into practice.

The meeting was then adjourned and refreshments served to all present.

YOUNG ARTIST—Allen Trousdale is having a one man show this afternoon at the Art Shop. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Briscoe Trousdale Jr.

Versatile Skill Promises Recognition To Young Artist

One Man Show On Sunday Afternoon

The accomplishments which Briscoe Allen Trousdale, III, has attained at his early age fulfills a distant dream of becoming an artist. Such success though usually reserved for grown ups, is well awarded to this youth who is fast approaching a professional craftsmanship.

Allen, unlike his contemporary 7th grade companions is perfectly sure of his vocation. With not a doubt in his mind he is to become an artist, and with this firm belief he has already traveled further into a working ability and understanding of the arts than most adults even wistfully pretend.

The exhibit today is a culmination of his intense drive over the past few years to master the various tools of an artist. Among his paintings are pastels, oils, scratch boards, and even a mobile which shows an extreme insight for design.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. B. A. Trousdale, Jr. of this city, Allen is studying at the Art Shop where his exhibit is to be held this Sunday afternoon, Nov. 30th from 3 to 5:30 o'clock. All of his friends, class mates, and general public are welcome to attend his one man showing at 309 Louisville Ave.

JIMMY DANA

KITCHEN STORE TO BE OPENED

The long felt need and desire of the women of Monroe, for a genuine kitchen store is about to be fulfilled at this time. On December 1, "Kitchens by Dana" will open its establishment on 623 Louisville in Monroe. Here will be seen what is generally considered to be one of the most beautiful model kitchens on display in the entire United States.

Personell of "Kitchens by Dana" as well as, Jimmy Dana, proprietor, have been specially trained in kitchen plannig, densigning for the purpose of modernization and new construction by the Mullins Manufacturing Corporation, manufacture of Youngstown Kitchen equipment. This organization specializes in complete floor to ceiling jobs, including linoleum, wall tile, as well as Youngstown Kitchens base and wall cabinets, sinks, dishwashers, and disposers. The cabinet top coverings are available in wide variety of materials, as well as colors. It will now be possibe for the women in Monroe to receive estimates for the modernization of their old style kitchens into one, such as is on display at the aforementioned address.

A particular note is the new base corner rotary shelf cabinets and their complimentary items on the wall, also, with revolving shelves. Beautiful snack and breakfast bars, as well as decorative themes for kitchens are being show. Here is really a woman's dream come true and according to preliminary surveys it is expected that "Kitchens by Dana" will be busy installing these kitchens in many Monroe homes.

Also avilable is architectural service in the plannings of kitchens. Fred Gilbert, nationally known kitchen authority will be on hand for the first few days of the opening week, and will be most happy to consult with home owners on their kitchen problems.

Jacoby On Bridge

Hundreds of bridge experts will take part in the week-long National Tournament that begins today in Miami, and thousands of bridge fans will read about the exploits of the experts with a cheer or perhaps a snicker.

Practically nobody will give a thought, naturally enough, to the handful of men who give up so much of their leisure time to make these tournaments possible.

My friend, Jerome Scheuer, the hero of today's hand, i sa aypical example of these public-spirited men. Jerome is a conservative Boston businessman for eight hours a day, but he probably devotes most of his leisure time, like other members of the American Contract Bridge League's board of directors, discussing and deciding what the League ought to do about this or that.

In today's hand Scheuer won the opening lead with the ace of spades, drew trumps with the king and ace of hearts, and then successfully finessed the nine of diamonds. When West dropped the eight of diamonds on this trick, it was clear that East held the missing three cards in the suit.

	NORTH	29
	♠ 8 6 ♥ A J 10 9 6 ♦ Q 10 4 2 ♣ 7 4
WEST		EAST
♠ K Q J 10 7 4 3 2 ♥ 7 3 ♦ 8 ♣ Q 5		♠ 9 5 ♥ 5 2 ♦ K J 7 6 ♣ K J 10 9 3
	SOUTH (D) ♠ A ♥ K Q 8 4 ♦ A 9 5 3 ♣ A 8 6 2

Neither side vul.

South	West	North	East
1 ♥	1 ♠	2 ♥	Pass
3 ♦	4 ♠	5 ♥	Pass
Pass	Pass

Opening lead—♠ K

Declarer continued with the ace and a low club, East winning with the king of clubs. East returned a spade, and declarer ruffed.

South continued by ruffing a club in dummy and returned to his hand with the queen of hearts. On this trick East was caught in a very unusual squeeze position.

If East discarded a diamond, South could take the ace of diamonds and give up a diamond, after which dummy would be good. Hence East discarded a club in order to save all of his diamonds.

Scheuer, reading the situation, then ruffed a club in dummy, thus reducing the North, East, and South hands to three diamonds each. Dummy next returned a low diamond, and declarer allowed East to hold the trick with the seven of diamonds. East then had to lead away from his king of diamonds, giving Scheuer a free finesse for the last two tricks.

CARD SENSE

Q—The bidding has been:

South	West	North	East
1 Heart	Pass	1 Spade	Pass

You, South, hold: Spades 8-2, Hearts A-Q-J-9-3, Diamonds 4, Clubs A-Q-J-9-3. What do you do?

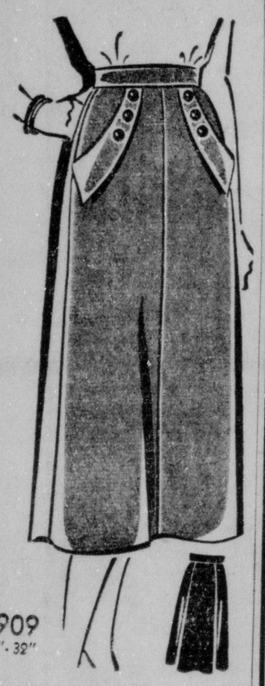

A—Bid two clubs. You have a count of 17 points—14 in high cards, and 3 points for the distribution. You would like to make a jump bid of some kind, but cannot quite afford it. You will bid again if your partner shows a fit for either of your suits.

TODAY'S QUESTION

The bidding is the same as in the question just answered. You, South, hold: Spades 8-2, Hearts A-K-J-9-3-2, Diamonds 4, Clubs A-Q-J-9. What do you do?

Miss Fay Robinson Also Requiring Aid

Chrystal Jean Sullivan, critically ill girl whose case when pubicized has caused a shower of donations to pay bills for care and treatment in St. Francis Sanitarium, while completely deserving, has now received so much money that no more is being asked for her. But she is not the only victim of this disease in that institution. Miss Fay Robinson, a woman in her late thirties, is in almost precisely the same condition as Miss Sullivan.

Miss Fay, in room 208, at St. Francis, sister of Alvin Robinson, who is employed by the city of Monroe, suffers from the same disease and her life also hangs by a thread. She is a member of Calvary Baptist Church and members there are taking turns at her bedside 24 hours a day, as she cannot be left alone for a minute.

An appeal was made by a friend, Randolph Hart, who started off a new fund with a $5 donation. Much more money is needed to pay for nurses so that those who have been giving up their rest at night to be with her, may have a chance to get some rest themselves.

It is hoped by Miss Fay's friends that money will be forthcoming. It is seemingly as worthy a cause as that of Miss Sullivan.

LET'S EXPLORE YOUR MIND

By ALBERT EDWARD WIGGAM, D. Sc.

Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.

Answer to Question No. 1

1. Only partly so. The dominance is largely due to our social customs. Dr. Margaret Mead found tribes in the South Seas where the husband was trained from childhood to do the housework, and take care of the children. In other tribes the man was even more dominant than he is in our society. The women were chiefly slaves. Even with us, now and then a masculine woman purposely marries a temperamental dishrag. She gets a big kick from kicking him around. Ffifty-fifty marriages are the happiest.

Answer to Question No. 2

2. Yes, according to an extensive study of the "Soviet Man" by Dr. Henry Dicks of the Harvard Russian Research Center. Dr. Dicks says the Russian is naturally a generous, easy-going, affectionate, brotherly, back-slapping good fellow. But the Secret Police compel him to be hard, cruel and always on guard against smiling, let alone a good belly laugh. Such a "breach of the party line" means being taken out of bed at midnight and shot. It surely can't last forever.

Answer to Question No. 3

3. No. they help find runaways, look after the sick and half-crazy people who have no business traveling alone. They find safe hotels, even homes for bewildered ers in trouble.

CLAIBORNE METHODIST CHURCH
Calhoun Road

F. L. Hearne, Pastor.
J. O. Fleming, Church School Supt.

A story is told of the artist Turner, that one day he invited Charles Kingsley into his study to see a picture of a storm at sea. Kingsley was swapt in admiration: "How did you do it, Turner?" he exclaimed. Turner answered: "I wished to paint a storm at sea, so I went to the coast of Holland and engaged a fisherman to take me out in his boat in the next storm. I was bound to the mast. Not only did I see the storm and feel it, but it blew itself into me until I became part of the storm. And then I came back and painted that picture."

Turner's experience is a parable of life and religion.

We are urging all members to make some gift to the building fund this Sunday. Become a part of the church in your community. You will be happy you did when the job is finished.

EDUCATION WEEK BEING OBSERVED

The A. L. Smith Parent-Teacher Association held the regular meeting in the school cafateria recently.

Mrs. Opal Shively had charge of the program on American Education, observing book week. Mrs. Harry Blackstacks, junior high choir rendered a selection of songs. Arkansas Traveler was beautifully given with fiddle music by Al Jurdon.

Miss Helen Stall, fifth grade teacher, gave a comparison on books of past years the modern books used in schools today.

Miss Julia Wossman, of the Children's Book Shop in Monroe, gave an inspiring talk on the enrichment of grade reading and text bookings and other books that accompany them. She also discussed an article in the New York Times which stated that the greatest skill you as teachers can impart to your pupils is that of reading. This opens the doors of learning throughout life. Reading helps in the formation of a lovely relationship in the home between the parents and children, she said. She stated that wide reading gave a release from reality they see and hear over the radio. When you read a book you become a part of the book which helps to relieve tensions.

The next meeting will be held December 8 at the school. The theme will be "Religious Emphasis".

Hostesses of the November meeting were all parents of the new Louisiana Power and Light Village. Hostesses for the next meeting will be parents of Dixie Acres Commercial Solvent village.

Lyric Soprano Will Give Concert Here

Marion Downs, widely acclaimed lyric soprano, has just returned to America from a triumphant concert tour of the Scandinavian countries and Italy. She will appear here in recital on December 2 at the Carroll auditorium, sponsored by St. James Methodist Church.

Her musical background was developed under Guiseppe Boghetti, famous tutor to the celebrated Marion Anderson, who accepted and taught Marion Downs as one of his most promising pupils. During her marriage to Dr. Karl Downs, the late president of Sam Huston College, Austin, Tex., she pursued studies under Homer Samuels, coach and accompanist of Galli-Curci, famed Italian singer.

After her husband's untimely passing, she spent two years in New York City, further pursuing her vocal studies at the Julliard School of Music and Columbia University from which she received her M. A. in music with a major in voice in 1950. While at Columbia, she was soprano soloist with Columbia Teachers College A Cappella Choir. In September, 1950, she left America on a Fulbright Fellowship from the U. S. State Department of Education for 12 months study in Milan, Italy, where she was a pupil of the world famed maestro, Gian-Franco Bucchi. In a concert tour of the leading capitols in the Scandinavian countries and in her concerts in Italy, she received the plaudits of the European critics.

WEST OUACHITA MAY ORGANIZE

Baptist Churches Across River To Discuss New Association

Baptist pastors and church leaders of the 19 Baptist churches and the several missions west of the Ouachita river have been called into a special meeting Monday evening to discuss the organization of a new association west of the river.

This meeting will be held at 7:30 p. m. at the Trinity Baptist Church in West Monroe. Rev. Filer J. Seal, former moderator of the Ouachita Parish Baptist Association and a former district board member of the Louisiana Baptist Convention, sent out a letter to all Baptist pastors on the west side calling the meeting and inviting them to meet with the Trinity Church. The Association will not be organized Monday evening but discussed and a probable future date set for the organization.

The Rev. Seal introduced a resolution calling for a discussion of the Ouachita Parish Association at the annual meeting of the body in October, but the resolution was not carried at the time. Since that meeting there has been a growing feeling among Baptist leaders west of the river that a new Baptist Association is needed, and that it will add to the future growth of the denomination.

Baptists have 18,000 members on their church rolls in Ouachita parish with 35 churches and several missions. The policy of the Southern Baptist leaders has been to devide and grow and it has worked in the past several years in the Twin Cities and with this denomination.

Always close slide fasteners before washing or ironing.

MILLION DOLLAR QUARTET—Pictured above are the four Metropolitan Opera stars who will make up the "million dollar quartet" being featured Monday night over KLIC and the Mutual Broadcasting System. The four artists will participate in the 25th anniversary banquet of the Community Concerts, Inc. Melton will make a personal appearance in Monroe April 13, 1953 under the auspices of the Twin City Concerts.

Bible Comment

By William E. Ulroy, D. D.

What is the conception of the good life, the best life of all, as we see it set forth and exemplified in the teaching and example of Jesus?

Does that conception of the good life differ in any way from conceptions commonly held and stressed at various times, in various places by professed followers of the Master?

I think the answer to the second question is: Yes. Though there are profound and striking exceptions, there have been many followers of Jesus inspired by him, who have lived lives of conspicuous devotion and service. In our own time there have been men like Father Damien of Molokai, and Sir Wilfred Grenfell of Labrador; women like Jane Addams of Chicago. And their name, in spite of all the shortcomings of professed Christians, has been legion: for many unknown to fame, have not been unknown to God for their sincerity and goodness.

But in general the emphasis in historic Christianity and the church has been negative, rather than positive. It has been upon sins, rather than upon the great, positive expressions and acts of righteousness and truth.

If one doubts this, he need only make wide observation of life, to see how many lives of "good" men and women, well-intentioned and free from evil, are none the less inconspicuous for evidence of the "fruit of the Spirit" (Galations 5: 22-25).

The thirteenth chapter of I Corinthians, next to the Sermon on the Mount, the greatest sermon ever written in its simplicity, conciseness, and brevity, makes plain the nature of the good life as the Apostle Paul learned it from his Master.

This is the conception of the good life that Jesus emphasized in all that He said and did. The spirit of all His teaching and example was: "This do, and thou shalt live." It is surprising how little "do not" is found in the Gospel record of His sayings.

Perhaps the conspicuous examples, in fact, of Jesus saying "do not" did not relate to sins and actions, but to the fundamental thing of character and spirit: in prayer, He said, do not use vain repetitions "as the heathen do" (Matthew 6:7); and He said "do not" after the works of the Scribes and Pharisees, "for they say and do not" (Matthew 23:3).

In the positive emphasis upon the good life, such as Jesus made, there is no danger that there will be less inhibition against sin and sins.

The positive attuning of the heart to truth and righteousness is, in fact, the surest guarantee that one's life will be inwardly and outwardly correct. A world concentrating more upon righteousness and the spirit and acts of love will be correspondingly, a world freer from sin and evil.

Local Station Plans Anniversary Program

The Community Concerts Incorporated, with which the Twin City Concert Association is affiliated, will celebrate its 25th anniversary with a half-hour program over the Mutual Broadcasting System. The program will be carried locally over Radio Station KLIC from 8:30 until 9 p.m.

Originating from the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel in New York City, the all-star program will feature prominent representatives of the musical world. Songs planned for this special program will be sung by a million-dollar quartet composed of James Melton, Igor Gorin, Nadine Conner and Rise Stevens with Dimitri Mitropoulos at the piano.

Ward French, president and founder of the Community Concerts, will make a brief address as will Olin Downes. Other outstanding highlights of the half-hour program will be interviews with first committee members from the first Community Concert towns in the United States and Canada—Scranton, Pennsylvania, and Kitchener, Ontario.

The radio program will be the kick-off for an annual two weeks conference for the plans of the coming year.

Runyon Guys And Gals Form Basis Of Musical

Damon Runyon's "Bloodhounds of Broadway," Twentieth Century-Fox musical comedy starring Mitzi Gaynor and Scott Brady, opens tomorrow at the Tem Theatre. Filmed in color by Technicolor, "Bloodhounds of Broadway" introduces to the screen a new set of the legendary guys and gals who fill the rich pages of Damon Runyon's notebook.

Steeped in the Broadway traditions of Runyon, the picture revolves around one of the author's best-known characters, the tough guy racketeer who conceals a heart of gold. This role, a bookie with a flair for mental arithmetic aptly known as "Numbers" Foster, is played by Scott Brady. This affinity for bitingly named characters is followed up in "Bloodhounds of Broadway" by such henchmen as Poorly Sammis, Dave the Dude, Ropes McGonigle, Lookout Louie and Curtaintime Charlie. Veteran New York comedians Wally Vernon, Henry Slate (of "South Pacific" and the Slate Brothers), George E. Stone (long in retirement), Edwin Max and Richard Allan play these respective parts.

A Crime Committee's investigation of the mobs runs "Numbers" and his boys out of town briefly, and when the handsome leader returns to his Gay White Way haunts he brings back with him from the Georgia backwoods the pert and saucy Miss Gaynor and her ever-present bloodhound watch-dogs. This doesn't set too well with the stormy Marguerite Chapman, who considered herself Brady's girl before the police — mainly represented by Michael O'Shea — applied the h..t which sent Scott south.

It's Mitzi Gaynor, with such cohorts as a Broadway pal in the wise and knowing Mitzi Green and the understanding cop played by Mike O'Shea, who brings about the Scott Brady regeneration in the best Damon Runyon fashion.

Sprinkled among these flavorful antics are a number of song and dance hits, staged by the Broadway craftsman Robert Sidney. The tunes include "I Wish I Knew," "80 Miles Outside of Atlanta," "I Got a Feelin' You're Foolin'," "Bye Low" and "Jack O'Diamonds."

George Jessel produced "Bloodhounds of Broadway" for Twentieth Century - Fox, stamping it with authenticity and entertainment knowhow. Harmon Jones produced the Sy Gomberg screenplay, with adaptation by Albert Mannheimer.

'IRON MISTRESS' AT PARAMOUNT

"The Iron Mistress," Warner Bros.' picturization in color by Technicolor of the popular novel, now showing at the Paramount. Alan Ladd and Virginia Mayo play the lead roles.

A romantic action yarn set in the early 1800's, the story is of a backwoods lad from the bayou country of Louisiana who comes to New Orleans where he falls in love with a Creole belle. Amidst the glittering elegance of the old city, Jim Bowie, as he is played by Ladd, becomes a polished gentleman who must fight with rapier as well as his fists to compete with the town's cutthroats. He develops a weapon of his own—the Bowie knife—and it is with this iron mistress that he evens matters with one particular band of accomplished swordsmen.

Ladd, whose action films have brought him to the front rank of Hollywood's rugged stars, has the top role while Virginia Mayo, fresh from her latest bit, "She's Working Her Way Through College," changes pace for this one as the unscrupulous society beauty. Joseph Calleia, Phyllis Kirk, Alf Kjellin, Douglas Dick and Ned Young round out the cast. Gordon Douglas directed for Warner Bros.

ARCH OF TRIUMPH

PARIS— The Arc de Triomphe, symbol of France's glory and memorial to her military heroes, was completed in 1836. Napoleon in 1806 ordered it built. But after he was exiled work ceased for a number of years.

The massive monument stands in the center of the Place de l'Etoile where twelve boulevards come together. Under the mighty arch is the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier. On the tomb a flame burns constantly.

The Papagos Indians date their year from the harvest of the fruit of the giant cactus.

Parents Thankful For Aid To Burned Daughter

Mr. and Mrs. Roy H. Powell of 3602 Polk street felt they had double reason to celebrate Thanksgiving yesterday.

Their young daughter, Betty Sue is improving after receiving severe burns four weeks ago and the Powells say their friends and neighbors have given them many forms of assistance since their daughter's mishap.

"We felt," Powell said, "that Thanksgiving Day would be a good time to express our thanks and gratitude to the many who have shown help."

Betty Sue was burned when her dress caught fire from a gas heater. She is hospitalized at Charity.

AWARD OF FRANCE

The fourragere or green shoulder cords worn by many U. S. Marines was awarded by the French Government to the Fifth and Sixth Regiments after they had been citied several times in army orders during World War I.

What is the age of GLAMOUR?

The age of glamour is any age at which a woman's beauty and charm make her most fascinating! She's seldom under "30"...she's usually in her "40's" or older...and she invariably devotes time and care to keep her skin naturally lovely and youthful looking... without the use of "cover-up" cosmetics.

For over 15 years, thousands of women have achieved this naturally youthful look with Endocreme... because Endocreme, with its exclusive hormone ingredient "Activol" actually regenerates ageing skin cells and tissue for most women... smooths out lines and wrinkles... firms up the skin ...makes it look more youthful. Isn't it worth finding out for yourself? A full month's supply only $3.50 plus tax.

Spotlight On Hollywood

By Erskine Johnson

HOLLYWOOD—(NEA) — Behind the Screen: This may be Hollywood's biggest year for super musicals, but Walter Pidgeon, who was a minor Mario Lanza on Broadway and in early Warner songies, won't be going, "Mi, mi, mi, mi."

"I haven't sung a note in 15 years," he shuddered on MGM's "Dream Wife" set. "I couldn't sing a note to save my life now. If Hollywood wants to empty theaters, I'm just the man to do it."

Pidge, as he's known on the Leo the Lion lot, has been at the studio since 1937 and will be hitting the screens soon in "Vickie," his eighth co-starring film with Greer Garson, "who's the daytime Mrs. Pidgeon. I'm the daytime Mr. Fogelson. Why, in Europe, a lot of people think Greer and I are married."

Retirement for the handsome star, who's a grandfather and whose age is somewhere near the 60 mark?

"I'm not ready to retire. Not until they don't want me. The minute you relax and settle down, waistline. You get soggy."

Jack Haley asked songwriter Buddy Bregman for a novelty song to warble on a Texas night club tour. "I'd like something sort of half-southern and half-Hollywood," said Jack.

So Bregman sat down and wrote: "Carry Me Back to My Old Virginia Mayo."

Friendly (?) Repartee

The film version of George Bernard Shaw's "Androcles and the Lion" reminds me of the time a new Shaw play was about to open in London and the caustic playwright sent a pair of tickets to Winston Churchill with a note:

"Enclosed are two tickets for the opening of my play. The other is for a friend—if you have one."

Churchill replied in a note to Shaw: "Sorry, but I can't make your opening night. My friend and I will see the play on the second night—if it hasn't closed."

"Hollywood's typed me as an icy blonde menace. I'm fed up with it. That's not me at all."

Gorgeous Marilyn Maxwell, getting wolf whistles at the San Diego premiere of Allied Artists' "Flat Top," explaining her reasons for rehearsing a night club song-and-dance act and why she recently fled from movietown for a comedy fling on the stage in "Remains to Be Seen" opposite Joel Marston.

"I wanted to see if I could do a stage show," she flashed it. "The results were even better than I expected. I proved I could be honest and sympathetic. It's comedy, singing and dancing for me from now on."

Change Of Pace

Ellena Verdugo's Spanish ancestry won her the role of the sexy native doll opposite George Sanders in "Moon and Sixpence" and then typed her in Hollywood as a south-of-the-border tamale.

She dreamed up a Mexican accent for the roles.

But now she's flipping out a Brooklyn accent as Millie in the TV version of radio's "Meet Millie" and remarks, "I've never been to Brooklyn but I've never been to Mexico, either."

Ellena's as awed as all movie queens who have switched to TV. She told me, "In two weeks I received more fan mail than I got in four years of working in Hollywood movies."

A movie queen who shall remain nameless likes to tell about a dream she had in which Tallulah Bankhead was bitten by a mad dog. A doctor was called but by the time he arrived he told Tallulah it was too late to save her life. He said she would die of rabies and suggested she draw up her will.

Tallulah immediately rushed to a desk and madly wrote and wrote and wrote. The puzzled doctor finally interrupted her with, "Really, I didn't know you had so much wealth to leave your friends and relatives."

"Oh, I don't have a thing," replied Tallulah. "I'm just making out a list of people I'm going to bite before I die."

The sensational Sans Souci Revue from Havana, Cuba, currently at the Flamingo Hotel in Las Vegas, hops to New York in December to collect a fortune in TV bookings . . . Barbara Stanwyck's name is being linked with 22-year-old Robert Wagner, the Fox dream boy, who's in the cast of her new flicker, "Nearer My God to Thee." Not true, says Barbara . . . Shelley Winters is giving her greatest performance these days as the time for the stork's arrival draws near. Such drama!

TOKYO—The Rockefeller Foundation has made a grant of $142,800 to Keio University, Tokyo, for the further development of the Japan Library School, established in 1951 by the university.

Inside Hollywood

By Jimmy Fidler

BY GEORGE SIDNEY
(Guest Columnist)

HOLLYWOOD, November 29 — Slightly more than two years ago, England's favorite sweetheart was a dark - haired young girl who, even though barely out of her teens, already was her country's No. 1 actress. It is understandable that there was considerable lamenting in Britain when she came to America, and that there was an equal amount of rejoicing in Hollywood. We here already were well aware of her talents and many motion picture makers had tried previously to lure her to these shores.

If I may wax poetic, however, it might be said Cinderella followed her Prince Charming to America. They were married and it now looks as though, in true story - book manner, they'll live happily ever after.

My own personal interest in Jean Simmons, our Cinderella, began while she and Stewart Granger, her Prince Charming, were on their honeymoon. It was then that they received and read the script of the motion picture, "Young Bess,' a historical romance of the spirited Princess who became England's powerful Queen Elizabeth. It has been my good fortune to direct this picture for MGM and Producer Sidney Franklin and to have the Grangers as well as Deborah Kerr and Charles Laughton as its stars.

We at the studio had sought our Young Bess for four years. Our search ended with Miss Simmons' arrival in the United States. I know that the two - year wait since then has seemed as unending to her, however, as it has to us. She, as did we, must have suffered many moments of doubt that the happy dream of her as Bess ever would become a reality.

She evidenced this the first day of our picture, when she stepped before the Technicolor camera for her initial scene. She couldn't restrain a smile that spread from ear to ear. Holding one arm up to her leading man, who happens to be Mr. Granger, she ordered, "Pinch me!" Being her husband, he could oblige, and he also could know that she just wanted reassurance that her dream had come true.

She further demonstrated how she felt about her new role when she told me that she rates it above her Ophelia in "Hamlet," a part for which Sir Laurence Olivier selected her when she was just 17. With her performance in that role, she won the highest film awards of four countries — Italy, Belgium, Switzerland and Eire.

"Ophelia is certainly the once-in-a-lifetime role for any actress," she said in an interesting comparison of the two roles. "But, Bess is the sort that seldom even presents itself once. Elizabeth, as a girl and a young lady, was gay, stubborn, tragic, tender in her first serious romance, and lived in turbulent times when her life even was in danger.

"She was sometimes the center of a spectacular court life, other times she was banished to a lonely existance and called illegitimate by her father, Henry VIII. Nobody knew what to expect of her or for her, from one moment to the next.

"Finding all that in one film role, well, what more could an actress want?"

From my own long research into the era of our story and the character of Bess, a research which Jean obviously has duplicated, I feel exactly the same way about the role. I also feel very grateful that Miss Simmons decided to come to America.

I am confident that her performance will be outstanding, because she long ago proved her ability to handle almost any role. We in America have seen only a handful of her 16 British - made films, but they have been sufficient. Her work in "Great Expectations," in "Black Narcissus" and "Trio" as well as "Hamlet" has been exceptional. She started acting at 14, which makes her now, at the ripe young age of 23, a veteran of nine years in pictures.

On the set in script discussions or at formal social functions away from the studio, she displays a poise that could come so early in life only with such a background. Yet, at times she appears more like an unsophisticated young schoolgirl — albeit an exceptionally beautiful one. This is true particularly when she is seen demonstrating one of the new tastes she has acquired since coming to our country, such as running around in blue jeans, munching a hot dog or rooting as vociferously as her husband at a baseball game.

It always is satisfying to work with a happy person, as well as a capable one. Jean is both. She seems as enthusiastic now about her career as she is about moving into her new "cream" home, a small, modern house on one of the highest peaks overlooking Hollywood.

It has been a long wait, for Jean and for the rest of us interested in "Young Bess." But, we don't regret it now.

You know what they say. "All good things. . . ."

TAKING REFRIGERATION STUDY

W. C. Lawler, 607 Stubbs Street, Monroe, is taking a five weeks course in commercial refrigeration service engineering at the York Institute of Refrigeration and Air - Conditioning. Lawler, who is scheduled to graduate Thursday, Dec. 18, is associated with Ballard's Inc., 612 Louisville, Monroe, distributor for York Corporation, which operates the school.

Canada now has diplomatic and consular services in 36 countries.

NEW LOCATIONS LISTED IN REPORT

No Producers Named In Latest Conservation Field Report

Only three new locations and three wells plugged and abandoned were listed in the latest weekly field report of oil and gas wells drilled and completed in the Monroe district for the week ending November 26. The report is issued by the local office of the department of conservation, minerals division.

The wells plugged and abandoned were:

Grant parish (wild cat field)—David K. Brooks et al-U. S. A. No. 1, plugged on November 20 in Section 4-7-1W.

Richland parish (wild cat field—Lion Oil Co.—Doty No. 1, plugged and abandoned on Nov. 26 in Sec. 14-18-7E.; (Big Creek field)—D. E. Vasser Drlg. Co.—Wilmer Thomas No. 1, plugged on November 20 in Sec. 15-16-7E.

New locations listed were:

LaSalle parish (Olla field)—C. M. Bagley Co.—Dixon S. Butler No. 1, at a point 660' south and 660' east from the NW corner, Sec. 13-9-2E.

Union parish (Monroe field)—La. Gas Prod. Co.-Cummings No. 1, 330' north-990' east of the SW corner, Sec. 30-20-3E.:La. Gas Prod. Co.—Cummings No. 2, 990' north—660' east of the SW corner, Sec. 30-20-3E.

CANADIAN BEEF BAN IS REMOVED

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Agriculture Department announced today that a ban on imports of Canadian cattle and other livestock products will be lifted March 1. It was imposed Feb. 26 because of an outbreak of foot-and-mouth disease.

The department said the lifting of the ban is contingent on no new outbreaks of the dread disease in the interim.

The announcement follows by nearly three months the lifting of a similar ban on Mexican livestock and livestock products because of a serious epidemic in that country.

The department credited strong measures adopted by Canadian officials last February after the outbreak in Saskatchewan with apparently eliminating the disease.

The present ban affects cattle, sheep, other domestic ruminants; swine, and fresh, chilled or frozen beef, veal, mutton, lamb and pork.

Lafayette Judgeship Is Still Up In Air

LAFAYETTE, La. (AP) — The judgeship election Dec. 16 in Lafayette was still a two-man race today, but a new candidate had qualified for the election and a proposed candidate had dropped out.

City Attorney Kaliste J. Saloom Jr., today announced his candidacy for the city judgeship and incumbent, Judge Allen J. Lacobie, said he would not run in the election.

The race is now between Saloom and Allen M. Babineaux, Lafayette attorney, appointed for the position by Gov. Robert F. Kennon to fill the unexpired term of A. Wilmot Dalfares, who was elected district judge in 1950.

Saloom and Babineaux were the only candidates up to noon today, according to L. A. Bourgeois, chairman of the Lafayette Parish Democratic Executive Committee. Prospective candidates have until 5 p. m. tomorrow to qualify.

Lacobie was appointed in 1950 by Gov. Earl Long, to fill Dalfares' unexpired term, but the appointment was never confirmed by the Senate. When Babineaux was appointed by Kennon the appointment was confirmed by the 1952 Legislature and Lacobie refused to yield the office to Babineaux.

FLOOD CONTROL LEADERS — A group of drainage and flood control leaders scan a map, retracing the route of an aerial inspection of the water control system of the fifth district. The air tour was made Friday in a U. S. Engineer amphibious plane. Left to right are E. T. Blankenship, special assistant to Gen. P. A. Feringa, who heads Corps of Engineers in charge of flood control construction work in seven Mississippi Valley states, Clayton James, Tensas Levee Board president, Congressman Otto E. Passman (seated), Cy Young, Monroe area engineer, A. T. Shields, president of the 5th La. Dist. Levee Board, and Col. George Dixon, of the Vicksburg Engineers. (Staff Photo by Clyde Blow)

Flood Control Leaders Make Aerial Inspection

Whether or not sprawling flood control and drainage projects now underway in the fifth congressional district are completed as planned will be in the hands of a Republican-ruled Congress, according to Congressman Otto E. Passman.

Passman, president of the Mississippi Valley Flood Control Association, said "We need approximately $75,000,000 more to carry out our program." He said a sizeable sum of that amount could be used to complete projects already started in his (the fifth) district.

The Congressman's remarks came after he completed an aerial survey of the projects in his district Friday. Brig. Gen. P. A. Feringa, who heads the U. S. Corps of Engineers in Vicksburg, joined Passman in the air tour.

The three-hour jaunt carried the inspection party over the Red River back water project, the Smithland cutoff, and the Morganza control structure, all in the southern portion of the district and up the mammoth Beouf River-Bayou Lafourche drainage canal from south of Columbia to the Arkansas line.

These projects except the cutoff are all under construction. Passman said their completion, as originally planned, would require additional appropriations.

The Red River back water levee system, which embraces 237,000 acres of Delta farm land, is 92 miles long. Forty-seven miles of the levee on the northwestern rim is completed to standard grade. From Bayou Cocodrie to Acme in the southwest is protected by an interim grade embankment. The other 20 miles of the project, on the northern rim of the ring, is classed "substandard and planned."

The Smithland cutoff on Black river drew special attention from Passman as the 10-passenger government plane circled overhead. He explained that the cutoff shortened the length of Black river by 15.7 miles. The cutoff is 12 miles south of Jonesville.

The Congressman pointed out that by eliminating the length of the river over 15 miles less levee embankment was required to protect the surrounding countryside. The levee generally runs parallel to and a short distance from the river.

Another unique installation of the flood control system is the Morganza control structure. Engineers refer to the Morganza control structure as the "faucet to the Morganza floodway," a by - pass of the Mississippi river.

Through the control structure, flood waters from the Mississippi river can be diverted to the Morganza floodway.

Of more interest to the northern section of the fifth district is the Beouf river - Bayou Lafourche canal which is the main drainage artery for the entire area. The canal funnels 75 per cent of the drainage southward, according to E. T. Blankenship, special assistant to Gen. Feringa. This is accomplished by numerous "feeder" canals that empty into the main channel.

The 467 - mile drainage system, protecting 634,000 acres, represents an investment of over $14,000,000.

However, the completion of the system will require the expenditure of additional money, Passman said.

The congressman made no prediction as to how high the next congress would place the importance of flood control and drainage in the Mississippi valley, but said "I hope they can understand that millions spent now on this work will pay billions in savings in the event the flood ravage hits."

Passman ridiculed frequent reference to flood control and drainage appropriations.

"The new congress may try to take a similar view of our work," Passman said, "but as long as I am in Congress and the flood threat remains in my district I shall be heard."

After the air inspection tour was completed Friday, Passman boarded a plane for Washington where he said he had "two important matters" of business. He said one was in connection with the reactivation of Selman Field and "my other mission I am not at liberty to reveal."

In addition to Passman and Gen. Feringa, Arnold T. Shields, president of the fifth Louisiana district levee board, and Col. George Dixon, of Tallulah, district engineer from Vicksburg, and E. T. Blankenship, made the aerial inspection. Bert Hatten, of the Monroe Morning World, accompanied the group.

Millions Created For Television Dealers

READING, Pa., Nov. 29 (AP) — Tens of millions of dollars of new business is due to be created for television dealers and service men as new stations go on the air across the nation in coming months.

Reading, due to get its first station in a couple of weeks and its second in a few months, typifies what is about to happen in scores of communities.

Humboldt J. Greig, president of WHUM-TV, first of Reading's two stations, estimates that 50,000 sets will be sold each month in the first quarter of 1953 in the area served by the station.

That would be equivalent to about $15 million a month in total retail business, with probably at least $1 million a month to service men for installation of sets.

On a nationwide basis, television manufacturers expect to turn out more than six million sets next year which, if all are sold would mean a retail business of better than a billion and a half dollars for dealers.

For service men alone, installation should run $100 to $125 millions. That's aside from the two to three service calls a year on the average, for those sets and the more than 19 million already in use.

An official of Sylvania Electric Products Inc., at a clinic for service men this week, said there are now above 83,000 radio-TV service men and repairmen, and the industry estimates at least 160,000 will be needed ultimately as TV spreads over the nation.

The situation here is typical in more ways than one of what will follow in many other communities as new stations open. The first station, WHUM-TV, and the one to follow, WEEU-TV, will be on channels in the ulta high frequencies, only recently opened to TV by the Federal Communications Commission.

Reading and surrounding communities already receive television from very high frequency stations in Philadelphia—50 miles away.

A large percentage of communities, including most that already have VHF stations, will have TV service on both VHF and UHF channels. Persons already owning sets will have to buy converters or have special tuning strips installed if they want to receive the new UHF stations. Those buying new sets will get models designed to receive on both VHF and UHF.

Al White of Sylvania's staff says the job of converting existing sets and installing new ones to receive on UHF will be a real problem for service men but should cause no particular concern to set owners.

The set owner, he says, should get as good a picture on UHF as on VHF, and will find his set as easy to maintain and as easy to tune.

He estimated that 75 per cent of existing set owners who come within range of a UHF station will find their present antenna adequate, leaving only the problem of having the set itself converted to receive the new channels.

Those buying new sets, he adds, should have no more problem than if they had bought a set for VHF only, except that if they live in the station's fringe area—where the signal is weak—they might need a special antenna for UHF.

WHUM-TV hopes to become the second UHF station to go on the air and the first with commercial equipment. But it will have hot competition for the humor, with several other UHF stations nearing completion.

WHUM-TV has a transmitter with 15-kilowatt power. The station has erected a 1,036 foot tower atop the 1,655 foot crest of Blue Mountain, 20 miles from Reading.

Winnie Now Includes Breeding Fish Among His Many Hobbies

LONDON (AP) — Winston Churchill, the well known amateur artist and bricklayer, has a new hobby-breeding tropical fish.

The word got out on the eve of his 78th birthday tomorrow.

Churchill has quite a collection of fish. He likes to sit and watch their antics for hours in his spare time.

But any younger Conservative eyeing his regular job as the Queen's first minister might as well relax.

There's been a rumor Churchill would step down after the coronation of Elizabeth II next June, but old cronies laughed:

"Churchill retire? Never."

They have it straight from the old warrior himself that he intends "to be at the country's service as long as the people want me."

Churchill takes his birthdays casually.

Still the impish parliamentarian when he wants to be or the square jawed bulldog if need be, he appears as vigorous as ever. A little deaf, he sometimes wears a hearing aid in House of Commons debates.

There are indications Churchill, who hopped 40,000 miles by sea and air to speed the Allied victory in World War II, is getting the travel urge again.

Fla. Police Recapture Prisoner For N. Orleans

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP)—Police had their prisoner for New Orleans authorities back in hand today.

Det. Lt. E. R. Jordan said Friday Herbert Smith, 28, wanted on four felony charges in the Louisiana city, escaped by feigning illness Thursday following his arrest earlier in the week.

Dets. T. S. Beaudrot and J. W. Greene with assists by Deputies George Walker and Roy Sands took Smith into custody again early today. He was found hiding in a house.

Jordan said New Orleans police want Smith on charges involving theft and possession of stolen property. His bond has been fixed at $10,000.

PERIOD OF GOOD FEELING SEEN

Eisenhower Entry Seems To Indicate Era Like Days Of Jas. Monroe

WASHINGTON, Nov. 29.—(Special)—An overenthusiastic minority here envisages another era of good feeling when the Eisenhower administration comes into power.

The last era so designated occurred more than 130 years ago under the administration of President James Monroe. Many of the voters who gave their ballots to General Eisenhower would like to see another such period, so the background is worth examining.

Since history has a way of repeating itself, a review of the Monroe administration and its implications for the oncoming change in party control is interesting. President James Monroe was confronted by problems which had some resemblance to those faced by President-Elect Dwight D. Eisenhower. A summerization of his administration shows that he came off very successfully in foreign affairs, but not so well in handling domestic difficulties.

Monroe is principally remembered for the Monroe doctrine, which defied foreign powers to encroach further on territory in the western hemisphere. That has been established for more than a century. But it is not so well remembered that Monroe was the first president to defy Russia, telling the Czarist government that the U. S. would oppose any Russian colony on this continent, after Russia had prohibited fishing on the northwest coasts of North America.

The fifth president of the United States also appointed a capable secretary of state, John Quincy Adams, who succeeded him as president. At the outset of this administration he made a journey through the northeastern states, which had not seen a president until then. He also appointed a very strong cabinet including, in addition to Adams, such men as John C. Calhoun of South Carolina as secetary of war, William H. Crawford of Georgia as secretary of the treasury and William Wirt of Virgania as attorney general. Those were the days when the South was really in the saddle.

A new era of good feeling could be desirable, especially in the foreign affairs field, bearing much historical resemblance to the Monroe era. However, obscured in the history of that period is the fact that when there was no effective party opposition to the then majority Democratic - Republican party, the domestic side of government developed the same bumbling tactics which have marked the later years of the New Deal-Fair Deal.

Historians are divided whether the famed "era of good feeling" was desirable or not. If it were to recur in the Eisenhower administration, the Democratic party unquestionably would be the loser, just as it was in the '20s, when the general opinion of the country was that there was little difference in the political concepts of the two parties. Obviously, the domestic issues of 1816-1824 can hardly be compared with those confronting the United States today.

The principal reason for recalling the previous era of good feeling and comparing it with the prospects for the Eisenhower administration is that President Monroe apparently was the first president who had an international viewpoint and was backed by a nation whose increasing strength permitted him to tell other nations off in their attempts to encroach upon the infant of the Western Hemisphere.

He is commemorated by having a growing and prosperous city in Louisiana named after him for his part in the Louisiana purchase Beyond doubt, he was one of our more able presidents.

Monroe's era of good feeling, despite the long gap of years, can be compared to the Eisenhower prospect, but it does not seem at the moment that it will work out that way. The principal ground for comparison seems to be that the administration of James Monroe was one of no turning back, in which the United States became a much bigger and more important nation without becoming engaged in a war (except that with the Seminole Indians, which eventually resulted in our acquisition of Florida.)

It might be that the history of the Monroe administration should be required reading for political leaders on both sides, entering upon the Eisenhower era.

MORE COTTON IS GINNED IN LA.

Washington, Nov. 29 (Special) cotton ginned in Louisiana prior to Nov. 1 totaled 674,300 bales, compared with 669,633 in the same period last year, the Bureau of Census reported.

Franklin Parish topped the list with 51,839 bales, 222 bales short of the 52,051 mark recorded in the same period last year.

Other leading parishes in 1952 ginning were St. Landry, with 49,381 bales compared with last year's figure of 59,932, tops in the state; Richland, 49,067 bales, compared with 42,337 in the same period last year; Rapides, 39,394, compared with 35,786 last year; Avoyelles 37,491, compared with 38,222 last year, and Caddo, with 37,413, compared with 37,765 last year.

Figures for cotton ginned in other parishes up to Nov. 1, 1952, compared with the same period in 1952, are:

Dorothy Dix

DEAR MISS DIX: Three months ago while I was visiting my sister-in-law, another guest took $10 from my purse. I asked her for it and was told she hadn't taken it. My sister-in-law also said she was sure the girl hadn't taken the money. I even looked in the girl's purse and saw my ten-dollar bill. The girl offered me two five's, still insisting that she hadn't taken my money, but I refused it, saying I wanted my own bill.

When I returned home I wrote to both the girl and my sister-in-law, and received no further satisfaction. Both insisted the girl was innocent.

For sixteen years, my sister-in-law and I have been good friends and this is the first rift between us. She hasn't written me since, and my husband, who naturally sides with me, says he will never go to see her again. How do you think we can settle this matter? MRS. B. L.

ANSWER: It doesn't always pay to be too much of a stickler for your "rights," and in this case I see you have set your husband against his sister, as well as estranging all the in-laws, by insisting so vehemently that you were right. The fact that you could provide no evidence to back your claim of theft, even though you are sure of it yourself, does nothing to strengthen your case.

FORGET IT

Ten dollars is a considerable sum to lose, but when compared to all the human relationships involved, wouldn't it have been better to cancel the monetary loss and forget about it? You created quite a to-do over the whole mess and accomplished nothing but antagonizing your in-laws. Perhaps the girl you accuse is a trouble-maker as you claim; in time she would get that idea across by herself. Now, she is elevated to the position of a wrongly accused innocent with an aura of martyrdom around her. That's a tough achievement for you to overcome.

Try to see your sister-in-law's position. It would be very embarrassing, to say the least, for her to accuse her own guest of being a thief. Any hostess would shy away from such a situation. It would have been much kinder of you to appreciate her position instead of taking matters into your own hands. Taking your hostess aside and telling her what had happened, instead of accusing the guest, would have been more diplomatic. If your sister-in-law refused to go further with the accusation, your best bet was to drop the case.

Now you are involved in a set of cross purposes, correspondence here and there and a few upset households—just because you wouldn't give up. You realize you are now the underdog, hence your appeal for help.

There is nothing you can do now about getting your money returned (if there ever was any way it could have been done), so let that matter finally drop; it's been pushed around long enough. Have your husband go visit his sister. After all, she is as convinced of her guest's innocence as you are of the girl's guilt. Since you seem to have a high regard for your sister-in-law, aside from this unpleasantness, try to resume a friendly relationship through your husband.

A fervid avowal to "stick up for your own rights" is basically a wonderful thing, but there are times when it is best to go a little easy with it. Giving way is often the better course.

DEAR MISS DIX: A good friend is going into service and I'd like to know if it would be proper for me to give him an identification bracelet. We haven't gone steady, but have had many dates and I like him very much. Should I consult his mother as to whether or not someone else has the same idea?

JEANIE

ANSWER: Perhaps you don't realize that identification bracelets are rather expensive for a high-school junior's budget.

Since you are sufficiently well acquainted with the boy's mother to consult her on the matter, do so and act on her advice. It is quite probable that she will want to give the bracelet to her son, in which case she will probably suggest something else for your gift.

DEAR MISS DIX: Do you think it would be proper for me to have a formal church wedding? The man I plan to marry has been married before and has two children. I have always dreamed of such a wedding and would like so much to have one.

T. T.

ANSWER: It is the marital status of the bride-to-be that dictates the formality of a wedding so, since this is your first trip to the altar, you are entitled to all the pomp and circumstance you crave. Good luck.

DOROTHY DIX discusses marital infidelity in leaflet D-9, "Philandering." To obtain a copy, send a 5-cent stamped, self-addressed envelope to Miss Dix, c/o this newspaper.

SEN. JENNER MAKES CHARGE

Says Agriculture Department Shielded Foreign Speculators

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Jenner (R-Ind.) accused the Agriculture Department today of shielding "international speculators who reaped millions of dollars of profits by forcing American oat prices down with imported Canadian oats."

In a letter to Secretary of Agriculture Brannan, the senator said he was certain action would be taken against such operations after Jan. 20, the date President-elect Eisenhower takes office, but he added:

"Before that date, however, additional millions of bushels of Canadian oats will move into our markets. In fairness to our farmers, Mr. Secretary, won't you do something about this now."

Jenner said an Oct. 15 report of the Commodity Exchange Authority (CEA) on an investigation of oats importations from Canada found that speculators have reaped millions of dollars in profits.

The report also showed "several apparent violations of CEA regulations," Jenner wrote, "but for some reason CEA officials forwarded their findings without recommendation to the solicitor of the Department of Agriculture."

Jenner said speculators apparently are satisfied that no action will be taken by the present administration and are continuing their operations.

Jenner's letter to Brannan directed the secretary's attention to what he called a resume of the CEA's findings in reference to Cargill, Incorporated of Minneapolis, and Cargill Grain Company Limited, a Canadian subsidiary of Cargill, Incorporated.

Jenner quoted the CEA as saying "The oats futures operations of Cargill, Inc., and Cargill, Limited, was such as to be favorably affected by any decline in prices on the United States futures markets or by any weakening of United States prices in relationship to canadian prices." He also said the combined operations of the two firms violated limits on speculative market transactions.

Joseph M. Mehl, chief of the Commodity Exchange Authority, said the report dealt exclusively with Cargill's operations. He said it confirmed large importations of Canadian oats at an apparent loss and reported that the combined total of the Cargill firms — if treated as one operation — exceeded limits.

Mehl told a reporter the report made no finding that the Cargill firms took this loss to manipulate the American market. He said results of the investigation were turned over to the Agriculture Department's solicitor for legal interpretation, as required, and "if the solicitor finds any law violations, we will certainly take action promptly."

HEALTHY BLOOM TO BUSINESS

NEW YORK, Nov. 29 (AP)—Good business, high production and still more optimistic forecasts gave this nation's economy a healthy bloom this week.

The Thanksgiving holiday cut into the week's output. But the daily rate of production remained at record or near-record levels.

Many plants closed through the week-end. Employers were a little reluctant to take this step but they said worker absenteeism is usually heavy after a Thursday holiday.

For instance, the auto industry was slowed down sharply by the holiday and many automobile factories closed through Friday and Saturday. Total assemblies in U. S. and Canadian plants dropped to 117,700 cars and trucks from 129,224 in the preceding week.

But all-in-all cars and trucks have been tumbling off the assembly lines at a terrific rate. Production losses from such things as holidays and model changes were expected.

As a matter of fact, industry circles in Detroit said unless more materials and manpower troubles intervene, this year's output appears certain to hit 4,350,000 units, the total allowed by the National Production Authority.

Good news was a pretty common commodity this week. There was a little disappointment over retail sales, which haven't quite measured up to expectations. For the week ended Wednesday total dollar volume was estimated unchanged to 4 per cent above a year ago.

Trade sources attributed some of the disappointment to unseasonable weather and some to an apparent belief that many consumers anticipate a little give in prices.

Most merchants, however, were reported still holding the belief that Christmas sales will establish record highs. Gains in personal income helped sustain their hopes.

Why Grow Old?

By Josephone Lowman

Have you ever noticed how you automatically straighten up when you stand in front of a mirror?

Mirror Magic Improves Posture; Take A Look

By Josephine Lowman

Have you ever noticed that when you stand in front of a mirror you automatically straighten up? You may have round shoulders, a protruding abdomen, a head which is pushed forward or a dowagers hump as you approach the mirror, but as soon as you see your reflection, you unconsciously correct these defects to as great a degree as possible.

This is certainly evidence that the way you carry yourself would seem much more important to you if you could see yourself constantly as others see you. We continue giving an unattractive impression to others because we do not examine ourselves often enough in a full length mirror. Believe me, this is a good but frightening tonic for what ails our figures and posture!

A full length mirror and a small, adequately lighted mirror are two of the greatest spurs to self-improvement. You should have one mirror which is well lighted by day-light for a helpful analysis of your complexion. Enlarged pores or light lines show up here as they never do in flattering artificial light. If you look at yourself honestly in one of these periodically it may be discouraging but it will allow you to discover and correct these defects when they first start.

A full length mirror also is helpful in improving your walk. If you will look away from it when you begin walking toward it so that you will walk naturally, and then glance into it quickly, you will learn a lot about how you move. Actually we take walking for granted when it is a highly complicated procedure.

Today babies and debutantes and models and all of the adult members of the feminine race who wish to become more charming, are learning to walk. How beautifully this skill is executed can make a great difference. The following exercise will give you the right idea. Stand with your back toward the wall. Your head, shoulders and hips, should touch the wall. Your heels are a little away from it. Bend your knees slightly, pull your abdomen in and tuck your hips under. Your chin should be parallel to the floor. Try to touch as much of your back to the wall as possible. Push away from the wall as you straighten your knees, but make every effort to keep the same posture.

Walking about with a book balanced on your head is an old but sound exercise for improving both posture and walking. Be certain that your abdomen is pulled in, your hips under and your chest lifted while you practice this.

Graceful and beautiful posture and walk give a fillip to a woman's appearance and are in themselves a splendid form of exercise.

If you would like to have my leaflet "Grace and Charm," send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 57. Address to Josephine Loman in care of The Monroe Morning World..

Three Murderers Are Given Pardons In Miss.

JACKSON, Miss. (AP)—Three convicted murderers, all serving life sentences, got full pardons today from Gov. Hugh White.

Earlier this week the Governor pardoned seven convicted murderers, making a total of 10 for the week.

The trio restored to citizenship today included Will Caffey, sentenced in Montgomery County in 1935; James Berryman, DeSoto County, 1936; and Toy Tyler, Calhoun County, 1936.

All ten of the convicts receiving pardons have been out of the Penitentiary on paroles for some time and had been recommended for pardon by county officials and the Parole Board.

Rev. Bradshaw Urges Public To Meetings

Rev. Hugh E. Bradshaw, pastor of Memorial Presbyterian Church, West Monroe, stated Saturday:

"We are happy to have Rev. A. F. Fogartie, D. D. of the First Presbyterian Church in Jonesboro, Ark., as our evangelist during this week. We would like to urge our members to bring their neighbors and friends to our services each day. At certain times in the week we will pay special tribute to various groups.

Monday night is church officer's night; Tuesday, young adult night; Wednesday family night; Thursday Woman's night; Friday Scout night; and Saturday youth night.

1953 LINCOLN TAKES HONORS

Wins First Four Places In Stock Car Division Road Race

In winning the first four places in the stock car division of the third annual Mexican Pan-American road race, November 19-23, the 1953 Lincoln not only established new world speed records for this type competition but also proved its durability and stamina under some of the worst road conditions in the world.

Roaring across the finish line at Juarez, Mexico, to complete five days of speed driving over a 1,938-mile course, Chuck Stevenson of Lynwood, California, racked up a new record of 90.93 miles per hour. His elapsed time was 21.15.38. During the final day's run of 231 miles from Chihuahua to Juarez, Stevenson averaged 115.40 mph, another new record.

Second place winner was Johnny Mantez, also driving a 1953 Lincoln. Mantez finished just 31 seconds behind Stevensin in 21.16.09. His average time was 90.89 miles per hour.

Walt Faulkner and Capt. Bob Korf, also driving 1953 Lincolns, finished in third and fourth positions. Falukner's time was 21.20.27, and Korf's was 21.25.09.

All four drivers had held the top positions from the second day on, the only change being between Stevenson and Mantez, the latter holding first place on Friday.

Behind the four Lincolns were C. D. Evans in a 1951 Chrysler, Marshall Teague in a 1953 Hudson, Allen Heath in a 1953 Chrysler, M. D. Kirby driving a 1952 Cadillac, and Jean Trevoux in a 1952 Packard.

Stevenson finished 27½ minutes ahead of the fifth-place Evans, who trailed fourth-place Korf by 17½ minutes.

Seven Lincolns were entered in the race. Duane Carter came from 14th position to fifth on the next-to-last leg, but was forced out when his Lincoln struck a boulder and left the road. Two other Lincolns had been forced out earlier due to accidents.

The winning Lincolns were stock cars, and were amoung the first of the 1953 models to be produced. They were equipped with a new 205 HP overhead valve V-8 engine which is being introduced for 1953. All had automatic transmissions.

The magnificent new 1953 model Lincoln can be seen December 2nd at Jackson Motors, your Lincoln-Mercury Dealer in Monroe.

PRICE CLINICS TO BE ON WANE

While survey activities by representatives of the New Orleans district office of price stablization will continue in full swing until mid-December, only one more price clinic will be held in each of the six major communities of the state in which the sessions have been held for the last several months on a bi-weekly basis, A. F. Roempke, price executive, said yesterday.

The surveys carried on by representatives of the agency's price branch are concerned with compliance with posting requirements in businesses affected by the service trades regulation, a checkup which Mr. Roempke said he believed would be completed by December 15. This survey followed immediately upon one dealing with similar requirements for the posting of about 400 food prices in connection with the community food pricing program.

Three of the clinics will be held next Wednesday from 9 to 11 a.m. at Baton Rouge, Lafayette and Monroe. Three more will be held the following week at Lake Charles, New Iberia and Alexandria, to bring activities of this type by the agency to a close for 1952.

Mr. Roempke reported increasing compliance percentages on the posting of service prices, required of such establishments as laundries, many types of repair shops, parking lots, and numerous other businesses in this field. However, he said, many smaller operators have still failed to complete and display the posters furnished to them by OPS on which they are supposed to provide this information for retail-buyer use. Where compliance is not forthcoming on a recheck, names of the offenders will be turned over to the agency's enforcement branch for action, he indicated.

HUGE MICROFILM JOB PLANNED

DURHAM, N. C., Nov. 29 — Duke Hospital will begin to microfilm 15,000,000 pages of medical case histories next week, J. Minetree Pyne, acting co-superintendent, announced here today.

The $100,000-plus project is expected to be the largest of its kind ever undertaken by a Southern hospital, Pyne said.

With records for the more than 450,00 patients who have entered Duke since the hospital opened in 1930, the project will take at least two years to catch up with current records. Duke Medical Record Library has been overflowing for about four years, Pyne said, with records stacked to the ceiling.

By the time the first phase of the project has been completed, almost half a million case histories of patients from all 48 states and 40 foreign countries will be housed in 40 nine-inch steel filing cabinets, which will take up a comparatively small section of the present library, Pyne said.

Medical records should never be destroyed, Pyne declared, because of their value in the advancement of medical research, as well as for patients' future reference and further treatment.

Case histories average approximately 40 pages and will cost the hospital about 30 cents each to microfilm and file.

The project will be started with one microfilm camera, but Pyne said he expected to have additional cameras in operation in the near future.

Duke Medical Record librarians prepared the first 70,000 case histories for the project during the past six months and should be able to stay ahead of the microfilming process, Mrs. Je Harned Bufkin, director of the Medical Record Library, said.

In addition to the cameras, Pyne said, the project will require new filing cabinets for the library and about 50 viewers for Duke doctors in the clinics, wards and offices.

Film records will be kept in slotted, non-inflamable filing cards, each of which can easily hold an average case history. Cards also will be arranged in a special color system so that it will be practically impossible to misfile a record, Mrs. Bufkin said.

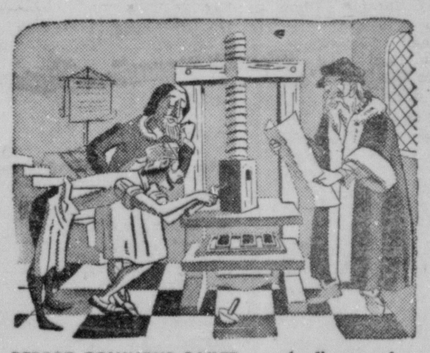

"Although there are some arguments for building an addition to the library to store records," Pyne explained, "we feel that microfilming will be cheaper and more efficient in the long run."

Silver and gold evening bags and shoes should be stored in treated, tarnish-proof paper.

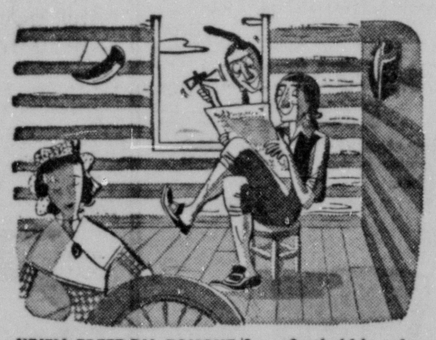

People are reading more newspapers than ever before in history

3,000 YEARS AGO the front-page news was heavy, mainly because the tablets were of stone.

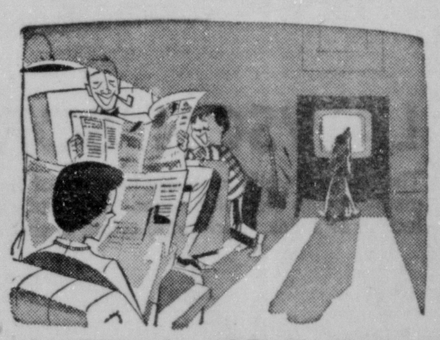

BEFORE COLUMBUS SAILED, people discovered a new world when Gutenberg invented printing.

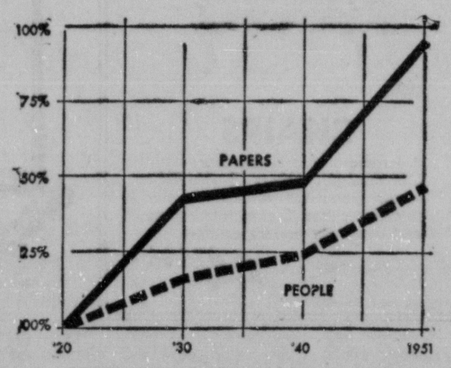

WHEN FREEDOM FOUGHT for a foothold in colonial days, one of its weapons was the newspaper.

GENTLEMEN PREFERRED NEWSPAPERS in the Jazz Age. Even though infant radio squalled so lustily.

NEWEST THING on the scene is TV, which means even more for people to read about—in newspapers.

CIRCULATION OF NEWSPAPERS in the U. S. has grown twice as fast as population. In 1920 the population was 106 million; today it's 155 million—up 47%. In 1920 weekday newspaper circulation was 28 million; today it's 54 million—up 94%!

Today people are reading more newspapers than ever before.

A survey of TV's effect on family life, called "Videotown 1952", conducted by Cunningham & Walsh, Inc., the well-known advertising agency, says:

"Newspaper reading is just about the only regular activity which showed no change after the advent of TV."

This survey shows that among families with TV, just as many people read newspapers today as in the days before TV.

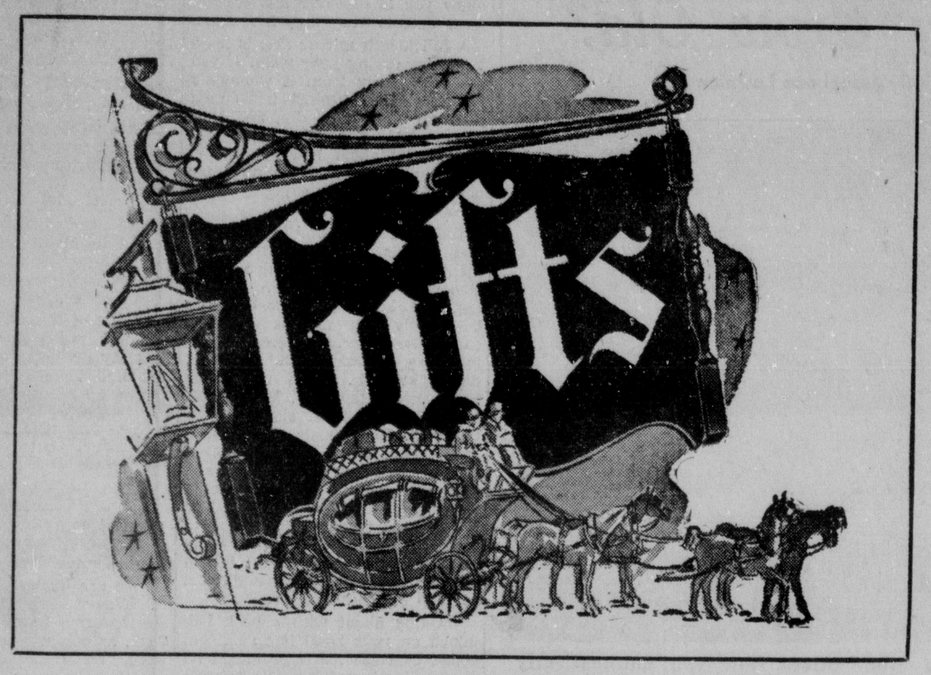

And that's not all: It shows that they spend just as much time with the newspaper as in the days before TV!

The newspaper is a medium that grows stronger and stronger as people gain more and more interests in the world around them.

And ads in newspapers are more and more effective. Because they reach more people than any other medium. Because newspaper advertising has an urgency — a brass-tacks . . . local . . . down-to-earth quality that no other medium can match.
